WHEREAS, the said Mayor and Town Council is authorized under the provisions of Section 10 through 37 of Article 66B of the Annotated Code of Maryland (1957 Ed., 1968 Replacement Volume) to establish a Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission; and

WHEREAS, at the regular meeting of the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland, Maryland, held on July 6, 1970, at Oakland, Maryland, there being present and voting the said Mayor and six members of the said Town Council, the following determination was made by unanimous vote.

THAT in order to defray a portion of the cost of public facilities by grants-in-aid and other forms of Federal and State Financial assistance, such steps be taken by the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland, Maryland, as may be required in order for the Town of Oakland to qualify for such financial assistance.

THEREFORE be it resolved by the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland, Maryland, at the regular meeting on July 6, 1970, in Oakland, Maryland, by unanimous vote of the said Mayor and six members of the said Town Council, as follows:

Section 1. Authority and Membership: That under and by virtue of the authority contained in Sections 10 to 37 inclusive of Article 66B (1968 Replacement Volume), there is hereby created, in the Town of Oakland, a Municipal Zoning and Planning Commission, the members of which shall be appointed by the Mayor and confirmed by the Town Council, and shall consist of a member of the Town Council and four members who are residents of the Town, or vicinity.

Section 2. Term of Office: The initial members of the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission shall be appointed, respectively, for terms of 1, 2, 3, and 4 years. Thereafter, all such appointments, except to fill vacancies, shall be for a term of five years or until a successor is appointed and qualified. The term of the ex officio member shall correspond to his official tenure. Members may, after public hearing, be removed by the Town Council for inefficiency, neglect of duty or malfeasance in office. Vacancies occurring otherwise than through the expiration of term shall be filled for the unexpired term by the Mayor and confirmed by the Town Council. Members of the said Commission shall serve without pay.

Section 3: Organization and Rules: The Commission shall elect its chairman from amongst the appointed members and create and fill such other of its offices as it may determine. The term of chairman shall be one year, with eligibility for reelection. The Commission shall hold at least one regular meeting each month. It shall adopt rules for transaction of business and shall keep a record of its resolutions, transactions, findings, and determinations, which record shall be a public record.

Section 4: Meetings: The Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission shall designate the time and place of its regular meetings. Three members shall constitute a quorum.

Section 5: Staff and Finances: The Commission may appoint such employees as it may deem necessary for its work. The Commission may also contract with town planners, engineers, architects, and other consultants for such services as it may require. The expenditures of the Commission, exclusive of gifts, shall be within the amounts appropriated for the purpose by council, which shall provide the funds, equipment, and accommodations necessary for the Commission's work.

Section 6: General Powers and Duties: It shall be the function and duty of the Commission to make and adopt a master plan for the physical development of the Town of Oakland, including any areas outside of its boundaries which, in the Commission's judgment, bear relation to the planning of such Town of Oakland. Such plan, with the accompanying maps, plats, charts, and descriptive matter shall show the Commission's recommendations for the development of said territory, including, among other things, the general location, character, and extent of streets, viaducts, subways, bridges, waterways, waterfronts, boulevards, parkways, playgrounds, squares, public buildings, parks, aviation fields, and other public ways, grounds and open spaces, the general location and extent of public utilities and terminals, whether publicly or privately owned or operated, for water, light, sanitation, transportation, communication, power, and other purposes, also the removal, relocation, widening, narrowing, vacating, abandonment, change of use or extension of any of the foregoing ways, grounds, open spaces, buildings, property, utilities, or terminals; as well as a zoning plan for the control of the height, area, bulk, location, and use of buildings and premises. As the work of making the whole master plan progresses, the Commission may from time to time adopt and publish a part or parts thereof, any such part to cover one or more major sections or divisions of the Town of Oakland or one or more of the aforesaid or other functional matters to be included in the plan. The Commission may from time to time amend, extend, or add to the plan.

Section 7: Purposes in View: In the prepartion of such plan the Commission shall make careful and comprehensive surveys and studies of present conditions and future growth of the Town of Oakland and with due regard to its relation to neighboring territory. The plan shall be made with the general purpose of guiding and accomplishing a coordinated, adjusted, and harmonious development of the Town of Oakland and its environs which will, in accordance with present and future needs, best promote health, safety, morals, order, convenience, prosperity, and general welfare, as well as efficiency and economy in the process of development; including, among other things, adequate provisions for traffic, the promotion of safety from fire and other dangers, adequate provisions for light and air, the promotion of the healthful and convenient distribution of population, the promotion of good civic design, and arrangement, wise and efficient expenditure of public funds, and the adequate provisions of public utilities and other public requirements.

Section 8: Procedure for Adoption of Master Plan: The Commission may adopt the plan as a whole by a single resolution or may by successive resolutions adopt successive parts of the plan, said parts corresponding with major geographical sections or divisions of the Town of Oakland or with functional subdivisions of the subject matter of the plan, and may adopt any amendment or extension thereof or addition thereto. Before the adoption of the plan or any such part, amendment, extension, or addition the Commission shall hold at least one public hearing thereon, notice of the time and place of which shall be given by one publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the Town of Oakland. The adoption of the plan or any such part or amendment or extension or addition shall be by resolution of the Commission carried by the affirmative votes of not less than three members of the Commission. The resolution shall refer expressly to the maps and descriptive and other matter intended by the Commission to form the whole or part of the plan, and the action taken shall be recorded on the map and plan and descriptive matter by the identifying signature of the chairman and/or secretary of the Commission. An attested copy of the plan or part thereof shall be certified to the Town Council and to the Clerk of the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

Section 9: Legal Status of Official Plan: Whenever the Commission shall have adopted the master plan of the Town of Oakland or of one or more major sections or districts thereof no street, square, park or other public way, ground, or open space, or public building or structure, or public utility, whether publicly or privately owned, shall be constructed or authorized in the Town of Oakland, or in such planned section and district until the location, character, and extent thereof shall have been submitted to and approved by the Commission; provided, that in case of disapproval the Commission shall communicate its reason to the Town Council, which shall have the power to overrule such disapproval by a recorded vote of not less than two thirds of its entire membership; provided, however, that if the public way, ground, space, building, structure or utility be one the authorization of financing of which does not, under the law or charter provisions governing same, fall within the jurisdiction of the Town Council, then the submission to the Commission shall be by the board, commission or body having such jurisdiction, and the Commission's disapproval may be overruled by said board, commission or body by a vote of not less than two thirds of its membership. The failure of the Commission to act within sixty days from and after the date of official submission to the Commission shall be deemed approval.

Section 10: Miscellaneous Powers and Duties of Commission: The Commission shall have power to promote public interest in and understanding of the plan. The Commission shall, from time to time, recommend to the appropriate public officials programs for public structures and improvements and for the financing thereof. It shall be part of its duties to consult and advise with public officials and agencies, public utility companies, civic, educational, professional and other organizations, and with citizens with relation to the protecting or carrying out of the plan. The Commission shall have the right to accept and use gifts for the exercise of its functions. All public officials shall, upon request, furnish to the Commission within a reasonable time such available information as it may require for its work. The Commission, its members, officers and employees, in the performance of their functions, may enter upon any land and make examinations and surveys and place and maintain necessary monuments and marks thereon. In general, the Commission, shall have such powers as may be necessary to enable it to fulfill its functions, promote municipal planning, and perform such other duties as authorized by law.

Section 11: Budget: The Commission shall annually, on or before the last day of April, submit to the Mayor an estimate of anticipated revenues and expenditures for the ensuing fiscal year, to be approved in whole or in part by the Town Council, and included in the budget. IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR GARRETT COUNTY, MARYLAND

The Travelers Insurance Company, Complainant
vs.
Fred T. Hamm, Administrator, Estate of Charles W. Hamm
and
Respondents
: : : :
No. 5884 Equity
Filed: July 16, 1970

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to determine the proper person or persons entitled to payment of life insurance proceeds under certain group insurance coverage upon the life of Charles W. Hamm, late of Garrett County, Maryland, deceased. The Bill of Interpleader filed in these proceedings shows that the said Charles W. Hamm, deceased, died as a result of an automobile accident near Pruntytown, West Virginia, on August 20, 1966; that he was at that time employed by Buffalo Coal Company and had certain coverage under Group Policy No. G-690-016 with The Travelers Insurance Company, being employed at Buffalo Deep Mine No. 1 in Garrett County, Maryland, and maintained his residence at Mountain Lake Park, Garrett County, Maryland; that the person designated as beneficiary under said policy was Betty L. Hamm, listed as his wife, with whom he resided at Mountain Lake Park, Maryland, also fatally injured in the aforesaid automobile accident on August 20, 1966; that the said Betty L. Hamm was survived by a minor daughter, Sue Ann Keener, an Infant, now residing near Winchester, Virginia, with her father, Franklin D. Keener, who may also have an interest either individually or as guardian of his said daughter in the proceeds of said insurance coverage; that the said Insurer has also received a claim to the proceeds of said insurance from Fred T. Hamm, father of the aforesaid decedent, reported to have been appointed as Administrator of the Estate of the said Charles W. Hamm, deceased, in the Court of Common Pleas of Allegheny County, Pennsylvania, said claims being based on the assertion that both Charles W. Hamm and the said designated beneficiary, Betty L. Hamm, died at the same time and that under the simultaneous Death Act of the State of West Virginia, the man would be presumed to have survived, and on the further allegation that said Charles L. Hamm was not, in fact, married to Betty L. Hamm, designated at his wife and beneficiary; and that The Travelers Insurance Company is entitled to a Judicial determination of the person or persons entitled to payment of the aforesaid insurance proceeds.

It is, therefore, this 16th day of July, 1970, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, ORDERED that the Complainant in the aforesaid Bill of Interpleader shall cause a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once in each of four successive weeks before the 14th day of August, 1970, giving notice to the no-resident Respondents of the object and substance of the Bill of Interpleader filed herein and warning them to be and appear before this Court, in person or by solicitor, on or before the 16th day of September, 1970, to show cause, if any they have, why interpleader should not be allowed in the aforegoing clause, and requiring them to interplead herein with respect to their several claims or interests in the proceeds of the aforesaid group life insurance policy.

More Bears Seen Within County

More bears have been sighted in different areas recently.

A large black bear and cub were sighted on the farm of Charles Moreland on Oak Grove Rd. near the Gorman Rd. last Friday. Mrs. Moreland first thought it was their large black dog but on a second look she realized it was too large and recognized the bear and cub.

Another black bear was seen by Harland Bowser while sitting on the porch of his home west of Crellin last week. The bear crossed the road, came in his yard, sat down, then walked away and crawled under a barbed wire fence, leaving tufts of black fur on the barbs, and disappeared. There have been other reports of a black bear being seen in the Crellin area.

Also, it has been reported that a bear has been seen roaming the abandoned strip mines below Eagle Rock.

Reports of seeing bear are becoming quite common.

"Love In E-Flat" Is Next Offering For Playhouse

Next week the Garrett County Playhouse serves up a light confection of boy-gets-girl when they stage Norman Krasna's comedy "Love in E-Flat," opening August 11 at the Blue Barn.

By the same playwright as last season's "Sunday in New York," the two act love fable is also set in New York, in matching his-and-hers apartments. The principals are a marriage shy intern and the girl next door.

Krasna gives the old theme of young love a new electronic age twist. The intern is bugging his girl, literally. He's planted a receiver set in her house plants to gauge his competition.

But Amy is determined that a good woman's love will triumph over any electronic device thought of by mere man. The dialogue sparkles when Amy turns the tables and starts bugging Dr. Howard back. They cross a few wires before proving that E flat is the sweetest key for love, even over a transmitter set.

The Garrett County Playhouse production features Susan L. Stoner and Milburn Mehlhop as the wire-crossed lovers. Also in

Road Strike Situation Here Still Uncertain

Union Men Take Charge Of Bus, Prevent New Men From Working

Striking county road workers and a number of additional union sympathizers from other parts of the state prevented a bus from taking new employes to replace them on the job on Tuesday morning, but the situation remained uncertain whether or not another attempt will be made.

A special meeting of the Commissioners was called for this morning at 9:30 by Hubert A. Friend, president. The agenda for the meeting was not disclosed.

Tuesday's confrontation took place on the Oakland parking lot as a bus arrived to pick up the new workers to take them to the county garage on U. S. 219, north of town. Strikers and a large number of union members who came from other parts of the state to demonstrate their support stood at one end of the parking lot and the new workers and a number of farmers and other sympathizers who came out to demonstrate support of them, stood at the other. There were some 200 persons milling around.

When the bus arrived union backers surrounded it, ordered the driver Fred VanSickle off the bus and flattened its tires. A county official said the ignition wiring also was pulled loose and a couple of windows were broken.

The crowd dispersed after Miller Bowen, acting attorney for the Commissioners, announced after a lengthy conference between police and county officials that there would be no work on the roads that day.

The 59 new employes and their sympathizers then filed into the McLaughlin building for a meeting with Commissioners John Ross Sines and Hubert A. Friend, Mr. Bowen and Fred A. Thayer, state's attorney.

Commissioner Sines would not divulge additional plans but there was hope by the two commissioners that there would be a great swelling of those sympathizing with the new workers who would far outnumber the union sympathizers.

There were reports, not confirmed, that the board would go into the Circuit Court to charge the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes with violating an injunction which prohibited them from interfering with county equipment and restricted the number of pickets to 20.

Two Men Arrested

Two men were arrested Tuesday morning but released later from the county jail. Harry Faucett, Friendsville, was charged with assault on a union photographer. He posted $53.75 bond. No charge was filed against the other individual, Tom Skipper, who was exhibiting a revolver. Skipper said later he

"WHY DON'T YOU GO HOME?"—So hollered Thomas Rapanoti, Baltimore business representative for Council 67 of the AFSCME on his bull horn as he endeavored to tell the newly hired road workers what to do. He was silenced in a moment by Lt. Sam Conrad, head of the LaVale barracks substation for the state police.

A group of people who sympathized with the ones who wanted to go to work, are shown here with the workers, endeavoring to give them encouragement in their desires. This was at the city parking lot in Oakland.

Federal Taxes
Let's talk about Federal taxes. Do you know that 40 to 60 percent of Federal taxes, which is taken from your salary, is used to perpetuate administrative services within the bureaucratic system?
Do you also know that President Nixon has a twofold tax plan which will change that intolerable drain of your tax dollars?
The President has such a plan. He wants a greater proportion of Federal tax dollars returned to local governments. He also wants a reduction in Federal Taxes.
Now, let us look at what the President's plan means. If, for instance, a town or city in the 6th District desired to improve or increase some service, it could do so without increasing local taxes. For more Federal tax money would be available. In other words we could have improved or additional services without additional local taxes.
Or, on the other hand, if Federal Taxes were reduced, local people could, if they so desired, meet any plans for additional services by increasing their local taxes.
Either way, you have less taxes and more say in how your tax dollars are going to be used.
That's the meaning behind President Nixon's tax plan. It makes sense. That's why I buy it.
—Authority of Richard U. Comstock, Treasurer, Woodsboro, Md.

Road Strike

had been threatened with bodily harm the night before should he try to go to work on Tuesday. The revolver was not loaded.

A number of the union sympathizers were seen carrying clubs and sticks at the parking lot.

Mr. Sines said that some 75 persons showed up in support of the new road workers and that a number of them had signed a petition supporting the attempt to work. Fifty-nine reported willing to work.

In summing up the activity Mr Sines told this newspaper that "upon many occasions the board of commissioners has met with the former road workers and union officials trying to resolve the differences that exist. The union has consistently said it would settle for nothing less than union recognition and union dues checkoff."

Nearly 150 county road workers went on strike April 7 over their desire to be represented by the AFSCME. April 13 the commissioners requested them to return to work and when they refused they were dismissed. The Union then took the matter to court and the court ruled in favor of the Commissioners. Late in June the board advertised for applicants from former road workers and others, but only one application was received from former road workers. One hundred or more were received after that date.

Mr. Sines said that threats had been made. He said four attempts to call the governor were unsuccessful. He appeared bitter over the fact that the third commissioner Allen S. Paugh, had opposed putting the men to work and he pointed out the relationship of Paugh with Jack Sowers who is head of the striking road workers.

Sines and those who wanted to go to work criticized the state police for their lack of protection. Sines said the police watched union men take over the bus, remove the wiring and flatten the tires but made no charges against any individual.

He intimated there was a lot of politics involved and that candidates had made promises to former road workers that kept things stirred up. He invited citizens of the county to back the new men who were ready and willing to work.

At present there is an uneasy truce in the hassle. There was no indication from either Sines or Friend that they had abandoned the position each had taken on refusing to recognize the workers' new union.

The trouble with Mr. Faucett began when Jack Eisenburg, a free-lance photographer working for the union, exchanged words with one of the farmers. Faucett was charged with assault in a warrant sworn out by Mr. Eisenburg. Tom Skipper, arrested for carrying the pistol, was not charged and released later that day from the county jail.

Capt. William E. O'Hara, commander of state police operations in Western Maryland, headed a detail of some forty state police. Lieut. Sam Conrad from LaVale barracks, also was on hand.

Ernest B. Crofoot, a national vice president of the public employees' union, was convinced that the confrontation had only been postponed, and promised to return whenever the new workers make the attempt to go to work.

It was understood that the new roads workers would report each day to tell the department they were available for work. The two commissioners offered the hope that support of citizens eventually would enable the workers to get to work.

A mediator of the U. S. Mediation and Conciliation Service who participated in a meeting this week, said his services had been offered to both parties if requested.

Joseph Biondo, the mediator said his services would be available if the groups wished to meet again.

U.S. Senator

Farm Subsidy Program Must be Controlled

For many Marylanders it is county fair time. It's the time when we all enjoy taking our children out to the fairs that are being held from the mountains of Western Maryland to the beaches of the Eastern Shore. One of the interesting exhibits at most fairs is the livestock show where prize cattle, sheep and hogs are on exhibit, many of them brought there by 4-H boys and girls as a part of their annual farm project.

To urban America these farm fairs have a particular appeal, a nostalgic drawing power which takes us back to the earlier days of the Republic. One of the things that hasn't changed in the almost 200 years of our history is the fact that we still depend upon our farm population and upon farm production for the basic human need, food. The way we have produced food in the last 200 years has changed radically. At one time, we were largely an agricultural country where most of the people earned their living as farmers. Today, however, the farm population is only a very small fraction of our total population, although farm production has grown and continues to grow astronomically. Farms have, to some extent, become a major national problem. During the 1930's when farms were producing beyond the national appetite to consume, the nation responded with a series of farm subsidy and production central programs that are perhaps recalled most graphically by the controversy over the slaughter of surplus hogs. The philosophy of government participation in the agricultural industry has not changed very much in the last 40 years, but what began as a fairly modest farm subsidy program has now become one of the monsters in our national budget. Farm subsidies have risen from about $600 million allocated in 1960 to over $4 billion proposed in the current Federal budget.

We must find a way to curb the growth of farm subsidies. We have the problem of rising food costs, many of them created by the increasing cost of handling food between the farm and the market. But in addition to this rising cost of food which the housewife must pay when she goes to market every week, we have the increasing tax burden which every citizen must pay to support the farm subsidy program. So the price of food is not just what you pay when you take it off the market shelf. It is that plus your share of the taxes which go to support the program. As we go to the county fairs, I hope we keep in mind the great job that American farmers have done and are doing in providing all Americans with the best-set tables and the best diets in the world. However, I think we also have to find ways to help the American farmer to be relieved of these programs which are tending to overcontrol agriculture, to burden the American taxpayer and which have not, in 40 years, solved the basic problem of the American farmer.

Sixteen Are Killed On State Highways

Sixteen persons were killed on Maryland highways last week according to the survey published by the State Police. Nine of those killed were drivers, five were passengers, and two were pedestrians. Alcohol was a contributing factor in three of the deaths, speed in seven, and "driver error" in twelve.

"One of the principal causes of highway accidents is following too closely," noted Lt. Col. W. H. Conroy, Deputy Superintendent of the State Police. "It is each driver's responsibility to see that he is driving far enough behind the car ahead so that a safe stop can be made in an emergency.

"Tailgating is a hazardous practice on any road; obviously it is even more dangerous on a high speed road."

What Teenagers Want

Wonder what young people want most from their parents these days? You are not alone. Recently a regional PTA asked the teachers in several Junior High and Senior High schools to request their pupils to write unsigned papers on the subject: "What are the things you wish your parents would do or not do?"

No guidelines were issued. No other questions were asked. The idea was to draw answers "straight off the top of the heads" of the young students. Some of the replies may come as a surprise. A count showed that the wishes expressed most often were:

Be stricter.

Be more dedicated to church work and go to church as a family.

Be fun loving.

Treat my friends like they were welcome.

Try to understand me and my friends.

Don't treat me like a child but depend on me more.

Tell me right from wrong, but don't be too harsh about it.

Not fuss at me before other people.

Not curse, not drink, not smoke.

Answer simple questions without giving a lecture.

Ask my opinion instead of demanding.

Be trustworthy.

Sometimes it takes me a long time to explain why I did something and I'm convicted before the trial begins.

I would like my parents to be more thoughtful of one another. Love one another. Love me.

We are not told where the survey was held. But it is interesting, and significant, that the students should express the wish that parents "be stricter." This would appear to indicate that the so-called "permissive society" of the adult world is not entirely to the liking of young people. The replies show that these youths felt a need for more discipline, along with understanding—and a healthy measure of self-discipline on the part of the parents, too.—U. S. Press Association, Inc.

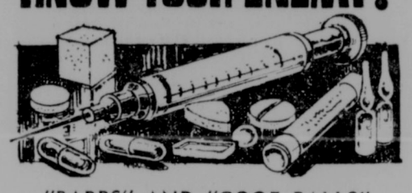
KNOW YOUR ENEMY!



"BARBS" AND "GOOF BALLS"
THEY "PUT YOU DOWN"

The first Barbiturate was introduced in 1903. It was not until 1940 that their addiction qualities became a cause for concern. The dosage of Barbiturates must be controlled by a physician to benefit.

They are prescribed for high blood pressure, epilepsy, insomnia, mental illness and to relax patients.

Serious problems occur when they are illegally obtained. Without physician supervision, larger dosage causes confusion, slurred speech and staggering. The ability to think, to concentrate and to work is lessened. Users can become irritable, angry and fighting mad. Overdoses can cause death.

The next of these Public Service Messages will discuss the Hallucinogenic Drugs that credulous users believe can improve their personality.

Flexibility Scout Goal In Planning

Program flexibility for Boy Scout troops in this area is the new planning goal announced by Miles Thompson, council commissioner of Potomac Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Sixteen possible program features are offered with scout leaders encouraged to add to the list. Suggested are emergency skills, citizenship, scout show, conservation, camporee, aquatic skills, summer camp, field sports, nature, home repairs, vocational tours, winter camp, troop money earning, arts and crafts, and safety.

The Deep Creek District is planning scoutmaster training sessions starting September 14, district scouter meetings monthly, and district camporees in October and April, in addition to boy scout week activities in February.

Couple Wed

The wedding of Glenn Eugene Harvey to Sandra Lee Lennox was performed at Saint Susanna Roman Catholic church in Penn Hills, Pa., on Friday, July 31.

A reception followed at the Penn Hills Firemen's hall number 7.

Glenn Eugene is the son of Mrs. Delores Harvey Hertzog former resident. Attending from this area were Mrs. Anna Harvey, Earl Harvey, Raymond Klotz, Mrs. Hamill Glotfelty and children, all of whom returned to the county on Saturday.

Wildwater Canoe Slalom Scheduled

Another weekend of wildwater racing is scheduled for the Savage River in this county on September 5 and 6. Over 150 entries from the Eastern United States are expected to enter the two days of racing which will include various slalom events for both kayaks and canoes.

Hosts for the weekend of racing will be the Appalachian River Runners who have sponsored the successful downriver race on the Savage.

The rigid course will extend one-half mile downstream just below the Savage River Dam and will encompass some 30 gates to the finish.

By special request, a special downriver sprint will be held. Many New England paddlers have been enchanted with the difficulty of the river that they can't wait to try it again.

The Savage River, as wild as the name implies, lies near Bloomington.

Joe Monahan, a member of the sponsoring Appalachian River Runners, reported that the water level will be slightly higher than the last race. Nine hundred cfs. of water will be released by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers and the Upper Potomac River Commission from the Savage River Dam. Monahan said this level will make the race "interesting", to say the least.

Additional information or applications may be obtained from the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council of Oakland.

"Liberty in Our Time —But How?"

Aaron Ambrose

We today are witnessing an enigmatic, often frightening frequently tragic socio-political struggle. What is this fearful force which is shaking the very foundations of "establishment America?" Actually, it is rather a simple causation—liberty! It is the instinctive struggle of people toward liberty. That liberty whose very name quickens the inner pulse, awakens the human heart, and shakes the foundations of the world wherever and whenever it occurs. This is a liberty of all liberties—of press of belief, of conscience, of education, of labor, of race, of travel of association, ad infinitum.

Admittedly, this people's struggle for liberty is largely thwarted. This is greatly due to the fatal desire of some men to set themselves above mankind these authoritarians desire to arrange, organize, and regulate our society according to their own fancies. The very structure of our society becomes a refuge for the power-minded and the running-scared authoritarians. This socio-political disease with its insidious carriers has found its way to the very marrow of our America—into government, education, business, industry, religion. In one word this socio-political disease may be called a bureaucracy; those who carry this disease are bureaucrats.

Being cognizant of our adversary (namely, bureaucracy) what can we neo-libertines do to assist those who are already combating despotism (though sometimes in the wrong way)? We can form ourselves anew. A strong force and vigorous action are necessary to destroy old prejudices, to change antiquated customs, to correct depraved affections, to limit superfluous wants, and to destroy ingrained vices. This strong force and vigorous action must emanate from each of us. And, if we are to ultimately conquer this bureaucracy of insidious authoritarians we must be totally unselfish compassionate, and respectful of others and their mores as our generation struggles for Liberty

Board Approves Motion To Hire 100 Road Workers

At a special meeting of the Board of County Commissioners last Thursday Hubert A. Friend, president, moved that the Board employ approximately one hundred men in the Garrett County Roads department and that the board request the assistance of the Maryland State Police, the Garrett County Sheriff's department, State's Attorney and Judge S. F. Hamill for protection of men and to maintain order. The motion was seconded by Commissioner John Ross Sines. The motion was opposed by Commissioner Allen S. Paugh with the statement, "I cannot go along with it because I cannot ask these men to go over the picket line."

Prior to the motion Mr. Friend restated the responsibility of the board and obligation of the commissioners in providing and maintaining county roads and said the time for repairing the roads was fast running out and that county school buses would soon be in operation.

A joint statement by Commissioners Friend and Sines pointed out that the board on April 13 requested and ordered all employes to return to the regular duties in the Roads department. At that time only 12 reported for work but were not permitted to work by the rest of the employes. Those not willing to work were then dismissed for refusal to perform their regular duties. The Union along with officers of Union 1834, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, brought suit against the County Commissioners. The court ruled that the strike was illegal since the workers struck before the time their contract expired on June 30 and that the board acted within its authority.

The Board established a new wage scale June 29, granting a seven percent increase along with other fringe benefits. The board then advertised for employment from former employes or citizens. Approximately one hundred applications have been received who are ready and willing to work. Only one of the applicants was a former county roads worker.

The letter asking for assistance from state authorities was sent to Col. T. S. Smith, commanding officer of the Maryland State police, with copies sent to Lt. Samuel Conrad, at LaVale barracks; James E. Frantz sheriff; Fred A. Thayer, state's attorney; Judge Stuart F. Hamill, and Miller Bowen, attorney to the commissioners.

A portion of the letter stated, "according to articles published in newspapers, they have threatened to prevent new employes from working, that there will be destruction of property and possibly bodily harm when the new workers start working. There have already been two bridges dynamited, holes dynamited in county roads and on private property, trees cut across county roads and considerable damage to county equipment."

To Serve Dinners At Fair Four Days

The Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions club has been working on its pavilion at the Garrett County Fairgrounds. The eating area will be extended 20 feet with a serving table and three additional tables under roof. Also in the making is a roof over the barbecue pit to keep smoke away from diners.

The Lions will serve a complete chicken berbecue dinner for the same price as last year, $1.75 per person.

Also an additional day has been set aside this year. Lions will start serving on Wednesday, August 12, and include Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The time will be from 4:00 p. m. to dark.

The barbecue is under the direction of Project Chairman Jim Crabtree. He has appointed committees to carry out the work.

A partial listing includes: barbecue workers for Wednesday, Ron Stemple, chairman, with Jim Simms, Max Messenger and Cot Callis; Thursday, Blue Marucci as chairman with Bob Gibson, Gene Nordeck and Emile Germain.

Proceeds from the barbecue will be used to finance the Eye Glass fund, Boy Scout, civic affairs, etc.

Hearings Set On C&O Canal Bill

Congressman J. Glenn Beall Jr. (R-6th-Md.) reported Friday that public hearings on legislation to establish the Chesapeake and Ohio National Historical Park will be held on August 11 and 13 and urged all interested persons to attend.

Representative Beall, a sponsor of a bill to create a National Park stretching 185 miles along the C and O Canal from Washington, D. C. to Cumberland, Md., said that "concerning legislation of this nature, which affects so many citizens of Maryland, it is imperative that all points of view be presented."

The proposed park would run through three counties of Representative Beall's 6th Congressional District—Frederick, Washington, and Allegany—along the eastern bank of the Potomac River.

Representative Beall said that the hearings on the C and O Canal Park legislation will commence at 9:45 a.m. on Tuesday, August 11 in Room 1324 of the Longworth House Office Building.

For her daughter's wedding the mother of the bride chose a two-piece mint green suit with matching accessories and wore a yellow rosebud corsage. Mother of the groom wore a pink two-piece coat and dress ensemble and had a white rubrum lily corsage.

A reception followed in the church social room for 125 guests. A three-tiered wedding cake topped with wedding bells, lily of the valley and daisies adorned the reception table. Yellow and white decorations with wedding bells were used throughout the room. Richard Werner, best man, made a toast to the newlyweds. TURNABOUT Folks used to wonder what Grandpa Brown and I had in common. He must have been close to eighty when I was just a kid. But I remember him as one of the best friends I ever had.

He was a wonderful old man, with a simple, native wisdom. We used to go fishing together, and he would talk to me about God and Faith and Love. I remember he said people shouldn't wait until they're in trouble before going to Church. "When you're happy," he told me, "take time out to offer a prayer of thanks."

The Church had acted as a balance for him during good times, and a bulwark during bad times.

Down through the centuries the Church has made great Christians out of unassuming people. They in turn have transmitted the blessings of the Church to oncoming generations. I hope I can bring Grandpa Brown's faith and wisdom to others, as I was impressed by him.

THE FLOOD

Lesson for August 9, 1970

Background Scripture: Genesis 6 through 9; Matthew 24:37-39; 2 Peter 2:4-10a. Devotional Reading: 2 Peter 2:4-10.

The story of the great flood that covered the earth because of the sin of mankind is not limited to the saga of Noah in Genesis, but is found in the ancient literatures and oral traditions of peoples throughout the world. There is hardly a part of the world where there are not legends of a universal flood.

Rev. Althouse

In 1873 George Smith of the British Museum discovered and published a "Chaldean Account of the Deluge," which had been translated from twelve tablets that had been found in the library of the Babylonian ruler, Ashurbanipal (668-626? B.C.) This account of a great flood has come to be known to us as the "Gilgamesh Epic."

"Tell no one"

The legend is the story of Gilgamesh, who, mourning the death of his friend, Enkidu, makes a long, hazardous journey to his ancestor, Utnapishtim, to learn the secret of eternal life. He tells Gilgamesh that long ago when the gods decided to destroy the earth, one of them, Ea, commanded Utnapishtim to build a ship in order to survive the great flood to come. He was not to warn his fellow citizens in any way.

For six days and nights, Utnapishtim, his family, and all the other living beings he could find, rode out the terrible storm. On the seventh day it ceased and eventually the boat came to rest upon a mountaintop. Disembarking at last, Utnapishtim, to show his gratitude, offered a sacrifice which pleased the gods.

The story is remarkably like that of Noah; yet there are important differences that make the Genesis saga greatly superior.

For one thing, there is a sense of purpose in the Noah story: the earth is to be destroyed, not at the whim of the gods as in the "G" epic, but because of the sinfulness of men. This is a truth which men must not ignore even today. When people revolt against God, when they set themselves against his universal laws, there is usually a painful price to pay, a natural consequence that follows.

A banquet of consequences

If a man defies the law of gravity (unless he invokes some counter law), he will pay some consequences. There is nothing capricious or arbitrary about the direction in which he falls. And so it is when men defy God's moral order. There is eventually a price to pay. As Robert Louis Stevenson once said, "Sooner or later every man sits down to a banquet of consequences."

We also see a purposefulness in the selection of Noah. In the Babylonian epic, Utnapishtim was chosen simply because he was favored by Ea. In the story of Noah, however, the patriarch is chosen because God sees him as a righteous man, that there is in him something worth salvaging. So life is not capricious. Things do not "just happen." Often they are the results of living either in harmony with or in rebellion against God's order.

Turn and be saved!

Secondly, we see in the God of Noah a compassionate desire to save, rather than destroy. Ea forbid Utnapishtim to warn his neighbors, but no such restriction was laid upon Noah. Even in the face of the retribution that is to come, there is a redemptive possibility. This was often true when God sent his prophets to tell Israel of the terrible times ahead: if the people, even in the last moment, were to turn and repent, God would have been happy to receive them. God desired, not destruction, but the repentence of his people. It was their wickedness, not the vengefulness of God, that caused their destruction.

The real truth of the story of Noah is not in that it agrees with so many flood epics throughout the world, but that it tells us so much about God, man, and the world in which we live.

WITH CONTACT SPORTS
THERE MAY BE ATHLETIC KNEE

More knee injuries are reported for people active in contact sports than most any other injury. Among young athletes and professionals, these injuries are particularly dangerous. Not only have promising careers been cut short, but sometimes serious permanent damage has resulted.

Youngsters have to be especially careful. In this respect, proper training and good conditioning are most important. However, if a person is injury prone a protective elastic bandage or a special support could cut down on the chances of getting hurt. Of course prompt medical treatment for any knee injury is a must.

Sermonette By Area Ministers

Living Your Religion
Gal. 6:4-5

"For each man will have to bear his own load." These words of Paul to the church of Galatia are directed to each of us today.

To live one's religion it is necessary to have an understanding as to what religion is. Indeed there are many and varied definitions: A way of life, an awareness of a supreme being, something to obey and serve, something to profess and practice. In none of these is God mentioned. Regardless of one's definition for the Christian, Jesus Christ, the Son of God, must be central. Therefore, the challenge is not only to accept Christ, but to pattern life after his teachings and practices. We need to be thankful that Christ not only came and lived a divine life, but he lived it simply enough that we can follow it in our day.

For a few moments I would have you to think about your religion, not your friends, your parents, your neighbors, but your religion! What is your religion doing for you? Is cooperate worship and fellowship which the church provides giving the opportunity for you to share and express your true self? The church can only provide the services that its members are willing to offer. If you are not satisfied with the church, you are responsible for bringing about a change. Jesus said on one occasion, "my Father is working and I am working still." I do not believe God works without bringing change. Therefore, we should not only expect change but welcome it as well. Too often our religion is not relevant to life situations today because we are not willing to take an honest look at the opportunities about us. This is why God had to send his Son into the world, to demonstrate what he had been trying to tell us through the prophets. Christians should be a servant people. Therefore, we must hear and see the needs about us and respond in a servant role.

The second question I would ask, what are you doing for the Christian religion? Will this world be better because you lived in it? Truly there are opportunities of witnessing and service in our day. We need not perform a large task to witness. For indeed, we remember Christ as much for his small acts of love, mercy, compassion, etc., in his daily walk of life as we do the miracles he performed. Regardless as to the number of talents you may have, you are only expected to do your best, but you are expected to do your best! "As each has received a gift employ it for one another."

Being a Christian does not limit one's life from enjoying life to its fullest. The Christian can chose the "best" entertainment, the accepted places to go and the best friends in the world.

Might we avail ourselves of the many and varied opportunities that are about us. In our affluent society we are still our brothers keeper. The challenge would be to live and not just pass through. Remember, "only one life, twill soon be past. Only what is done for Christ will last. To me to live is Christ."

BUSINESSMEN AND EDUCATORS join hands to evaluate the presentation of the opportunities and problems of the free enterprise system to the nation's youth at a meeting of the National Federaion of Independent Business held in Washington one day last week. Present at the meeting were, left to right: seated, Cal Hollis, Washington office NFIB; Glenn Wilson, district manager NFIB; standing, Richard Farrell, division manager, NFIB; Robert F. Rodeheaver, principal of Southern High school in Oakland.

Join Hands In Solving Problems Of Free Enterprise

Businessmen and Educators join hands to evaluate the presentation of the opportunities and problems of the free enterprise system to the nation's youth—the citizens of tomorrow.

Garrett County school authorities, joining those from 10 other areas in the country, met last week with representatives of the National Federation of Independent Business. Purpose of the meeting was to discuss the school problem of the NFIB, which has the largest membership of any business organization in the nation.

The teachers and students of more than 30,000 schools periodically receive the economic viewpoints of America's independent businessmen.

The NFIB membership is polled regularly on bills and issues affecting independent enterprise at National and State levels. Each business and professional member has a voting privilege. A majority vote on an issue determines the Federation's position. The non-profit National Federation of Independent Business is completely non-partisan, non-affiliated and not a duplication of any other organization.

Ballots from members in this area are received and tabulated by District Chairman James W. Bishop of Cumberland who serves on a voluntary basis as do his counterparts in all 50 states.

Sulfur Content Of Fuels Now Limited

New regulations limiting the sulfur content of fuels used in fuel burning equipment took effect July 1, State-wide, according to Dr. Neil Solomon, Secretary of Health and Mental Hygiene.

Under the regulations, fuel oils must be restricted to 1 per cent or less, sulfur by weight. At present, the heavy oils contain from 1.5 to 3 per cent sulfur by weight, and the lighter oils from .3 to .5 per cent.

In asking Marylanders to cooperate with the regulations, Dr. Solomon noted, "These regulations, if adhered to, will produce benefits for all Marylanders—benefits in terms of less pollution, cleaner air, and a healthier environment for all of us to live in."

Detailed information concerning the regulations may be obtained from local health departments, or the Division of Air Quality Control, Maryland State Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, 2305 N. Charles St., Baltimore 21218.

Mt. Top YFC To Be At County Fair

Members of Mt. Top Youth for Christ will be at the county fair again this year. In addition to the food booth there will be two extra features. Fifteen teen teams will take a campus life survey at the fair and also will operate an Orbit Art gallery for those wanting to try their hand at a new approach to contemporary art.

The survey will be taken by teens who have been involved in the summer insight program and will provide an analysis of how teenagers at the fair compare to a nation-wide survey on balance living.

A rally is set for Meyersdale this Saturday at 8 o'clock at the Methodist church in that town. It will feature the "God Squad" from Wilmore, Ky. Ed Cain will be the speaker. A rally is also planned for Southern High for August 22.

Pres. Nixon National Goals Research Staff said that the Nation must learn to balance progress with problems.

Review of The Play

"There's a Girl in My Soup"

The Garrett County Playhouse has done it again! The offering of Gene Yell's company of artists this week is Terrence Frisby's "There's a Girl in My Soup." This week's show is directed by the six-year veteran of the local theater, Milburn Mehlhop.

This is a delightfully saucy rendering of the popular story of a newspaper columnist who is a connoisseur of wine, women and song. The role is very subtly played by Robert Nesbitt, who portrays the 40-ish Robert Danvers. The play opens with a girl in his arms—our local Rita Shrout—and it ends in almost the same way but with other girls who come and go in his life and career. Clare, done well by Miss Jana Hahn, is the first girl of importance who is in his apartment for but one purpose. You must see it to know the purpose, if you have not already guessed. Robert Danvers, the central character, and around whom the play revolves, is not married, and he intends to keep it that way. But his love life is not without rewards.

The only married person in the show is Andrew Hunter done by Dave Cramer, a new comer to the Playhouse. He tries desperately to keep his sidekick, Danvers, on an even keel but his efforts are without success. He does not totally approve of the shenanigans of Danvers but he knows there is little he can do.

We find Milburn Mehlhop cast in the minor role of John, the porter, but we also find him to be quite knowledgeable about the goings on in the life of Robert Danvers. Some of Danvers' women he likes, and they him; others he just tolerates. Women don't understand him.

It is a delight to see Susan Stoner at work, for this week she is cast in the role of Paola the Italian baby-sitter. And what a baby-sitter she turns out to be!

It is Marion who is the real seductive siren, the 'girl in the soup'. This is extremely well done by Marsha Wischusen. She can get more out of the lifting of an eyebrow than many can do with dialogue. It is a pleasure to watch Marsha at work. She appears with Danvers in his apartment after she has had a fight with her boy friend, Jimmy, the drummer. They—she and Jimmy—have been living together for some time. During a party at her apartment things get dull, and she just latches on to Danvers and we soon discover that neither knew the name of the other. She works very subtly on Danvers, timing his every move. Although she claims to be only nineteen years old, she knows the 'ropes' when it comes to seducing a member of the opposite sex. No one is married to anyone except, of course, Andrew Hunter.

Jimmy, the drummer, and part time linoleum layer, is done ably by Tony Bruskas. Does he, or does he not, have a final reconciliation with his girl friend Marion? This you will have to find out for yourself.

Although this play is billed as adult fare, we can safely say that it is not entirely that. We can recommend this play, but not for persons under sixteen. We would suggest that you make reservations at Englander's Pharmacy or at Proudfoot's Pharmacy. The Blue Barn is located on Beckman's Peninsula at Deep Creek Lake.

THIRD STREET OAKLAND, MARYLAND DIAL 334-3941

J. Glenn Beall, Jr.

Congressman, 6th District, Maryland

As we all know, in western Maryland, the sports of fishing and hunting are among the most popular forms of outdoor recreation. Thousands of our citizens participate in these kinds of recreation each year.

The activities of these sportsmen depend, of course, on the availability of game and the habitat which supports them. And this availability depends in turn on the sound management of fish and wildlife resources.

Fish and wildlife protection, conservation, and management are, as they should be, the responsibility of State governments. Under the supervision of State fish and game departments, these programs are financed largely from State hunting and fishing license fees.

In order to assist the State in carrying out effective wildlife and fish management programs, Congress passed in 1937 the Federal Aid to Wildlife Restoration Act and in 1950 the Federal Aid in Fish Restoration Act.

Over the years, these laws have provided over $456 million for State wildlife and fish restoration projects. For example, just last month Maryland received $115,892 under the Wildlife Restoration Act to assist in acquiring and developing land suitable for wildlife and in conducting research in the management of game species.

Although the federal aid program authorized by the two Acts of Congress have been highly successful, it became apparent in hearings conducted last year by the Department of the Interior that they are not entirely adequate for today's needs. The demands on fish and wildlife resources as well as the State organizations related to them have changed to such an extent that new legislation is now required.

I am therefore pleased to report that the House of Representatives has passed a bill designed to revise and clarify the Federal Aid to Fish and Wildlife Restoration programs. Although most of the proposed changes in the legislation, which is now being considered by the Senate Commerce Committee, represent administrative adjustments, two provisions are worthy of special attention.

The first major change would affect the conditions under which Federal aid is granted. Under existing law, the States receive funds only on a project-by-project basis. Under the new bill, on the other hand, the States would have the option of using federal money for comprehensive long-range fish and wildlife management planning as well as for specific projects.

Because of the many demands on open space brought about by urban development, the need for new transportation routes, and the expansion of outdoor recreation facilities, it is imperative that State fish and game agencies enter into the outdoor planning process at every level of government. In addition, comprehensive planning should promote the more efficient use of federal aid as well as revenues derived from State hunting and fishing license fees.

Moreover, I am particularly pleased with this change because it represents progress in giving the States more latitude in their use of federal financial assistance. For too long, the States have not been given the freedom they deserve in utilizing federal money.

A second major change proposed by the new legislation would transfer certain revenues which now go into the general fund of the U. S. Treasury to the Federal Aid in Wildlife Restoration Fund. The bill further provides that these funds could be used by the States both for wildlife restoration and for designing and carrying out hunter safety programs.

In the United States today, there are approximately 14 million licensed hunters, of which almost 2.2 million are under the age of 18. State hunter safety programs would play an important part in eliminating firearms accidents, which, in a recent year, claimed the lives of over 2,600 persons. According to information brought out during Interior Department hearings, hunter safety programs could reduce injuries and deaths from firearms accidents by as much as 80 percent.

Wildlife management, of course, is intimately tied to other environmental considerations. By stimulating comprehensive planning and increasing the funds available for wildlife programs and hunter safety, I think the proposed revisions of our fish and wildlife restoration laws will lead to better utilization and enjoyment of our precious natural environment.

The First National Bank of Oakland, Oakland, Maryland
vs.
The Unknown Heirs, Devisees, and Personal Representatives of Thomas Watson, William Watson, Joseph Watson, and Frances Moderwell.
No. 5923 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to obtain a decree declaring absolute ownership of Lots Nos. 950, 952 and 954, as shown on the Plat of the Town of Mountain Lake Park, Maryland, to have been vested in Effie Louise Waters at the time of her death on January 29, 1970, and that the heirs, devisees and personal representatives of Thomas Watson, William Watson, Joseph Watson and Frances Moderwell will be enjoined from asserting any claim to said lots.

The Bill states:

That Martha Dent Watson was during her lifetime seized and possessed of three lots in the town of Mountain Lake Park, Garrett County, Maryland, which are known and designated as Lots Nos. 950, 952 and 954, as shown on the Plat of said town of Mountain Lake Park, which lots were conveyed to the said Martha Dent Watson as Mattie D. Watson by three deeds, the first from Park Improvement Company of Garrett County, Maryland, dated November 7, 1902, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T. No. 42, folio 550, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland; the second from Park Improvement Company of Garrett County, Maryland, dated March 23, 1903, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T. No. 44, folio 353, one of the said Land Records; and the third from Mountain Lake Park Association dated December 2, 1904, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T. No. 47, folio 581;

That the said Martha Dent Watson departed this life testate during the year 1905, a resident of Fairmont, Marion County, West Virginia. By the terms of her Last Will and Testament she attempted to devise the above described real estate in the following terms: "I give my Mountain Lake Park property to Louise Waters but in case she dies without issue to go to the heirs of my 3 brothers, Thomas, William and Joseph and the heirs of my sister, Frances Moderwell." That the said Last Will and Testament of Martha Dent Watson was never recorded among the Records of the Orphans' Court for Garrett County, Maryland nor were any letters of administration granted by said Orphans' Court on the Estate of Martha Dent Watson;

That the said Louise Waters lived in a dwelling located on the said real estate from 1905 until her death on January 29, 1970. The said Louise Waters departed this life testate on the date aforesaid and by the terms of her last Will and Testament, recorded in Wills Liber H, Folio 471, one of the Wills Records of Garrett County, Maryland, she bequeathed and devised all her property and estate to three nieces, to-wit: Leora Wade, Madge Arnett and Freda Yost, who is now Freda Yost Starn. She appointed The First National Bank of Oakland as Executor of said Last Will and Testament and directed the said Executor to sell at either public or private sale all real estate and tangible personal property that she may own at the time of her death, except personal property specifically bequeathed and to pay the proceeds arising therefrom, after the payment of her debts and funeral expenses, to the three nieces, as aforesaid;

That it is the opinion of The First National Bank of Oakland that the said Louise Waters acquired title to said real estate by open, notorious and adverse use of same since 1905, until her death in 1970.

Since the death of the said Louise Waters, The First National Bank of Oakland, through its Trust Officer, has been in constructive and peaceable possession of said real estate.

That The First National Bank of Oakland has a duty as Executor of the Estate of the said Louise Waters to sell said real estate under the power of sale granted to it under her Will. That The First National Bank of Oakland has been advised by legal counsel that in the event of a public sale of said real estate the purchaser probably will not accept title.

That said real estate has been appraised for THREE THOUSAND DOLLARS ($3000.00);

That there is no action at law, nor any proceeding in Equity pending to enforce or test the validity of the title to said real estate;

That the probable contentions of prospective buyers of said real estate are without merit and constitute a cloud upon the title to said real estate.

It is thereupon ORDERED this 27th day of July, 1970, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, that the plaintiff by having a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks before the 21st day of August, 1970, giving notice to the unknown heirs, devisees and personal representatives of Thomas Watson, William Watson, Joseph Watson and Frances Moderwell, of the object and substance of the Bill of Complaint and warning them to be and appear in this Court either in person or by an attorney, on or before the 21st day of September, 1970, to show cause, if any they may have, why a Decree should not be passed as prayed.

THE REPUBLICAN

Naked Power . . .

A show of naked power was exhibited in Oakland last Tuesday. It wasn't a pretty picture. This has nothing to do with the value of unionism and the right of individuals to organize, if that is their desire. What worries us is the display of force to carry out one's desires regardless of law and order and the decisions of others.

Still in effect is a court order limiting the striking union to 20 pickets "at any location in Garrett County," and restraining it "from unlawfully interfering with those persons desiring to work and from unlawfully interfering or molesting the vehicles of the county roads system."

That this had no effect in holding back the strikers or the union sympathizers who came from other parts of the state, was evident when they forcibly prevented a bus from being boarded by persons who want-

Junior Samples To Kick Off Autumn Glory At $50 Dinner

Funny man Junior Samples will be the featured entertainment at the Friends of Garrett County kick-off dinner for the Autumn Glory Festival October 7, at the WISP Ski Lodge on Deep Creek Lake, McHenry.

Samples is a regular feature of the CBS TV show Hee Haw and has been featured on Johnny Carson's Tonight Show and the Mike Douglas and Merv Griffith shows.

Following the "Friends of Garrett County Dinner" a "Get to Know Junior Samples" night will be held in Oakland at the American Legion Home. Only advance tickets will be sold to the after-dinner event.

Samples broke into show business telling a true story of how he caught a large fish and landed a record contract and recorded the story called "The World's Biggest Whopper." He will have the story polished for presentation at the Friends of Garrett County Dinner, no doubt. Naturally, he'll be sporting a highly laundered pair of bib overalls.

Tickets to the dinner will be placed on sale soon at $50 per plate or $60 a couple.

Revenue from the dinner is used to finance the Autumn Glory Festival set for October 8 to 11.

Future Farmers Of Oakland Winners

The Oakland Chapter, Future Farmers of America, won the Western Maryland FFA Livestock Judging contest at the Cumberland fair August 5. The local farm boys swept the first six places in the contest and also took top team honors with 1,268 points ont of a possible 1,500.

Teams from Allegany and Garrett, 4-H and FFA clubs competed under direction of Robert Saville, vo-ag teacher at Flintstone. Charles McVeigh, Allegany county extension agent, served as judge. He was assisted in the training exercise by Richard Bishoff, vo-ag teacher at Southern High.

Two classes of breeding Hereford beef cattle and two classes of breeding swine were judged. Official reasons for placing and points to be considered were discussed by Mr. McVeigh with each team of boys. Twenty-eight boys participated.

Don Wilt, Rodney Fike, Ron O'Brien and John Skipper were members of the winning team with Ralph Friend and Melvin Rhodes also scoring high on an individual. Preparations for continuing the training for state competition will continue this week at the county fair.

Tax Receipts Heavy

Although tax bills were late getting to the citizens, the returns for eleven days in July were fairly heavy, according to Mrs. Arzella Parsons, county treasurer.

She listed total receipts of $325,072.68. Broken down the figures showed $110,911.85 on receipts from Real Estate; $9,108.69 from ordinary business; and $109,151.79 from public utilities.

She said the first few days of August had been very heavy. There is still a five percent discount if taxes are paid during this month.

Williams Wins Tennis Tourney

Winner For Second Year; Charleston Girl Wins Women's Singles

The men's singles champion won another leg on the challenge cup but the women's singles champion of last year was defeated in her bid for a second victory at the conclusion of the 49th Western Maryland Tennis championships Sunday afternoon at Mt. Lake Park.

John Williams of Charleston, W. Va., came from behind to whip Herb Rappaport of Washington, D C. in the men's singles event to win for a second time consecutively. After a 3-6 loss in the first set Williams won three straight sets, 6-1, 6-2, 6-2 for the victory.

In the women's singles young Martha Thornhill, of Charleston, won in straight sets over Marise LaPorte, of Annapolis, 6-3, 6-0. Mrs. LaPorte was last year's champion.

It was the largest tournament in many years, over 116 entries participating in the various events. The support this year indicated that next year's tournament, which will mark the 50th anniversary of tennis at Mt. Lake Park, would be an outstanding one. There was favorable weather for most of the matches which were played on the four Mt. Lake Park Tennis club courts and one at the Weber home south of town.

The results of other matches included:

Senior singles: Mickey Pardew, Baltimore, won over Hugh Gantt, of Harrisonburg, Va., 6-1, 6-2.

Senior Men's doubles: Earle Brown and Fred McNair, Washington, D. C., defeated Henry Foss, Washington, and Frank Hartz, Richmod, Va., 6-4, 3-6, 6-3. They were second seeded in the event.

Men's doubles: John Williams and Eddie Ray, of Charleston, defeated a brother team, Mike and Chuck Barnes, of Cheverly, 6-1, 6-4.

Mixed doubles: Marise LePorte and son Stefan LePorte, of Annapolis, won over Marie Russell and Larry Middlekamp, of Adelphi, 6-2, 2-6, 6-1.

Plan Bids For Purification Plant Site

Construction Of Facility Expected To Start In Near Future

Construction of the $500,000 water purification facility to serve Oakland's new Basch and Lomb Ophthalmic lens plant and Mt. Lake area residents is to be started soon, it was announced following a meeting last week. The announcement of the approval of funds for the project appeared in the July 2 issue of The Republican, but further details are now available.

The plant will purify 1,500,000 gallons of water daily, providing the B and L firm with 800,000 gallons and other sources with the remainder.

Col. Haig Jackson, executive secretary for the county's Development corporation told of the meeting with B and L officials, a representative of Swindell and Dressler, a Pittsburgh architectural firm, and the Monongahela Power company.

Bids from contractors are expected to be advertised in about 30 days, with work to begin shortly after that.

"Big, Bad Mouse" Next Offering At Summer Theatre

Next week's offering at the Garrett County Playhouse is another zany, fast paced English farce in the vein of "See How They Run" and "I'll Get My Man," presented earlier this season.

"Big. . . Bad. . . Mouse" which opens Tuesday, August 18, is by the same playwriting team, Philip King and Falkland L. Cary. But the vicarage is deserted in favor of the well ordered office of Chunkibix Limited, the most staid firm in London.

Staid, that is, until the office mouse is accused of molesting a girl on Wandsworth Commons, and by night, too.

Suddenly, meek little Mr. Bloome finds himself the hero of the hour, at least with the females of Chunkibix, who are tired of Limited men with blue-black ink in their veins instead of red blood.

The annual Christmas office party turns out to be a man chase, with even Lady Chesapeake, director of the board, joining in the pursuit of "The Bull of Wandsworth Common." Even the mod young secretary

Youth Charged With Larceny

The case of a youth charged with larceny was heard Friday, August 7, in the Garrett County Circuit Court by Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill, Jr. sitting as juvenile judge.

A thirteen-year-old male of Cleveland, Ohio, was charged with larceny of a 1965 International truck from Brodak's Super Dollar Market, on U. S. Rt. 219, north of Oakland on August 3.

The youth pleaded guilty and was sentenced by the court to be committed to the Maryland Training School for Boys until discharged by due process of the law. The sentence was suspended upon condition he be of good behavior generally and refrain from any infraction of the law. He was placed under the supervision and jurisdiction of the Garrett County Department of Juvenile Services for an undetermined period and he is to abide by the rules and regulations set forth by that department.

Housing Complex Up In The Air

The construction of the 100-unit apartment complex on the western edge of Oakland, which was announced the latter part of May, is still not under way, with there being some uncertainty as to whether it will ever take place.

Morton Sarubin, of Baltimore, head of a recently formed corporation, that had planned for the $1,700,000 complex, had applied for a permit from the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland. After much discussion the permit was finally approved at the August meeting of the council but has never been picked up, according to William W. Grant, city attorney.

The permit was contingent upon several conditions, that the plans be approved by the Board of Conference of American Builders, that sewage disposal be approved as directed by the State Department of Health, that the town be given 30 days to look over the plans and specifications, and that the roadway as planned for the area be constructed according to the specifications of the State Roads commission.

Mr. Grant said that the corporation had upon occasions agreed and refused to agree with the stipulations.

Ambulance Service To Be Provided By New Concern

In an organization plan to provide twenty-four hour ambulance service to the area, the Van Meter ambulance service will be available as of September 1 in Oakland and at that time the funeral directors of the area will discontinue activities in this direction.

An advertisement to that effect appears this week signed by the John O. Durst Funeral Home, Minnich Funeral Home, Oakland; Sharpless Funeral Home, Blaine; Fike-Watson Funeral Home, Terra Alta.

Assuming the service will be Carl Van Meter, who has been active in the Moorefield, Petersburg and Franklin area for the past three years where he has eleven ambulances in operation.

When he comes to Oakland he will be located on Liberty street and plans to have five vehicles in service. He has been trained in first aid and has previously been a funeral director for three years.

Mr. Durst said it was only a matter of time before an ambulance service would require 24-hour duty, a man trained in first aid, have necessary first aid equipment and would be governed by regulations provided by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the Highway Safety department. He said funeral directors of surrounding states already had discontinued such service and similarly in parts of Maryland. Some states even now subsidize the business, he said.

Blood Donors Hit Low Ebb Yesterday

Blood donors reached a low ebb yesterday with only fifty-five pints being received. The quota was 100.

Activities at the Fair and the frequency of the bloodmobile visit were given as two possible reasons.

There was a five-gallon donor in the group, Roy R. Glotfelty, star route 1, Oakland. There was also a two gallon donor, Bernard Burns, Oakland; and a one gallon donor, Ralph Miller, route 2, Oakland.

The statistics showed 177 persons scheduled with 46 keeping their appointments. There were two first time donors, 57 presented themselves; there were 11 walk-ins and five rejects. Twenty-three pints were given for replacements.

One of the donors was Goodloe E. Byron, Democratic candidate for Congress from this district, who was in the area yesterday visiting the fair and electioneering. Three of the pints were given at the hospital.

Given Additional Two Weeks To Answer Suit

The State was given an additional two weeks to assemble additional facts before being compelled to answer a suit filed at Annapolis by Rev. Walter H. Leake, of Deer Park, attacking a section of the State constitution that prohibits ministers from sitting in the General Assembly.

Rev. Leake has announced his desire to become a candidate for the House of Delegates on the American Party and Willard A. Morris, state administrator of election laws, said he could not certify Mr. Leake's candidacy because he is a minister. Judge Matthew S. Evans had given the state until August 11 to answer the suit, but now has extended the time two weeks.

Show Cause Order Signed Against Union

Want Union And Former Roads Workers Cited For Contempt

An order requiring the striking Garrett County former road workers and several union officials to show cause why they should not be cited for contempt of court, was signed last night by Circuit Court Judge Stuart F. Hamill. A hearing is set for Friday, September 4.

Judge Hamill signed the order after a petition was submitted to him by the Garrett County Board of Commissioners through their attorney, W. Dwight Stover.

The show cause order was filed against Local 1834, American Federation of State, County and Municipal employes, and Michael Lindner, representative of Cumberland; Wilford E. Stoll, representative, Baltimore; Alva C. Lewis, representative, Cumberland; Wellington J. Sowers, Oakland, and Ernest Friend, Oakland, former county road employes.

The action stems from a charge by the Commissioners that a court injunction limiting the number of union pickets at one location to 20 and forbidding any interference with county-owned vehicles or employes was violated.

The complaint lists that on August 4 some fifty to sixty

Lad Gets Probation In Juvenile Case

A thirteen year old male from Jackson, Tenn., received a probation without verdict after a hearing before Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill, sitting as juvenile judge, on Tuesday afternoon in the Circuit Court.

The lad told officers he was hitchhiking to Massachusetts. He was picked up on August 8, about 10 o'clock in Rolyan's parking lot by city policeman Hobart Shillingburg. He was charged with assault upon an officer, after pointing a loaded gun at the officer. He entered a plea of guilty. Judge Hamill struck out the charge of assault so there would be no permanent record against the lad. The youth's father was in court Tuesday and took his son back to Tennessee with him.

Review of The Play

A most delightful play is offered the theater-going public this week at the Garrett County Playhouse, Deep Creek Lake. "Love In E-Flat", another one of Norman Krasne's hit shows, is a fast moving, deliriously funny offering. It will be playing tonight and each evening through Saturday at 8:30, at the Blue Barn, on Beckman's Peninsula. Gene Yell, producer of the local theater, and professor of drama at the University of New Mexico, has chosen well for this week's adult family fare. An excellent cast has been put together for this production. The play this week is directed by Robert Nesbitt, who is also a member of the cast.

"Love In E-Flat" is a light comedy of boy-gets-girl, but with an electronic twist. It is a pure case of 'he loves me, he loves me not', and no one is sure who really loves whom until the final moments of the last act. The play takes place in an apartment in New York, or better we might say in two apartment with paper-thin walls between. In one apartment lives Dr. Howard Langley, a hospital intern, played to hilt by the popular veteran Milburn Mehlhop. He shares his apartment with his medical school classmate, Dr. Mitchell Monson. Mitchell is done with great success by David Cramer. It is worth the price of admission this week to watch Cramer in action. Some of the funniest lines and action are done by this young man. Mitchell does what he can to keep his room mate straight with his girl-friend, but with little success.

Amy, Mitchell's girl friend, is a determined young lady, and she goes to no end of trying to lure him into her trap. Susan Stoner, an old-timer at the local Playhouse, gives a sterling performance as usual in her role as Amy. But she finds that her apartment has been 'bugged' by an electronic device much to her surprise. Dr. Mitchell, the intern, is the jealous type, but he is also the shy type, and he tries to keep tabs on his girl in this manner. But Amy also does her own 'bugging', and this makes for great comedy.

Marsha Wischusen does a tremendous job as Amy's sister, Bea. It is Bea who really comes up with the answers to her sister's problems. This reviewer thinks she outdoes her performance of last week. She has some ideas of her own about electronics. She also knows a few things about interns. Tony Bruskas, who plays her husband, Stanley, is a very confused young man. He is almost in trouble with the electronic salesman, until a new thought strikes him and his wife. The mystery man - the electronic salesman - is played well by Robert Nesbitt. He reveals nothing about persons to whom he sells his equipment. He is only interested in a fast buck.

We can give this week's play, "Love In E-Flat", a four star rating. It is well cast, well staged, and it will provide the audience with many moments of sheer delight. It is recommended, however that you make reservations at Proudfoot's Oakland Pharmacy, Gregg's Pharmacy, or Englander's Pharmacy.

Traffic Is Up

The four points in Garrett and Allegany counties which have traffic counters of the Bureau af Traffic, State Roads commission, show increased volume for June compared to the same month last year.

U.S. route 219, at McHenry, Deep Creek Lake had a 9.4 percent increase with 118,426 vehicles in June compared to 108,292 for the same month last year.

Areas at Town Creek, route 40, route 40 at Clarysville and route 36 at Lonaconing, all increased but not as big percentages as that shown in Garrett county.

Who's Burning Books?

Folks looking for clues as to why some of the youth of today are "copping out" might be interested in a news item we found, while rummaging around in some old files dated 1962. Now, that's eight years ago, which means that kids starting high school then would just about be coming out of college this year.

The clipping told of a survey that had been made whereby 14 "old" public school history books had been compared with 45 "new" ones.

It turned out that Nathan Hale's famous speech from the gallows, "I have but one life to lose for my country," was in 12 of the 14 earlier books. But it had been censored from all but one of the 45 newer texts.

Then the surveyors looked for Patrick Henry's "Give me liberty or give me death." While it was in 12 of the earlier school history books, it showed up in only one of the newer ones.

And John Paul Jones' most famous words, "I have not yet begun to fight." This altogether shocking declaration by warmonger Jones was in nine of the 14 older books. But in the 45 newer texts? Not a single word was to be found; it had been banished completely from history.

This year, the extremely powerful education lobby all but broke down the doors of our representatives in Washington with their demands for Federal money . . .millions of dollars. This allocation was included in the HEW funds voted by Congress. And that goes on top of billions of taxpayer dollars turned over to "education" over the past few years.

Noting the results, we're beginning to wonder if the Federal Government hadn't better get out of the education business altogether, and just leave the money in the local communities to be handled by the citizenry. Frankly, we have a lot more confidence in our own school board, school officials and PTA folks than we have in the nameless faceless "experts" who have apparently been chopping American heroes out of our history text books.

Dangerous Short Cut . . .

We note the passage of legislation by the Congress of the United States for the 18-year-old vote with some grave reservations. To be sure, several public opinion polls claimed to show that a great majority favored lowering the voting age. But in actual tests at the one place it counts—the ballot box—the record shows that in individual State action, the 18-year-old vote has been rejected. Only two states lowered the voting age: Georgia, in 1943, and Kentucky, in 1955. In Alaska the voting age is (or has been) 19 since that State entered the Union in 1959. In that same year, Hawaii became a member of the Union with an established voting age of 20. Illinois will bring the matter before a Constitutional Convention in November.

Since the peoples of the various states have decided that a maturity of 21 years should be required to vote in state elections and on matters effecting state legislation, by what token are those under 21 qualified to vote in national elections? Should not this matter have been referred back to the states, in the form of a Constitutional Amendment, rather than by legislative action of the Congress? Maybe the people do want the 18-year-old vote now; if they do, should not the people have been given the opportunity to vote on the matter, through ratification of a constitutional amendment by three quarters of the states?

"Power in the People," was a conservative watchword long before the phrase was picked up by knuckleheaded radicals, some of whom, we are convinced, haven't the foggiest notion what the words mean.

The most vital amendments to the Constitution are the ninth and tenth, which declare that "The enumeration in the Constitution of certain rights, shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people," and "The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people." These amendments were adopted by our founding fathers to severely restrict and confine the powers of a national government. Too long have encroachments on the Constitution been going the other way. —U. S. Press Association, Inc.

town property in the Broadford dam area, adjacent to the 96-acre tract owned by Bausch and Lomb. The intake structure will be built on a 25-acre area, more than adequate for operation, Col. Jackson noted.

Two storage tanks are to be built, one for the lens plant, at ground level, and the other for municipal water. The latter tank will be elevated and placed at the highest point in the area on route 135, east of Mt. Lake Park.

Attending the meeting were Robert Melville, Bausch and Lomb vice-president; Richard Edick, B and L engineer; Don Wood, engineer for Swindell and Dressler; Dave Cosgray, chairman of the water and sewage committee for the Mayor and Council of Oakland; and Les Brooks, representing Monongahela Power.

Locations of pipeline rights of way and locations for the storage tanks were established and a discussion held concerning the power requirements and substation guidelines.

Actually two contracts will be let for the facility. One will be for the pipeline and the other for the water plant itself. The plant is is to be fully automated, requiring only two employes to operate it.

Col. Jackson said the pipeline would be installed first to allow the B and L plant to test its water mains and conduct initial training phases. But the purification system must be ready before the lens plant can start on final production. The B and L plant is scheduled to be completed March 1, 1971, but the work is running ahead of schedule and completion is expected before the March date. The contractors, Algernon and Blair, said they expect to have the plant housed under roof by December 1.

Student Voices

I'm Against It!
By Rita Shrout

Our county roads are in despicable condition; the county owned trucks have been sabotaged beyond use; and the strikers are threatening violence. I say we need immediate action!

As a primary concern, our road conditions are not to be deplored; we should resent the inconveniences caused us, and condemn neglect. (In researching one would probably discover an enormous increase of flat tires this summer as compared to last). And what about tourists, our major source of income, who spend money to enjoy Garrett County, only to have to travel on these roads? Perhaps it is relatively simple for us to dodge potholes; we're acquainted with their locations. But someone unfamiliar with the area, someone not realizing that the County Roads Department is not working, could meet with a serious accident. There are no warnings, no notices, no sign; we are just supposed to be alert.

The destruction of county vehicles is indeed inexcusable. We cannot let anyone, for any reason, maliciously tamper with equipment paid for and used for the benefit of county citizens. It's against the law! (And speaking of the law - just one question - where were they?)

Recently the former workers threatened violence. Even the though of violence as a weapon is absurd - public support will not follow it; violence loses votes.

The problem in this battle for and against Union recognition seems to lie in the fact that each side is as stubborn and bullheaded as the other. And what has either side accomplished? The ultimate in disadvantages for the public - when in fact, it was created to serve us? Their unwillingness to cooperate and their total rejection of compromise indicate only one thing to me: neither side is worthy of our support!

ed to go to work, let the air out of its tires, pulled out ignitions wires, etc. There were forty state police in the area and also county authorities. They made no attempt to prevent the bus from being boarded illegally. They prevented a riot, yes, but what did they do to preserve court orders?

During the strike there have been instances of malicious destruction of property, at least one bridge dynamited, driveways of citizens and county highways dynamited, trees felled across the roadways; all violations of the statutes. County machinery has been tamed with, ignition keys taken, gasoline pumps emptied, tires flattened, all for the purpose of forcing union recognition. Threats have been made to citizens who have as much right to disagree with a person as that person has a right to disagree with him. Persons have been forcibly kept from reporting for work. Merchants have been pressured into contributing to the support of the strikers, for fear of retaliation and boycott.

Is law by force to be the pattern of the future? "You do what we want or else?" Just naked power by force of numbers? Is this what we are going to be forced to live with? When law and order break down we are heading for anarchy. Are we on that road? It is the people who will have to decide the path.

Not since pioneer days have citizens had to depend on their own resources so much. But people are resourceful. One farmer this week was known to have filled up potholes in his vicinity with concrete. Perhaps the citizens should organize to see that road repairs are made before winter, and also to see that they are not torn up by vengeful individuals.

It should be a good winter for off the road vehicles and snowmobiles.

NEWS FROM THE Ruth Enlow Library

by Edith Brock

An exhibit of work of some local artists, amateur and professional, is attracting a great deal of attention at the Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland. The exhibit now includes paintings and drawings by Harland Bittinger, Mary Bowman, Bonnie Flanagan, Alice Frederick, Blanche Halsey, Judy Lewis, Paul Miller, Julia Sowko, Aza Stanton and Michael Weeks. Jewelry made by Dorothy Winslow and ceramics by Frances Steyer are also on display. This exhibit will be continued through August.

Show Cause

pickets were on the Oakland parking lot wearing hard hats, armed with sticks and clubs to prevent men employed by the plaintiff from working for the plaintiff; that the entrance to the county roads garages were blocked with vehicles with five to ten pickets at each entrance and fifteen to twenty pickets at the doorway leading to the office of the roads garage and some forty to fifty men standing to the left of county property, some of whom were armed with sticks and clubs; that a union official equipped with a bull horn was agitating the new roads workers so that they were unable to work and that an old bus used by the plaintiff was damaged.

Accompanying the petition were two affidavits made by troopers Bernard J. Chabot, sergeant of the Maryland State police, and Lloyd E. Dunton, trooper first class, criminal investigator for the state police. Their statements corroborate the charges of the commissioners as far as the number of pickets, and how they were armed.

Alva C. Lewis, president of the Western Maryland Central Labor Council said he had learned that a Baltimore attorney was in the process of drawing up a taxpayers' suit against the commissioners, but this had not been filed up to press time.

Mr. Lewis said the suit was being brought by a number of county residents in an attempt to force the commissioners into resuming roads work. No work has been done on county roads since April 7. Newly hired employes attempted to go to work Tuesday of last week but were prevented by union activity.

Winds Over Our World

"It's chinookin' today," said Bill Sargent, a Texan who had transferred his riding and speech to a mountainous Wyoming, so I considered my Eastern translation and derived his meaning from the next remarks. "It's very hot and dry," he meant. The chinook is forced out from under a blanket of cold air and makes such a change in weather that Coloradoans are accustomed to seeing snow disappear almost before their very eyes; this drying pattern has also won it the accolade of "the rancher's wind." The Californian calls it Santa Ana and in the Alps this warming wind is termed a foehn, but in the Golden State they produce blistered fruit and parched vegetation instead of a desired warmth, as they issue from the desert to the east.

So every group of people, fisherman, mountaineers, sailors, and valley farmers seem to have their special winds which prove to be blessings or curses. Where we consider that any wind is produced by the mixture of warmth and cool air, the rotation of the earth, and unequal heating of land and water masses, it is not surprising that men have interpreted their winds through experience, wisdom without books. Not without a wind factor was Washington County once the greatest apple county in our nation, considering size. As you drive by Hancock, notice that orchards are planted midway between ridge tops and the lowest points. This is necessary because during the day, when warm air is pushing upward along the groves, with heat from the sun, trees rejoice, and by night, the currents are reversed. Cool air is descending the slopes, but it will not be actually cold midway, for pockets of cold stay in lower elevations.

The monsoons of Asia are perhaps better known over the world because they so radically affect planting, migration, and even war strategy. But most persons read of the wet monsoon, which is caused by summer winds blowing to Asia's warm interior land mass from the China Sea and Indian Ocean, and the very heavy rainfall ensuing. There is also a dry monsoon, composed of cold winter winds issuing from Siberia to the coast. They become warmer over India and China, thus absorbing moisture in the reverse of the other monsoon.

The ancients of Greece and Rome believed in origins of natural phenomena from supernatural beings, hence the tale of the sirocco, or hot, dusty Mediterranean wind coming from the Sahara Desert. In a myth it is explained how Zeus, the chief god was defied by Typhon, another celestial being. The punishment was that Typhon found coming from his form a hundred dragon-heads and many snakes, all of which made terrible screams and roarings, and that he was banished to Tartarus, the underworld. However, like Satan of Christianity, he now exposes his influence on earth by breathing siroccos to scorch trees and men.

Some of our picturesque language is derived from the winds of the world. If you speak of having the doldrums when you are bored, you are using the name of the winds that center about the equatorial regions of the earth, since this part of the globe continually receives concentrated sunshine. Its warm and light air has upward current and little wind, so that sailors who were detained there became quite calmed and and named these areas doldrums after an old word meaning "dull." A similarly incouguous term is "horse latitudes." They are two belts of winds next to the trade winds on the north and south. Stories say that old traders' ships, laden with horses for exchange, had to unload part of this cargo because of calm skies due to movement of wind in an up and down limited space pattern. Another version tells that loaded horses often died here because lack of wind deterred the ships from sailing on.

Does Garrett County have a bora? Well I supose not, although part of the topography lends itself to the development of such a wind. On the northern Adriatic Sea this winter wind blows down toward the sea because the highland air is so much cooler than the waters near it, being made frigid by a plateau or mountains that are snowy. You might say that we have the broad upland, or plateau but, only Deep Creek Lake is present to cause any differential in heating and cooling in our winter. At any rate, there probably are natives who feel that the winds rival the world's fiercest ones as they near late January, but perhaps many feel that this is what is so invigorating about our country as glorious spring comes to bathe the high places with wafting scents. Whence else came the fame of Mountain Lake Park, if not partly in wind and air? So let us keep our breezes, and perhaps some other creative spirit like Lew Wallace wil value them enough to give will value them enough to give us a new Ben Hur.

—Tamarack.

Progressive Farmer Editors Visit Here

The Progressive Farmer, one of America's farm publications, has been carrying articles on some of the unique operations of Garrett County's outstanding farmers for the past ten years.

Among the farmers who were written up over the past several years by J. Marshall Porter of Cumberland, were Harvey Brothers, potato growers; Wayne Hamilton and Baity Ridder's snap bean growing projects; Alva Maust's egg marketing enterprise; The Free State Peat Bog operation; just to mention a few.

Reading about the area aroused the interest of Editor-in Chief Eugene Butler of Dallas, Texas, and Hal Johnson of Raleigh, N. C., Editor of Maryland, Virginia and Delaware edition of Progressive Farmer, who spent Wednesday, July 29, touring what they termed "The magnificent countryside" of Garrett County.

The tour, according to Mr. Porter, included a visit to the home of Albert U. Yoder of Grantsville. Contact with an Amish farmer was an entirely new experience for both men. They had never before visited an Amish community, and they were impressed by the evidence of good management of the farms and the hospitality of the people.

After lunch at Penn Alps they visited the home of Harley and Joyce Brenneman at Bittinger. An early issue of Progressive Farmer will carry a story of Brenneman's Mountain View Farm Vacations.

Both editors were fascinated by the rustic rail fences and the huge maple trees of the Brenneman Brothers' sugar bush. The next stop was a visit to the Free State Peat bog where the owners showed them around and explained the details of peat mining.

The next stop was the Double G. riding stable and farm owned and operated by Gerald and Helen Glotfelty, another Garrett County farm that offers several different kinds of recreation of which Progressive Farmer will carry a story in the near future.

They received a hearty welcome at all the farms visited, and one of the Editors remarked that "The South has no monopoly on hospitality. We found it in abundance in Garrett County."

The tour of the County took them around Deep Creek Lake on Rt. 219 as the sun was casting golden shafts across the wind riffled, blue-green water. They returned to Cumberland by way of North Glade and Swanton.

Both Mr. Butler and Mr. Johnson had high praises for the good crops and well managed farms they found in Garrett County, and said they hoped to return again.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Randall Eugene Lowdermilk, August 14, 1957.

Each time we think of all the things
That you have always done,
The good things that have helped to make
Our life a happier one.

How much you meant to all of us
How much we miss your smiling face.
But you have left us to remember
None on earth can take your place.

Some Hun, But More Rain Falls

There was more sunshine on the Mt. Top these past few days, but much of the old story remained...rain!

Thursday afternoon was mostly cloudy and more humid with a reading of 70 degrees. A low of 57 degrees was noted Friday morning with some fog. It remained hazy and humid with a late afternoon rain shower and a reading of 76 degrees at 4:30. Saturday was much the same as Friday except that the rain shower came in the late evening.

Sunday was cloudy with intermittent rain. It was cool all day with the temperature in the 60's. A more or less light rain started to fall about 7 o'clock and continued into Monday morning. Somebody will probably get for your money.

Why not you?

Very little money sits around at low yields today. Eventually it finds its way . . . perhaps at second or third hand . . . into money markets where it can demand high returns.

Today we know an AAA- rated corporate bond priced to yield over 8.65%. And a fine preferred issue priced to yield over 9%. And still other bonds yielding over 10%.

This is the kind of return that sophisticated money is demanding and getting these days. Why not you?

The April Agony That Never Ends

Tax-reckoning days are here for millions of Americans who must file income tax returns. The prospect of wrestling with tax instructions, forms, receipts and one's mathematical shortcomings is a distasteful one. The April Agony.

The income tax, which began 55 years ago as a rat.er simple calculation with a 1 per cent levy on the well-to-do and wealthy, now is a legalistic monstrosity affecting even those with "poverty" incomes.

Senator George Murphy of California sympathizes with those baffled by exemptions and deductions: "There are so many," he said, "and it is so confusing that I am afraid the poor, general citizen has no knowledge of them and needs an accountant, a lawyer and a specialist to tell him what his rights are. I do not know, and I consider myself a normal citizen. I have been around half a century. The longer I stay, the more complicated and confusing it all becomes."

Fortunately, tax calculation time comes but once a year for most wage-earners. After filing Form 1040, the employee has 12 months to recover his sanity.

But the employers, the owners and operators of businesses, are not so fortunate, being loaded down with tax-reporting, tax-paying and information required on a monthly, weekly and sometimes daily basis. Besides collecting taxes for Uncle Sam, the state and perhaps local governments, the businessman must also cope with information forms from Federal and state agencies.

There is a rebellious feeling among the nation's independent business owners, who do accounting and tax collecting for the government.

Comments a Kansas retailer: ". . . Would like to see a collection fee established for all retailers who collect state sales tax and also state and Federal income tax. This costs a retailer hundreds of dollars every year to collect, then if he doesn't get it to the government on time, he is penalized."

At least one state realizes this imposition. Massachusetts returns three-fourths of one per cent of the sales tax to the merchants who collect it.

How the increasing paperwork and tax requirement on business can prove an economic waste is illustrated by this comment from a manufacturers sales representative in Virginia, who employs nine people: "We must hire a tax consultant and lawyer to withstand the ravages of the taxing structure.

"Additionally, we must have on our payroll one person who fills in all governmental inquiry forms and completes tax forms. These activities detract from the major sales effort of top management. It would be extremely helpful to us to be allowed to sell at maximum efficiency and thus pay more taxes in the long run."

Area Man Killed

A Meyersdale area man was fatally injured Saturday when the car he was driving careened out of control on U. S. route 219, two miles south of Meyersdale, struck a mail box and tree along the roadway.

He was Ralph J. Fazenbaker, 24, route 3, Meyersdale and was alone and traveling south at the time. State Police said he was apparently driving at a high rate of speed.

The young man was dead on arrival at Meyersdale Community hospital with a broken neck, fractured skull, shock and internal injuries.

Mr. Fazenbaker was born at Oakland, a son of Mrs. Mamie Wilt Fazenbaker, Addison Pa., and the late George J. Fazenbaker.

Also surviving are his widow, Doretta Hetz Fazenbaker; a son Ralph Jr., at home; three brothers, Melvin and Dale, both Addison; Larry Fazenbaker, Baltimore; three sisters, Mrs. Joan Maust, Salisbury, Pa.; Mrs. Mary Suter, Friendsville; Mrs. Betty Beitzel, of Ohio.

The body was taken to the Konhaus funeral home in Meyersdale where funeral services were conducted Monday at 2 o'clock by Rev. James Hoffmyer. Burial was in Union cemetery.

Defense cutback would mean a million less jobs next year.

KNOW YOUR ENEMY!

SHOULD YOU "TURN ON," "TUNE IN" OR "DROP OUT"?

There are dangerous effects from the Hallucinogenic drugs that unscrupulous "pushers" are illegally selling. The users experience distortion of sensory perception, with a lessened ability to distinguish between fact and fantasy.

The mental effects are not predictable. They may include illusions, panic, anti-social behavior, and impulses to violence and self destruction.

The Hallucinogenic drugs sold illegally come from secret laboratories with no controls for purity. There are no standards for comparison. Unfortunately, in this troubled world, the experimenters and dissenters consider it smart to use them.

The next of these Public Service messages will discuss LSD. It is so powerful that one speck can cause hallucinations for over eight hours.

Motor Accident Types Are Varied

Various types of motor vehicle accidents occurred in the last two weeks, with some involving injury and heavy vehicle damage. Information is according to records in the office of the Maryland State Police, Oakland.

In an accident August 8, at 7 p.m. on U. S. route 219 near Red House, Elwood E. Sweitzer, Oakland, was northbound on route 219 at an apparent high rate of speed. He lost control of his car, crossed the roadway, went over a slight embankment onto the private drive of Robert W. Brinegar, where he struck one parked car and pushed that one into a third parked car. Sweitzer was taken to the Garrett County Memorial hospital in the Durst ambulance. His car, as well as the first one struck, were considered a total loss and damage to the third was $600. Sweitzer was charged with failure to keep to right side of highway by Tfc. Dale K. Williams.

In an accident Sunday, August 2, at 11 a.m., Charles L. Bradley, Sterling, Va., was traveling east on U. S. route 40 when a car driven by John D. Meyers, Arlington, Va., traveling west was making a left turn onto U. S. route 219. This caused a car driven by Patsy L. Hockenberry, Sharpsburg, to strike the rear of the Meyers car, then cross the center line and strike the front of the Bradley car. Nona I. Hockenberry was taken to the Meyersdale Community hospital by the Newman ambulance. Damage to the Hockenberry car was $1100 and the other two was $400 each.

A tractor-trailer operated by James L. Bauer, Keyser, W. Va., August 6, was going west on St. route 135 above Bloomington when he was passed by a green Chevrolet pick-up going east and struck the trailer in doing so. There were no injuries and only slight vehicle damage. Charges are pending. Tfc. Dale K. Williams investigated.

In a one car accident Tuesday, August 4, at 10:40 p.m., James P. Rook, Oakland, was traveling east on Mayhew Inn road when he stated that he lost control of his car. He swerved to the right and struck two large rocks on the shoulder of the roadway. His wife, and daughter, Diane, were injured and taken to the Garrett County Memorial hospital by a passerby. Car damage was placed at $700. No charges were made by Tfc. Dale K. Williams.

An accident in which six persons were injured occurred at Eighth and High Sts., Oakland, Sunday, August 2. Willard G. Zaruba, Linthicum Heights, traveling south on Eighth St. failed to stop at a stop sign and pulled into the path of a car driven by Gary W. White, Deer Park, going east on High street. Zaruba and his four passengers, Ludmila and Thomas Hyde, and Karen and Susan Zaruba of the Baltimore area, and Gary White were all injured and taken to the Garrett County Memorial hospital by the Durst ambulance. Damage to each car was $500. Zaruba was charged by Tfc. Robert D. Lashley with failing to obey a stop sign.

Russell W. Hoover, Friendsville, was driving south on U. S. route 219 south of Keyser Ridge Saturday, July 25, at 6 p.m., at an apparent high rate of speed. He failed to negotiate a curve, lost control of his car, crossed the road, then swerved back to the other side, ran into an embankment and overturned. He was slightly injured and the damage to his car was $800. He was charged by Tfc. Daniel E. Tharp of failing to keep to right of center of roadway.

Earl Shea, Pittsburgh, was traveling east on U. S. route 40 near the Green Lantern, July 17, at 7:45 p.m., and had to stop back of a slow-moving truck. A car driven by David Curtice, Bonnavon, Pa., approached and failing to stop, struck the Shea car in the rear. Crites was slightly injured and car damage was light in both cases. Tfc. Daniel E. Tharp charged Crites with failing to reduce speed.

On Tuesday, July 28, at 7 p.m., James L. Kuhn, Mt. Storm, W. Va., side swiped a parked car of Harold F. Stewart in Kitzmiller. Car damages were light and there were no injuries.

On Friday, July 31, at 12:20 p.m., Mary Ellen Deal, Accident, when traveling south on U. S. route 219 near McHenry, collided with the rear wheel of a tractor-trailer driven by Charles H Townsend, Brooklyn. There was only slight car damage and no injuries. Tfc. Stephen M. Offer Made Again To Mediate Strike

Federal mediation and conciliation services have again been made available to the County Commissioners and striking county roads workers.

Robert W. Donnahoo, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service office in Philadelphia, sent a telegram to the three county commissioners, also to Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill and Alva C. Lewis, president of the Western Maryland Central Labor council, offering the opportunity for a mediated meeting. Joseph Biondo, of Pittsburgh, has been assigned for the dispute.

At a meeting last Thursday morning the commissioners decided to avoid a confrontation in court with the union road employes. Miller Bowen, acting county attorney, said he had prepared a petition and obtained a statement from the State Police for presentation to the Garrett County Commissioners.

The commissioners, however, decided not to seek a contempt of court citation against the workers' union, the American Federation of State County and Municipal employes.

Slide Talk Is Set For Local Library

"Garrett County Through the Year" will be the title of a slide talk by Miss Alverta Dillon at the Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland on Monday evening, August 17 at 7:30 P. M.

Miss Dillon, who grew up in the Cove area near Accident, has returned there to live with her sister since her retirement two years ago from teaching. She taught for several years in Oakland and spent the remainder of her teaching career in Washington, D. C.

Miss Dillon, who is a graduate of Western Maryland College, has a master's degree in biology from Columbia University and has done additional graduate work at Cornell University, Catholic University of America, and the University of Colorado. She has held several fellowships. She is especially interested in conservation and will stress that theme in her program.

Alabama's Democratic Executive Committee passed a rule that prohibits George Wallace from running for president in that state in 1972.

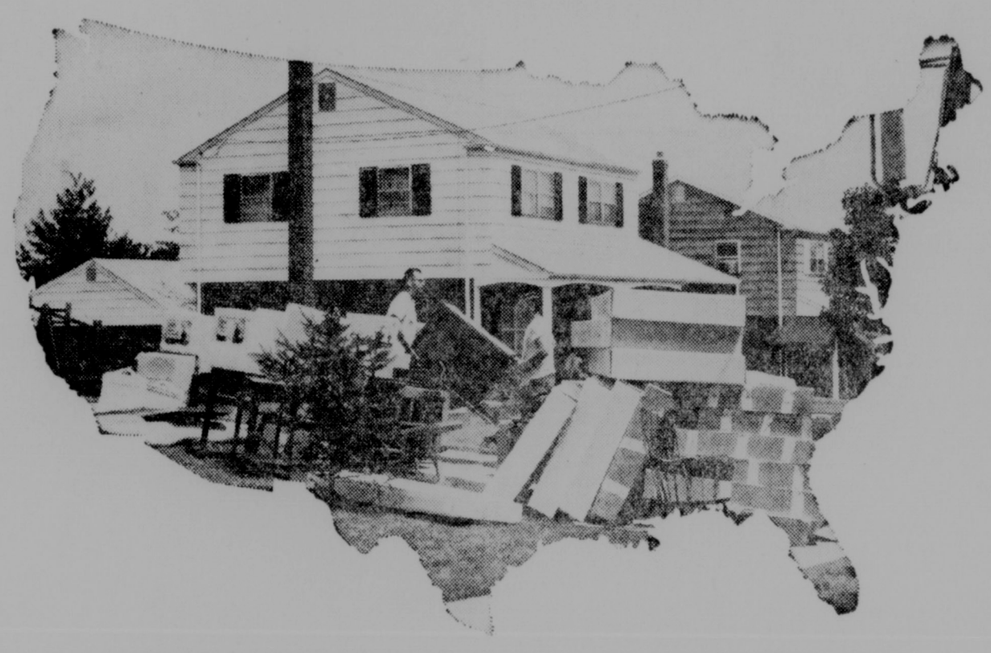
WHEREVER WE LIVE



Harold assured Davie and Tommy that moving day did not mean the end of life for us. In fact we were not going to the end of the earth. Many people would still be around us. Of course, not our same favorite people . . . whom we will keep on loving even though we don't see them . . . but new friends who would find places in our lives.

And that's the way it happened.

Our new neighbors opened their hearts to us. Our boys brought school friends home with them to play and sometimes to eat dinner.

Best of all, our family found a new church home — among people who welcomed us because they loved God. Anywhere we go in our country, there is always a church where we can worship with other people.

You, too, can find one wherever you move — and right where you are now.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
International Uniform Sunday School Lessons
BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

DEADLY PRIDE

Lesson for August 16, 1970

Background Scripture: Genesis 11:1-9; Psalms 10:4; Luke 12:13-21. Devotional Reading: Isaiah 14:3-15.

Several of the summers when I was a college student I earned part of my next year's expenses with a pick and shovel as a construction laborer. It was in one of these summers that I witnessed an unusual example of labor-management co-operation.

Rev. Althouse

We were engaged in building a munitions plant for the federal government. Because we were on a "cost-plus" contract (actual cost of construction plus a fixed percentage of profit for the contractor), both the labor unions and the construction companies' management co-operated to defraud the government. This was one of those rare occasions when both parties realized that in order to get the most money out of the project, they would have to work in the closest collaboration. I have never before or since witnessed such close co-operation between these two parties.

"A name for ourselves"

It is this same kind of co-operation that we see indicated in the story of the Tower of Babel. There is a high degree of co-operation here, but the motive behind that co-operation is not very commendable. In this case, however, the motive is not one of cheating a third party, at least not in the strict sense of that word. The driving force behind this unusual co-operation is naked pride: "Come, let us build ourselves a city, and a tower with its top in the heavens, and let us make a name for ourselves . . ." (Gen. 11:4).

The "tower" to which they refer was probably much on the order of the ziggurats which were used as Babylonian temples. These ziggurats were huge and pyramidal, often rising in seven terraces, the last of these topped by a shrine which was regarded as the entrance to heaven. To ascend the tower and its seven terraces was regarded as an approach to the gods and their heaven.

Killed by pride

The tower of Babel, then, seems a proud attempt to reach heaven and perhaps become the equals of the gods. This is not the first story in Genesis that deals with the destructiveness of human pride. It was this same desire to be equal with God that led Adam and Eve to pick and eat the "forbidden fruit." So, too, the men of Babel wanted to be like gods, to rise above their status as men.

How many of the world's problems are caused and perpetuated by our tendency to forget that we are men, not gods? God wants us to be agressive, enterprising, and ambitious, but he also knows what happens to men when they forget who they are as God's creatures.

Recently a prominent captain of industry shocked the community by committing suicide. Though in ill health, the man was not in danger so long as he curtailed his activities. But it was this curtailment that caused him to lose the desire to live. He was an extremely proud man, particularly of his health and athlectic abilities. Though his body would have carried him to a much longer life, his pride could not withstand the hurt. He simply could not accept his new limitations. He was killed by his own pride.

To be fully human

The proud man arrogantly prides himself on his self-sufficiency. He doesn't need any one else, he thinks. He relies solely on himself and his powers and abilities. Yet, there may come a day when the proud man may lose some of his powers and then discover that he very much needs both God and other people.

So pride is a very divisive force. It separates men from their fellowmen, making the world a Babel of confusion. Worst of all, it separates men from their God and keeps them from achieving the full humanity for which he creates us.

No man ever need strive to be equal with God. To be fully human is quite enough.

Every week the government issues a list of products that they would like taken off the market either temporarily or permanently. We have found that the majority of the drugs or this recall list are made by lesser known manufacturers whose products are not usually stocked by the pharmacists.

When one of the larger well-known companies is listed it is usually at their own request and because they have found something in their extensive testing laboratories. The public is being protected by strict supervision of the medicines that can be dispensed, so you can have confidence in what your doctor prescribes and your pharmacist dispenses.

SENSING THE NEWS

By Thurman Sensing

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Southern States Industrial Council

Education is supposed to result in prudence, enlightenment and fairness, but you would never know it judging from the recent statement of George D. Fischer, president of the National Education Association.

In an extraordinary and shocking statement, Mr. Fischer told the 108th NEA convention in San Francisco that he hopes to win enactment of a federal law requiring school districts to negotiate with the teachers. Strikes would be legalized. Then, Mr. Fischer said, the teachers' organization will control who enters and leaves the profession and, "We can also control the training institutions."

Such remarks make one wonder what really happened to belief in education during the NEA's growth. The philosophy of contempt for the rights of the public and of teachers who don't want to join a union.

Ironcally, it is philosophy that's making increasing numbers of Americans disenchanted with public schools. Mr. Fischer claimed there is "a conspiracy" against education, but the NEA seems to be only conspirator in sight. It is conspiring to turn the schools into a captive of what is in effect a teachers' union. He condemned private schools and private businesses that offer to teach reading in public schools on contracts and that promise to raise pupil achievement to specific levels.

The fact is that numerous parents across the nation are seeking alternatives to the public schools because many of these schools aren't performing adequately. In private and church-connected schools, by business. The parents are voting with their dollars in favor of alternatives to the kind of public education offered in many communities these days.

In the view of many parents, public education shouldn't constitute an educational monopoly. If competition is good in business and in the professions, it should be good in the educational field. Indeed private colleges always have helped raise standards in the nation's public institutions of higher learning. The same situation should develop at the elementary and high school level.

Private and church-supported schools are doing the pioneering in education these days. They are demonstrating, as in the case of private schools established in Mississippi in the last two years, that construction costs can be reduced far below the cost level for public systems.

Mr. Fischer of the NEA complains that the Nixon administration has cut federal funds on the grounds "education is inflationary." Actually, the administration hasn't gone far enough. The educationists, as represented by the NEA, hold that public spending on education produces quality education. But the evidence doesn't support this contention.

Lavishing public money on expensive classrooms and audio-visual aids doesn't do any good if the course content is not soundly conceived and if methods of training reading are ineffective. In private and church-supported schools, there is greater opportunity to institute educational reformes that stress standards of achievement. Many public systems, unfortunately are committed to passing students, irrespective of their level of achievement. For the educationists, public schooling is basically a social experience and mastering of subject matter is not regarded as being of central importance.

Many parents believe so strongly in private and church-connected schools that they are paying twice for the education of their children—paying in tuition and in taxes for the public system in their community.

Public education in the United States clearly is in need of a drastic overhaul, for it is losing the confidence of the public. The last straw for public education would be its infiltration by the union spirit as reflected in Mr. Fischer's remarks to the NEA convention. If the NEA believes it can turn the public schools into a closed shop, it isn't accurately gauging the mood of parents of school children. The last thing parents and taxpayers want is teacher strikes. Teachers who go on strike against education of the nation's young people have no place in the classroom.

Hiroshima: 25 Years Later

The President of the United States is news. Reporters and photographers accompany him on all of his travels and, when the President occasionally slips away from the press, it becomes a front page story. So, it was no surprise that President Nixon's recent Los Angeles press conference, the first formal Presidential news conference ever held on the West Coast, appeared on front pages of daily newspapers. But more important than the unique location of the news conference was the President s response to a question as to whether the United States could be victorious in a war with Russia.

President Nixon replied: "If there is a war between the Soviet Union and the United States, there will be no winners. There will be only losers. The Soviet Union knows this and we know that . . ." The President then went on to discuss the need to halt the arm's race before such a tragic confrontation occurs.

To me, the President's response was courageous because, the President is the Commander-in-Chief of the most powerful armed forces in existence and in this role it would be his responsibility to attempt to provide the defense against a nuclear attack. But he said again at his news conference, as he has said on previous occasions, that there is no defense against an all out nuclear attack on a modern city and he has said very correctly and very pointedly that there can be no victory in such an exchange.

These comments are very timely because they come on the 25th anniversary of the dropping of atomic bombs on the Japanese cities of Hiroshima and Nagasaki in 1945. At that time, I was a member of the United States Navy, serving on a ship in the Southwest Pacific. My ship had been assigned to be part of the force which was scheduled to invade the island empire of Japan. But in the events which took place following the dropping of the atom bomb and the surrender of Japan, that force instead became part of the armada which was sent to occupy the islands of Japan. As a result of this sequence of events, it was my opportunity to visit both Hiroshima and Nagasaki less than a month after those first bombs unleashed their atomic fury on the Japanese. I would like to describe those sites to you because they are sort of a personal reminiscence of what destruction happens when an atomic bomb explodes.

Where there had once been giant industrial plants, great factories built of steel, the blast had twisted and blown the girders and the steel members so that they looked like a field of wheat blowing in the wind. I recall seeing what looked like a piece of tiny black glass lying on the ground but when I picked it up I saw that it had been several glass tumblers which had been on a shelf in someone's home, and which the heat of the blast from the bomb had melted and fused together. They were black and were just barely recognizable. I also saw the bicycles and tricycles left by children in the streets. The bikes were grotesquely twisted. Buildings, of course, were nonexistent. Windows miles from the center of the blast were shattered and practically no one in the blast center survived. Even today the casualty estimates vary from 60,000 to 200,000 killed. That was the scene at the site of the first atomic blast a quarter of a century ago. I hope and pray that men are wise enough to guarantee to the world that such a scene will never be repeated.

We'd like to thank the makers of the other new economy cars for giving us such a nice head start.

It gave us time to develop an inspection system so ridiculously scrupulous that it expects every VW to pass 16,000 examinations.

It allowed us to find out (at a reasonably scientific pace) how we could double our horsepower without doubling the cost of your horsepower. (The VW still gets about 26 miles to the gallon and requests only a smidgen of oil.)

It permitted us to work on things that didn't even have to do with the actual making of the car. Medi-car, the Volkswagen Diagnosis System, for example. Electronic equipment that can spot trouble in a car before it gets to be trouble. When you buy a new VW, you get 4 free Medi-car checkups.

Of course, it took great fortitude to resist squandering our time on phony styling improvements.

The beetle looks just as good (or bad) as it did 25 years ago.

Congressman, 6th District, Maryland

It is apparent from many communications I have received from citizens of Maryland in recent months that the quality of our environment is increasingly becoming a matter of widespread and highly warranted concern. Environmental degradation has already reached crisis proportions in many areas of our country and promises to become even worse. For example, along the eastern seaboard we have just experienced the kind of air pollution which we can expect when we do not receive an assist from Mother Nature in the form of favorable winds.

In view of this alarming situation, it is imperative that the Legislative Branch of our government aggressively pursue both immediate and long range answers to the problems of environmental deterioration. Congress must move to fight pollution on two fronts.

First, we must pass laws which deal strongly with environmental problems which threaten us now. For example, we must give the appropriate regulatory agencies at all levels of government the authority they need to take effective action in cleaning up already polluted air and waters.

Secondly, we must develop through legislation a long-range educational approach aimed at improving fundamental knowledge of and attitudes about our environment. The environmental crisis has progressed to the point it has largely because of a general lack of appreciation for our total relationship with our surroundings. With productivity as our supreme national purpose, we have blindly exploited our natural resources; unmindful of the hard reality that they are indeed limited in supply. Obviously, a restructuring of attitudes is needed, and education would seem to be the logical answer.

Therefore, I am pleased to report that last week the House of Representatives overwhelmingly endorsed, by a vote of 288 to 28, legislation which embodies this long range educational approach to the environmental crisis. Called the Environmental Education Act, the bill is designed to establish educational programs to encourage an understanding of our environment and to stimulate widespread participation in efforts to enhance its quality.

It is important to understand just what is meant by the term "environmental education" for it takes in much more than such concepts as conservation and pollution control. As defined in the bill, environmental education is "the educational process dealing with man's relationship to his natural and man-made surroundings, and includes the relation of population, pollution, resource allocation and depletion, conservation, technology, and urban and rural planning to the total human environment."

Thus environmental education programs will draw on a wide variety of sources—the natural sciences, the social sciences, and the humanities—in order to develop the necessary comprehensive approach. Under the bill, new courses in environmental studies will be developed and disseminated for use at preschool, elementary, secondary, college and adult education levels.

The Environmental Education Act also contains a number of provisions to ensure that environmental education extends beyond the formal classroom setting and reaches all segments of the community. For example, public service personnel, community, business and professional leaders, and government employees at local State and Federal levels would receive special training in environmental studies under the bill.

Programs and materials for use by the mass media would be developed on the subjects of environment and ecology, and these, of course, would reach into virtually every home in America. Moreover, the legislation would authorize funds for the planning of outdoor community ecology centers and small grants—up to $10,000 annually—to volunteer citizens' groups for conducting environmental training programs.

The provisions of the Environmental Education Act would be administered by the U. S. Office of Education under the supervision of the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare. I am particularly pleased that the bill would ensure a well-coordinated effort by authorizing the Secretary to utilize the services and facilities of any other agency of the Federal Government for the environmental education program.

In the long run, the solution to many of America's problems lies in education. I firmly believe that the embodiment of this time-tested approach in the Environmental Education Act will bring about long overdue changes in our attitudes about our natural surroundings, and lead ultimately to the elimination of environmental degradation.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Resents Union Activity

Editor; The Republican.

After reading the reports in last week's issue of this paper concerning the unlawful attack by strong-arm, out side union hirelings upon our county bus that was to transport county roads employees to their work, I feel so incensed that I cannot refrain from writing this letter. As I understand it, there were several dozen state police officers, and our sheriff present when this unlawful distruction of property took place, and neither our sheriff nor any of the state police made any effort to stop the union goons from destroying the bus. It is hard to believe that such dereliction of duty could take place in broad daylight and before so many law abiding citizens. Here was a group of officers, sworn to protect the life and property of our citizens in their lawful endeavors, and, yet, according to all reports, they did nothing. The perpetrators were not arrested, nor were any charges lodged against them. This leaves one stunned with a shocking realization of the predicament in which the good people of this county find themselves.

Does this mean that union hirelings from elsewhere can feel free to come up here and commit rape against our property and people without being punished?. Are the state police and sheriff under orders from above to look the other way when a crime is being committed by the union? The people of this county have a right to some kind of explanation from the head of our state police, and our sheriff should be told to do his duty or face impeachment proceedings. The lives of some of our public officials have been threatened, and when Sheriff Frantz was asked by two of these threatened officials for protection it was refused. Dynamite explosions have been set off in front of the homes of Commissioners Sines and Friend. County bridges have been destroyed, roads have been damaged by dynamite or other explosions. Citizens have been threatened with certain death by shooting if they attempt to join in any movement to repair the damages that have been done. Yet the armed goons from out side the county have been permitted to come up here, armed with weapons, which the police could plainly see and no attempt was made to disarm them.

We can no longer remain quiet while hirelings from outside come into our county to incite our people to violence. They have nothing, ABSOLUTELY NOTHING, to offer but more destruction, more violence, more conflict and division, which could result in the worst kind of tragedy for all of us.

We need to tell the Governor and the press, and the radio broadcasters that this county is bigger than any group of trouble makers. We cannot be deceived for one moment in believing that by having our County Commissioners sign a contract with the union we will achieve law and order, except, perhaps for a short period. Once we sign an agreement to recognize the powerful union as the bargaining agent for our workers, then we will indeed be in for more strikes, more demands, more invasions from outside by strong arm goons. And we will be paying the bills in higher taxes and property damage for the balance of our lives.

and
Respondents
: : : :
No. 5884 Equity

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to determine the proper person or persons entitled to payment of life insurance proceeds under certain group insurance coverage upon the life of Charles W. Hamm, late of Garrett County, Maryland, deceased. The Bill of Interpleader filed in these proceedings shows that the said Charles W. Hamm, deceased, died as a result of an automobile accident near Pruntytown, West Virginia, on August 20, 1966; that he was at that time employed by Buffalo Coal Company and had certain coverage under Group Policy No. G-690-016 with The Travelers Insurance Company, being employed at Buffalo Deep Mine No. 1 in Garrett County, Maryland, and maintained his residence at Mountain Lake Park, Garrett County, Maryland; that the person designated as beneficiary under said policy was Betty L. Hamm, listed as his wife, with whom he resided at Mountain Lake Park, Maryland, also fatally injured in the aforesaid automobile accident on August 20, 1966; that the said Betty L. Hamm was survived by a minor daughter, Sue Ann Keener, an Infant, now residing near Winchester, Virginia, with her father, Franklin D. Keener, who may also have an interest either individually or as guardian of his said daughter in the proceeds of said insurance coverage; that the said Insurer has also received a claim to the proceeds of said insurance from Fred T. Hamm, father of the aforesaid decedent, reported to have been appointed as Administrator of the Estate of the said Charles W. Hamm, deceased, in the Court of Common Pleas of Allegheny County, Pennsylvania, said claims being based on the assertion that both Charles W. Hamm and the said designated beneficiary, Betty L. Hamm, died at the same time and that under the simultaneous Death Act of the State of West Virginia, the man would be presumed to have survived, and on the further allegation that said Charles L. Hamm was not, in fact, married to Betty L. Hamm, designated at his wife and beneficiary; and that The Travelers Insurance Company is entitled to a Judicial determination of the person or persons entitled to payment of the aforesaid insurance proceeds.

It is, therefore, this 16th day of July, 1970, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, ORDERED that the Complainant in the aforesaid Bill of Interpleader shall cause a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once in each of four successive weeks before the 14th day of August, 1970, giving notice to the no-resident Respondents of the object and substance of the Bill of Interpleader filed herein and warning them to be and appear before this Court, in person or by solicitor, on or before the 16th day of September, 1970, to show cause, if any they have, why interpleader should not be allowed in the aforegoing clause, and requiring them to interplead herein with respect to their several claims or interests in the proceeds of the aforesaid group life insurance policy.

No. 42, folio 550, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland; the second from Park Improvement Company of Garrett County, Maryland, dated March 23, 1903, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T. No. 44, folio 353, one of the said Land Records, and the third from Mountain Lake Park Association dated December 2, 1904, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T. No. 47, folio 581;

That the said Martha Dent Watson departed this life testate during the year 1905, a resident of Fairmont, Marion County, West Virginia. By the terms of her Last Will and Testament she attempted to devise the above described real estate in the following terms: "I give my Mountain Lake Park property to Louise Waters but in case she dies without issue to go to the heirs of my 3 brothers, Thomas, William and Joseph and the heirs of my sister, Frances Moderwell." That the said Last Will and Testament of Martha Dent Watson was never recorded among the Records of the Orphans' Court for Garrett County, Maryland, nor were any letters of administration granted by said Orphans' Court on the Estate of Martha Dent Watson;

That the said Louise Waters lived in a dwelling located on the said real estate from 1905 until her death on January 29, 1970. The said Louise Waters departed this life testate on the date aforesaid and by the terms of her last Will and Testament, recorded in Wills Liber H, Folio 471, one of the Wills Records of Garrett County, Maryland, she bequeathed and devised all her property and estate to three nieces, to-wit: Leora Wade, Madge Arnett and Freda Yost, who is now Freda Yost Starn. She appointed The First National Bank of Oakland as Executor of said Last Will and Testament and directed the said Executor to sell at either public or private sale all real estate and tangible personal property that she may own at the time of her death, except personal property specifically bequeathed and to pay the proceeds arising therefrom, after the payment of her debts and funeral expenses, to the three nieces, as aforesaid;

That it is the opinion of The First National Bank of Oakland that the said Louise Waters acquired title to said real estate by open, notorious and adverse use of same since 1905, until her death in 1970.

Since the death of the said Louise Waters, The First National Bank of Oakland, through its Trust Officer, has been in constructive and peaceable possession of said real estate.

That The First National Bank of Oakland has a duty as Executor of the Estate of the said Louise Waters to sell said real estate under the power of sale granted to it under her Will. That The First National Bank of Oakland has been advised by legal counsel that in the event of a public sale of said real estate the purchaser probably will not accept title.

That said real estate has been appraised for THREE THOUSAND DOLLARS ($3000.00);

That there is no action at law, ror any proceeding in Equity pending to enforce or test the validity of the title to said real estate;

That the probable contentions of prospective buyers of said real estate are without merit and constitute a cloud upon the title to said real estate.

It is thereupon ORDERED this 27th day of July, 1970, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, that the plaintiff by having a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks before the 21st day of August, 1970, giving notice to the unknown heirs, devisees and personal representatives of Thomas Watson, William Watson, Joseph Watson and Frances Moderwell, of the object and substance of the Bill of Complaint and warning them to be and appear in this Court either in person or by an attorney, on or before the 21st day of September, 1970, to show cause, if any they may have, why a Decree should not be passed as prayed.

COLLEGE PROJECT PROGRESSING—The new junior college now being built at McHenry, in the Deep Creek Lake area, has been under construction for several weeks and now looks like the above. The huge crane in center is hoisting steel beams into place. Scheduled to be opened for classes in 1971, the college is costing $1,194,900 and is being constructed by William A. Shirer, contractor, Oakland. Progress also is noted in interviews leading to the selection of a college president. These interviews have been going on in the office of the Board of Education, serving as a board of trustees for the college, for several weeks. Many of those interviewed appear to be well qualified.

Governor Aspirant Visits County Area

C. Stanley Blair, Republican candidate for governor, was in Garrett county last Thursday, meeting with citizens and Republican leaders.

He met with J. Edward Tasker and other members of the Republican State Central committee. He was accompanied by his aides. On the same state ticket with Blair are Thomas M. Anderson, Jr., for Attorney General; Herbert J. Miller, for Lieutenant Governor; and Howard F. Weidey, for Comptroller.

Mr. Blair, a Harford county attorney, after visiting various areas, flew from McHenry to Friendship airport.

Mr. Blair was top staff aide in the Agnew administration at Annapolis for two years. After the Nixon-Agnew victory Blair went with the vice-president to Washington in January, 1969, and served as his chief of staff until he resigned June 1 to enter the Maryland governor race.

He served in the U.S. Maritime service in 1945, serving for three years. He received a Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Maryland in 1951 and his law degree in 1953.

Giconi Seeking Invention Patent; To Build Model

Additional information on Ray Giconi's invention to elminate air pollution was forthcoming this week through an interview by a Cumberland news writer, L. Eugene Goodrick.

Mr. Giconi, for the past year a resident of LaVale, near Cumberland, and former resident of Grantsville, is trying to sell the idea of one multi-functional device to eliminate air pollution from industrial smoke stacks.

He is positive it will work but he intimated the problem is getting the right people to believe him.

Having worked on the device for two years, Giconi is determined to protect his idea and has registered for a patent. The former owner of the M and S Stone company, Grantsville, he has run into trouble previously in protecting his inventions.

A few years ago he invented and patented a stone cutting machine that would increase a quarry's output from 20 to 80 tons of stone a day. He built a model at great expense, only to have someone else steal the idea. Giconi estimates that loss at a couple hundred thousand dollars.

This time he plans to be more cautious. Nobody but the patent attorney and Giconi's newly formed corporation attorney have seen the plans or blueprints, which in turn are kept locked in a bank vault.

Several persons, including large corporations, have expressed more than a passing interest, but want a "peck" at the prints before purchase.

"Nothing doing," says Giconi. "I've been that route before. This time it's going to be different."

"Air pollution isn't caused by the federal government," he continued. "It's caused by us, individually, because we have demanded more and better goods from industry. If we wait for the government to clean up the pollution that exists, in 15 or 20 years we won't be able to breathe.

"Eighty percent of the people in Washington talk and talk and spend money, but accomplish very little. The other 20 percent would like to do something but can't because their hands are tied.

"So it is time that we, as individuals, take it upon ourselves to do something about the situation," he said.

So, taking the advice of one government official, he has returned home from Washington to build a working model of his device, which requires approximately $20,000. When he showed his blueprints to Jack Turney, Oakland attorney, the latter formed a corporation to help raise revenue.

Mrs. Phyllis Brotemarkle, Rawlings, was named secretary. Mr. Turney said the idea of a corporation was to keep the entire project in Western Maryland. He said he foresaw a tremendous future locally with the possibilities that Mr. Giconi's invention affords.

Auto Hits Tow Truck On U. S. 40

Paul Durst, 18, Grantsville, was in fair condition this week at Sacred Heart hospital, Cumberland, where he was admitted following an accident Monday night.

Maryland State police said the accident occurred along U. S. 40 near Keyser Ridge. Police said Durst was driving an auto eastbound when he failed to negotiate a left curve, crossed the center line and crashed into a tow truck being operated by James William Grogg, 32, Cumberland.

Police said the truck, owned by the Powers Towing Service, Cumberland, was overturned by the impact. Mr. Grogg was not injured.

Hospital attaches said the Durst youth sustained facial lacerations and an injury to his right hand. Tfc. T. E. Tharp investigated.

Farm Credit Heads Given Promotion

At a recent meeting the Board of Directors of the Farm Credit Banks of Baltimore elected Eugene G. Fouse president of the Federal Land Bank of Baltimore and president of the Intermediate Credit Bank of Baltimore. He succeeds Warren R. Fankhanel, who retired July 31, after 37 years of service.

Mr. Fouse has been associated with Farm Credit since 1936. At the same meeting P. Robert Doughterty and J. Howard Settle were elected vice-presidents of the same banks.

The Farm Credit banks of Baltimore are a prime source of funds for the agricultural industry.

It is the objective of the banks to provide farmers with sound and constructive credit at the lowest cost possible. The Potomac Valley Farm Credit associations, located in Romney, W. Va., are part of the organizations and lend to farmers in Allegany and Garrett counties in Maryland in addition to a number of West Virginia counties. H. Robert DeWitt, former county resident, is manager at the Romney facility.

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 94. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., AUGUST 20, 1970 PER COPY 10¢ NUMBER 25

The Fair . . .

The 1970 Garrett County Agricultural fair is now history, but it is a good history. At least thirty-eight thousand was the attendance figure indicated by fair officials for the five-day event. The number of livestock exhibits has increased greatly with the quality of exhibits increasing from year to year.

The receipts were off a little, H. G. Gortner, president, announced, but he explained this by saying "there were too many holes in the fences." This didn't mean that the fencing was dilapidated, but merely there were too many opportunities to sneak through without paying.

We are glad the fair was rejuvenated some fourteen years ago. It had thrived for a number of years prior to that but gradually deteriorated when leadership disappeared. But it is a going concern at present and it is our hope it remains for future years. Fair time is a "homey" time. People seem to have a good time at the fair. It gives people the opportunity to show what can be accomplished on Garrett county farms.

With it being one week early this year, the vegetable and farm crops were not as numerous as last year, but the increase in horses, ponies, dairy and beef cattle more than offset this.

Not everyone can win a prize, but participation should not have to depend on competition. People should exhibit for the joy of showing what can be done. All who took part in promoting the fair are to be congratulated, as well as those who took the opportunity to exhibit their products.

Teen Rally Will Feature Color Film

The monthly Mt. Top YFC Saturday night teen rally at Southern High will feature local teen talent, icebreaker and the gospel film, "Week-end of Champions," presenting the story of present-day athletic stars. Local talent will include a male trio consisting of Bob Custer, John Crowe and Brian Holsopple. Ushers are Buddy Biser, Pam Sears, Mike Davy and Paula DeWitt

Fifteen local teens participated in canvassing young people at the fair last week. Some 329 surveys were taken to analyze the concept of how close to "balanced living" young people were. There were three questions each for the four areas of mental, social, physical and spiritual.

As a result of the survey 33 teenagers wanted to know more about the Christian Life, according to Tom Crogan, director of the Mt. Top Youth for Christ.

Woman Turns Up; Missing Two Days

Judy Violet Savage, 23, of Crellin-Underwood road, was reported missing on Sunday, August 16, and was found Tuesday afternoon with relatives along Allegheny front, on U. S. route 50. She was found by Trooper First Class Ronnie S. Lewis and Sheriff's deputy, Delbert Swartzentruber, but apparently she was not lost. She gave officers no explanation for her absence.

The woman is married and the mother of five children. She returned to her home.

Fair Drew 38,000 In Five Days

The fourteenth annual county fair drew to a close last Saturday evening and officials once again had termed the annual event a real success. H. G. Gortner, president, said over 38,000 people had gone through the SHOTGUN BLAST SHATTERS WINDOW—Two state troopers, Tfc. Dane Whiteman and Tfc. R. C. Lewis are investigating a shotgun blast early Sunday morning which shattered the large window of the home of William Hugh Brenneman, on Jennings Hill, route 495. Four shots were fired, three of them breaking the glass, the fourth one striking the house. Mr. Brenneman was in the room but had retired. Also in the house were a son, Gene Brenneman and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Beitzel. Some of the shot penetrated the wall on the far side of the room. Mr. Brenneman had no idea of the cause. He had appeared at the parking lot in Oakland several days ago supporting the new road workers. The shells from the 12 gauge shotgun carrying No. 6 shot, were recovered by police.

Fire Damages A. D. Naylor Wareroom

A fire, termed the result of an arsonist, damaged the A. D. Naylor and company warehouse on Liberty Street, Oakland, to the extent of about $500 early Wednesday morning, about 5:25.

Oakland firemen responded in a short time and had the blaze under control within a short time. Firemen discovered where some person had stuffed a quantity of papers under the floor of the warehouse.

The intricate fire alarm system at the store was credited with giving the alarm in time to prevent extensive damage. There are a number of thermostats throughout the store which are hooked to the telephone line. At a certain heat the telephone notifies the sheriff's office in a recorded voice, "There's a fire at the Naylor Hardware."

The fire burned several supporting beams and two holes in the flooring. The section of the building was a part of the former Frantz hotel and was used for storage.

Firemen were definitely of the opinion that the blaze had been set deliberately, and an investigation is underway.

$2,500 In Prizes In Autumn Parade

Twenty-five hundred dollars will be given away in prize money during the third annual Autumn Glory Festival Parade in Oakland, Saturday, October 10, according to Guy William Hinebaugh, chairman. Prize money will be given to the top three participants in the large band, small band, drill team, marching unit and float categories.

Hinebaugh said this is the first year prize money has been offered. He said in prior years a mileage allowance was given. He said the action should be competitive with the large prize money at stake.

The Autumn Glory Festival Parade is a big event in Western Maryland. Prior years there have been an estimated 30,000 people line the streets of Oakland to watch the units pass by under a display of autumn color.

Parade time has been changed to 2:30 p. m. this year to allow spectators and participants to get to other festival activities which are scheduled later in the evening.

The 1970 festival will be held October 8-10, and a variety of events is being planned.

Two Plays On Tap For Final Week

The eternal triangle is the theme of a duo of one-acts scheduled for the final week of the Garrett County Playhouse summer season, and opening at the Blue Barn Tuesday, August 25, for a five night run.

Peter Shaffer's "The Private Ear" and "The Public Eye" was the hit of London's West End, starring Maggie Smith, several seasons back, then crossed the Atlantic to settle on Broadway for a long run.

Shaffer's fun is in dead earnest, and the result is a witty trenchant hard long look at what happens when three's a crowd.

"The Private Ear" uncovers some sweet-sour notes in a concerto meant for two men when a hi-fi addict invites a brainless little chick over for a session of dinner music. But she's no music lover, as his best friend is quick to discover.

Hero of "The Public Eye" is a zany private eye who eats yogurt while spying and sports outlandish garb. When a stuffy London accountant hires him to shadow his mod young wife, the sleuthing takes a highly unorthodox turn.

Directed by Robert Nesbitt, the trio for "The Private Ear" is Jana Hahn, Milburn Mehlop and Tony Bruskas.

In "The Public Eye," Susan L. Stoner, Milburn Mehlhop and David Cramer are the eternal triangle.

Continuing through this week at the Blue Barn is the English farce "Big . . . Bad . . . Mouse!" which makes much ado about an unlikely office Lothario. When meek little Mr. Bloome is accused of chasing a girl across the Commons, with intent, his stock rises with the women at the Chunkibix Limited.

The Blue Barn is located on Beckman's Penninsula, off Route 21, in Deep Creek. Performances start at 8:30 p.m. Reservations may be made.

Former Resident Found Dead In Baltimore Suburb

The strangled body of Mrs. Gwendolin Heffner, 54, a former local resident and wife of a Baltimore county police magistrate, George E. Heffner, was found by him Thursday, August 13 around 9 p.m. in their apartment on Haven Road, Fullerton, a Baltimore suburb.

Mr. Heffner had ju tsreturned from a night session of Rosedale Magistrate's Court when he found his wife lying in the bedroom.

Col. Elmer F. Adams of the Baltimore County Police, in charge of the investigation, said an autopsy showed that Mrs. Heffner had been strangled by a "smooth cord". She was last seen alive by Mr. Heffner about two hours before, when he went to Rosedale Court.

Colonel Adams disclosed that there were no signs of struggle and no indications of forced entry. There was only "minor disorder" in the apartment but an undisclosed amount of money and jewelry were taken. He also

Bean Harvest Under Way Here

Harvest of Commercial Bean Crop In County 50% Complete

An excellent crop of beans is going out of Garrett County, on schedule, this month, to Jenkins Brothers Inc., packing house in Frederick.

To those who have become accustomed to the twenty ton loads, moving up Liberty Street to the town scales for James Carney to "weigh them out." Persons are reminded again that Garrett County is favorable "cool weather crop" county, according to Baity Ridder, agent for the canning company.

The advent of the mechanical picker has taken the drudgery out of the harvesting operation. At the present time, a crew of eight men with five machines, can readily pick and load 70 tons, (5000 bushels), of top quality beans in one day's time. This in turn will provide employment for 65 persons at the packing house the next day.

Bean growing and marketing is an interesting and profitable agribusiness but is very exacting as planting, harvesting and packing must be done on a tight schedule, to insure a high quality product, Mr. Ridder said. Beans that are top quality on the vines today, will consistently be too large and seedy for top grade by "day after tomorrow". Good management and coordination are a "must" in the whole operation.

A good growing season will produce a crop of beans in 60 to 63 days time.

The 1970 crop was planted on a daily schedule, (as weather

J. Glenn Beall, Jr.

Congressman, 6th District, Maryland

Because of the increasing sophistication and expense of medical treatment, it has become necessary that the Federal Government provide assistance in the delivery of vital health services throughout the county. Following recommendations of a Presidential commission on Heart Disease, Cancer and Stroke, legislation establishing a series of regional medical programs to combat these diseases was enacted in 1965.

Basically, the 1965 law, and a subsequent modification to it in 1968, authorized federal grants to promote the development of regional cooperative arrangements among the nation's health professions and institutions. This has resulted in an improved regional organization of health resources and services and a general upgrading of care, particularly for persons threatened by heart disease, cancer, stroke and unrelated disorders.

Because the regional medical programs, which now number 55, have proven so successful, legislation designed to expand and strengthen them was approved by the House of Representatives last week. Entitled Heart Disease, Cancer, Stroke and Kidney Disease Amendments of 1970, the bill's most significant alteration to existing law would be as its name indicates, the inclusion of kidney disease in the regional medical approach.

As a sponsor of a bill to amend the Public Health Service Act to include a new title dealing specifically with kidney disease and kidney-related disorders, I am particularly pleased with the new legislation.

The inclusion of kidney disease, of course, reflects the growing concern over the nationwide prevalence of this major chronic illness. Nearly 8 million persons in the United States suffer from it, of which about 60,000 progress to a terminal disease condition, often during their most productive years of life.

This is particularly tragic because new developments in medical technology could save many of these lives if only enough treatment facilities were readily available. Life-sustaining kidney transplants and artificial kidney machines have already permitted the continuation of almost normal lives for persons who otherwise would have succumbed to fatal kidney malfunction. Unfortunately, because of their limited availability and extremely high costs, access to these lifesaving techniques has been severely limited.

In focussing specifically on kidney disease, the proposed amendments passed by the House would authorize a total of $15 million for activities related to the prevention and treatment of kidney disorders. By distributing these funds through the regional medical programs we can approach the problem in a coordinated and systematic fashion. This will not only prelude the unnecessary duplication of high cost efforts, but also help ensure that the quality of care is uniform across the country.

Kidney-related activities would include the testing and evaluation of methods to prevent and treat kidney disease at the community level and the organization of programs on an interregional basis across the country. This nationwide coordination should be instrumental in providing terminal patients better access to kidney transplants by facilitating the exchange of information relating to required body tissue matching as well as improving other essential communication systems. In addition, the amendments would include a recognized kidney specialist on the National Advisory Council on Regional Medical Programs.

Although under the bill new emphasis is being placed on kidney disease, efforts to fight heart disease, cancer and stroke will remain strong. The propose regional medical program funding authorization levels for fiscal year 1971 through 1973 total $125, $150, and $200 million, respectively.

As we learn more about the causes and effects of these dreaded diseases we can do more to prevent them as well as rehabilitate the persons suffering from them. Consequently, the amendments specify for the first time that prevention and rehabilitation efforts are within the scope of the regional medical program, and add two experts in disease prevention to the Advisory Council.

Moreover, the bill recognizes the need for improving health services for persons residing in areas with limited health personnel and facilities. Because the 55 regional medical programs have been established now for several years and therefore have developed ties with all elements of local health care systems—for example, doctors, hospitals, and medical schools—they will be tasked with encouraging the more efficient use of manpower to ensure uniform health care quality.

It is evident that assistance in the provision of health care has become one of the most important services of our government. The Heart Disease, Cancer, Stroke, and Kidney Disease Amendments of 1970 will, I think, be highly invaluable to the regional medical program and represent a further step forward in ensuring quality health care for all Americans.

Nixon Postal Reform Aims To Improve Mail Delivery

President Nixon has signed into law the most comprehensive legislation affecting postal service in this country since it was established by Benjamin Franklin more than 180 years ago. This landmark legislation was made necessary by the enormous growth of the United States in these two centuries and the consequent demands on the Post Office. The fact is that American business and the American people are using the postal service more today than ever before. As a result, the method of administering the postal system which has been in existence for well over a century, is not adequate for making the technological changes which are required by one of the biggest business operations in the world.

I voted for the Postal Reform Bill. In doing so, I did not believe that the Congress, with one act, could find a panacea or a quick all-purpose medicine which would cure the problems of the postal service. However, I felt this bill was a method by which some of the difficulties that the postal service has experienced in recent years could be examined and thoughtfully resolved so the American people will have a better and more efficient postal system.

I'm not under any illusions that this is going to happen over night. There are too many built-in difficulties in the system which may take years to resolve satisfactorily. But this bill does represent a beginning. It represents the opportunity for the thousands of dedicated employees who have made the postal service their profession to demonstrate that their ability and talent can bring about the kind of postal service which the nation needs.

I think the new start which is going to be made has got to be made with the realization that the country has been much disappointed by the postal service in the past several years. In many post offices throughout the country there is no official postmaster, no administrative head to run the local office. There are thousands of unfilled postmaster's positions all over the country. Recruiting the right kind of postmasters to run our post offices should be one of the first efforts of the new postal management. When the right people are in these vital jobs then our mail should again flow freely and smoothly.

In addition, the new postal corporation ought to assess the physical needs of the postal service. Presently too many of our post offices are antiquated and inadequate. Some of them have leaky roofs, inadequate lighting, and outdated equipment which should be replaced or modernized. Only when these steps are taken can we have smooth, efficient, speedy delivery of communications from one citizen to another. Surely this is one of the most important bonds to hold any nation together and I was happy to join with the Nixon Administration in taking the initial step to reform our overburdened postal system.

LSD — A HALLUCINOGENIC.
IT GIVES A "DANGER TRIP"

LSD, a man-made chemical, was first discovered in 1938. Researchers are still trying to find a way to administer this drug safely for possible medical benefits.

It cannot be sold legally, even with a prescription. Pharmacies do not stock it. It is mass distributed by criminal "pushers." It is made in clandestine laboratories with unpredictable strength. A speck of LSD can cause lasting dangerous effects.

Users speak of "good or bad trips." Either one increases the heart rate, the blood pressure and temperature, dilates the pupils, causes irregular breathing, nausea and loss of appetite.

Lions Discuss Fall, Winter Plans

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions Club last Tuesday evening, Earl Clark, president, outlined plans for the fall and winter season. The club will handle the concession stand at Southern High School during the football season. Two stands, one on each side of the field, are planned.

A Ladies' Night event is being planned for this fall when the club observes its 30th anniversary.

permitted) beginning June 1 and is being harvested in the same order, 60 to 63 days later.

A few exceptionally good yields have been noted here this season, however the project is not a "sure thing" as growers would like it to be. The above normal rainfall during June and July, caused extensive damage to the beans in low and poorly drained areas. On the other hand extensive hot and dry periods damage the crop.

Growing beans in Garrett County has become a stable operation but it requires smooth fertile land and good management all year around, he advises. It is not consistently profitable for busy land owners who want a project for their spare time.

The nineteen growers in Garrett County who planted 425 acres of beans this year, will produce approximately 1300 tons (90,000 bushels) of top quality beans with a wholesale value of $75,000.

The Southwest Decision

At a time when the world is convulsed with strife, when capitalist nations are under assault from within and when the United States has grave need of obtaining new sources of income abroad, it is dismaying and shocking to find the U. S. State Department actively discouraging American investment in Southwest Africa and attempting to curry favor with African revolutionaries on the Southwest issue.

Charles Y. Yost, the old-line liberal who serves as chief U. S. delegate to the United Nations, announced the new policy at a convocation marking the 25th anniversary of the organization that has proved so hurtful to American and free world interests generally. Under the new State Department policy, the Export-Import Bank, a federal agency that seeks to promote exports by granting loan guarantees, will no longer provide such guarantees for trade with Southwest Africa. The New York Times rightly described the decision as "a major departure in United States policy."

Southwest Africa, a vast desert territory rich in minerals, is an almost empty land administered by the Republic of South Africa since the end of World War 1. South African troops wrested the territory from the Imperial German government. In recent years, the Afro-Asian bloc in the U. N., strongly backed by the communist powers, have sought to nullify the League of Nations mandate of the territory to South Africa and have demanded independent status for the area. The Soviet Union has a keen interest in the territory, for Southwest Africa, under "independent" rule would be an easy target for infilration and domination and would serve ideally as a base for Soviet naval forces operating in the South Atlantic. Indeed, a Soviet-oriented Southwest Africa could put the USSR in position to dominate the strategic Cape route for shipping around Africa.

In view of these facts, it is tragic that the State Department has enunciated a new policy towards Southwest Africa which is hostile to South African administration of the territory. The State Department decision is what Americans might have expected of the Kennedy administration in its heyday.

It is interesting to note that Mr. Yost, in his remarks at the U. N. ceremony, referred to Southwest as Namibia, the name used by the Afro-Asian bloc and the Soviet Union in all U. N. debates. In an utterly absurd comment, Mr. Yost declared that the territory suffered "a unique international wrong in the unlawful perpetuation of South African rule." There is no foundation of fact for such a statement.

In the first place, South African administration halted the swift decline of population in the territory—a decline caused by tribal strife. Second, the South African administration provided health and welfare services unknown to the vast majority of black African nations. Finally, South Africa has invested hugh sums in the development of Southwest, therefore affording the native people employment opportunities for the first time.

As for the South African administration being "unlawful," Mr. Yost knows full well there is no law on the subject. League of Nations mandate cannot be revoked by the United Nations, which is not the legal inheritor of the League's anthority.

American enterprise has a substantial stake in Southwest Africa's economic future, producing copper needed by the Western counties. The fishing industry also is important to the U. S. In Southwest Africa, American investors need not fear illegal confiscation, such as has taken place in South America and other unstable regions where revolutionary and socialist governments are in power. The logical policy for the United States would be to encourage additional American investment in Southwest Africa. But logic apparently plays no part in the thinking of the fanatical anti-South Africa, anti-Rhodesia element in the State Department.

The policy announced by Mr. Yost, and for which Secretary of State William P Rogers must take responsibility, can aid no nation but the Soviet Union. The decision makes things much easier for the Soviets in their global campaign to drive Westerners out of Southwest Africa.

The difficulties created for U S. companies interested in Southwest Africa appear all the more irritating and unjust when one realizes that the State Department is promoting American trade with the communist countries of Eastern Europe.

It is reasonable to conclude that the Nixon administration has not heard the last of the Southwest issue. The anti-Southwest Africa policy must have been drafted by New Frontier holdovers in the State Department. A strong protest against the policy is in order by believers in free enterprise.

One Injured And Vehicles Damaged On U. S. Rt. 40

Only slight injury to two persons and moderate damage was sustained in five accidents which occurred on U.S. Rt. 40 last week. Information is according to records in the office of the Maryland State Police, Oakland.

Three of the accidents occurred on Monday, August 10.

A pick-up driven by Lloyd J. Butler, Cumberland, was traveling west on U.S. Rt. 40 and had placed his turn signal on to make a left turn into U.S. Rt. 219. A car following him, driven by David I. Wiley, Grantsville, failed to reduce speed and collided with the Butler truck. Wiley was slightly injured and taken to the Meyersdale Community Hospital by a passing motorist. There was little damage to either vehicle. Wiley was charged by Tfc. C. D. Skidmore with failing to reduce speed to avoid a collision. The accident happened just past midnight.

Another accident at 9:30 the same morning resulted in no injuries and moderate damage to two trucks. William King, Cameron, W. Va., was traveling west on U.S. Rt. 40 and placed his turn signal on to make a left turn in to Posey Run Road. A truck operated by Leon Chester, Jr., Rosedale, going east on U.S. Rt. 40 started to overtake several cars in the line of traffic and observed the King truck making a left turn, but was unable to stop and hit the truck. Tfc. C. D. Skidmore charged Chester with passing when unsafe to do so.

In still another accident the same morning east of Grantsville near U. S. Rt. 219, a car driven by Harvey Marenic, W. Aliquippa, Pa., was traveling east on U.S. 40 behind a line of traffic. A car driven by John W. Gank, Hyattsville, following the Marenic car, failed to reduce speed and collided with it. Ann Marenic was slightly injured and taken to the Meyersdale Community Hospital by Harvey Marenic. There were no other injuries and only moderate car damage. Gank was charged by Tfc. C. D. Skidmore with reckless driving.

An accident involving an unoccupied parked car belonging to Robert A. McKenzie, Grantsville, occurred in Grantsville just past midnight Saturday, August 15. The McKenzie car parked westbound on Rt. 40 was struck by an unknown eastbound vehicle which left the scene and was not located by August 17. Damage to the McKenzie car was light. Tfc. Dane O. Whiteman investigated.

There were no injuries to persons but heavy car damage was Friday, August 14, at 6:30 p.m. on U.S. Rt. 40 in Grantsville sustained in a two car accident Glenn D. Eddsley, Morgantown, W. Va., was westbound on Rt. 40 and collided with a car driven by Sherrie M. Maust, Springs, Pa., who was attempting to make a right turn onto Rt. 40 from an alley. Sherrie Maust's vision was impeded by parked cars directly to her left. Eddsley swerved to avoid a collision, but the Maust car had already entered Rt. 40. Sherrie Maust was charged by Tfc. Dane O. Whiteman with failing to give right of way.

Student Voices

Listen! Respond!
Rita Shrout

A recent issue of TIME magazine features an article, "When the Young Teach and the Old Learn." Read it if you can: it holds an inspiring message for young and old alike. Dealing with specific instances in which youngsters have taught oldsters, it demonstrates that violence oriented protesters are a definitive minority. Many students today are sincere and helpful in their attempts at change.

Garrett Countians are known as ultra-conservatives, and yet parents here—like everywhere—are discovering that their moral codes are no longer acceptable to their children. In these years of rapid social change, parents and youth must endeavor, not only to listen, but understand.

As the article in TIME points out, there are many parents who have listened to their children and been influenced into action. One example was a case concerning Ohio's Republican Senator, William B. Saxbe. Previously, he had regarded antiwar dissenters as "crazies," but after hearing the views of his "conservative" son, a marine lieutenant, his attitude changed. Charles, Saxbe's son, in a letter home, referred to the war as "contrary to everything I've been taught to believe about America." Democratic Congressman Thomas P. O'Neill of Massachusetts is another instance of conversion from hawk to dove as the result of evidence offered by his children. Legalizing abortion, liberalizing marijuana laws and lowering the voting age are other social reforms stimulated and supported by student-parent discussions ending in agreement and coalition.

The major responsibility that no one can escape is communication. The sooner we try to talk to each other as individuals—not necessarily parent to child—the easier it will become to accept and understand our differences. To LISTEN to one another, doesn't mean that we have to follow each other's beliefs. Just as parents are not expected to accept for themselves the values of their children, neither will youth accept the moral authority of their parents. The ideal condition is mutual responsiveness.

Union President Plans To Visit

The international president of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes has indicated he would visit the county this week, according to a union spokesman.

President Jerry Wurf, who is headquartered in Washington, told several labor leaders of his proposed visit at a meeting Saturday in Baltimore. There was no indication as to the persons he expected to meet with.

Mr. Wurf, who heads the 305,000 member union, was the main speaker at the Saturday meeting, and said the union would offer more support to the Garrett county strikers. The strike began April 7 when 133 of 145 road workers walked off the job after the Board of County Commissioners refused to recognize it as sole bargaining agent for the road workers.

Since then no repairs have been made on county roads. Two of the Commissioners, Hubert A. Friend and John Ross Sines, endeavored to put a crew of 57 non-union workers on the roads August 4 but the effort was broken up by the union workers.

Michael Lindner, representative for the union in Western Maryland, said that striking pickets were kept overnight last Friday at the four county garages following rumors that the commissioners were going to try to put men on roads again early Saturday. No attempt was made, however.

Gus Johnson will repeat the program of wild flower slides which he presented early in the summer at the Ruth Enlow Library, on Monday evening, August 24, at 7:30 p.m. Anyone interested in wild flowers and photography will enjoy seeing these slides, according to Miss Edith Brock, librarian. Permissive Communities

In a number of American cities the problem of hippies and drug-users is worsening. So much attention has been lavished on the hippie life style by some of the major national magazines and networks and so many influential "intellectuals" have defended the use of marijuana that a considerable number of young people have been misled into becoming drop-outs from society. They are congregating in cities which adopt a permissive attitude towards those who break with society's basic rules of behavior.

Thus it is time that responsible citizens in every American city address themselves to the issue of hippie and drug-using groups infiltrating communities. It is a very serious issue—actually a part of the great law and order issue of our time.

San Francisco was the first large American city to be confronted with a separate underground culture. Today, this great city, considered one of the most beautiful in the land, is the home of a large hippie and drug-using population. Visitors to the West Coast metropolis frequently complain that the character of the city is threatened by the underground groups.

But San Francisco is not the only city to become a target of hippie groups. Atlanta, the metropolis of the South, is rapidly becoming a favorite of the social drop-outs and misfits. For months, concerned citizens of Atlanta have expressed alarm at the emergence of a hippie area in the Peachtree-10th St. vicinity. It has become a magnet for elements generally described as "street people." Merchants and shoppers have found themselves harassed by the hippies.

The situation became so serious in the late spring that Mayor Sam Massell appeared on television to discuss the problem with the citizenry and to set forth his approach to the problem. He sent a large contingent of police into the hippie area and warned that "those who violate our laws, including possession of illegal drugs and loitering in a manner impeding passage of others, will be arrested."

But Mayor Massell coupled this much-needed warning with an appeal for toleration of hippies—a permissive attitude that could cost Atlanta community peace and well-being in the months and years ahead. The mayor, who was elected by a liberal coalition, urged toleration of "street people." He recommended that citizens set up "lines of communication" with hippies. This is the approach generally favored by liberals throughout the nation.

Indeed this soft approach to social misfits already has been utilized in Atlanta, where a "community center" for hippies already is functioning. Negotiations also are in progress to establish a hostel for hippies. If this is the approach adopted by a city, it will do no good to warn, as Mayor Massell did, that youths should not come to the city without means of support and accommodation. Toleration of "street people" on the part of a city government is a green light to hippies to invade that community.

The problem of hippies cannot be divorced from the problem of drug use. The "street people" are people wedded to the use of marijuana, a drug that is the prelude to hard drugs and which, in any case, induces a breakdown of an individual's personal and social discipline.

The public should be aware, of course, that there is a drive on to legalize marijuana in the United States. If legalization ever were allowed, it would be a disaster for the United States; it would constitute approval of a drugged culture. No doubt the enemies of the United States would like nothing better than for marijuana to be legalized, for they know it would lead to a massive weakening of the moral fiber of the nation.

Nowadays, liberal elements are urging establishment of so-called "halfway houses" in cities —places where drug users may meet with community representatives and discuss the drug problem. These halfway houses are an extremely undesirable development. Those who are planning them often announce that they won't take a stand on use of marijuana; they won't say whether it is good or bad. Such a morally neutral attitude towards drug use, which is the same thing as drug abuse, is unconscionable. It appears that the drug users want to use halfway houses for defending drug use, not for rehabilitation.

The evidence strongly suggests that permissiveness toward hippies and drug users is destructive of community order and well-being. If a city wants to be rid of disorderly "street people" and drug users, the way to proceed is with strict enforcement of state laws and city ordinances on vagrancy, loitering, and disorderly conduct.

"Communicating" with hippies only encourages them to stay around.

Listen, Americans!

By DR. GEORGE S. BENSON
President—National Education Program
Searcy, Arkansas

Thirty young Ohio National Guardsmen, summoned from their college classes and other occupations to do emergency duty in an outbreak of wanton lawlessness, were cut off from their squadron, hemmed in, and placed in dire danger by a lawless mob that had wreaked havoc on the community of Kent and the big Kent University campus. The menacing club-wielding, rock-hurling mob had isolated and maneuvered the small detachment of Guardsmen into an untenable corner. At their backs was a building that offered no sure route of escape from the advancing hordes—estimated at 300 (against 30). The screaming, rock-throwing, club-wielding mob surrounded the small guard unit on three sides.

In short order, the Guardsmen used the last of their tear gas. It drove back temporarily but did not disperse the roaring mob, which began quickly to regroup and to scream obscene threats against the citizen soldiers (some of the National Guard Squadron were Kent State students). With their backs to the wall, the 30 young Guardsmen themselves executed a threat to the mob confronting them. They brought their M-1 rifles up to aim-fire position, some kneeling, some standing. The threat did not deter the mob.

Its front ranks advanced again upon the soldiers trapped in their cul-de-sac. In an atmosphere of battle ground, with clouds of tear gas drifting above, with an angry roaring mob advancing (a lawless mob that had wrecked a university campus, a law abiding community, and had set the torch to campus buildings), the guardsmen fired a fusillade. (Reports of prior firing from the area occupied by the mob have not, at this writing, been confirmed). Then the firing stopped. The lawbreakers broke and ran, leaving 13 young men and women on the ground, four fatally wounded.

After two years of intermittent campus violence engineered by SDS cadres led by identifiable Communists, the trouble that brought on the tragedy began on May 1.

An 8 p.m. curfew was ordered next day. But the campus mob leaders got 600 "demonstrators" mobilized on campus Saturday night (May 2). The mob rushed the $85,000 Army ROTC building, breaking down doors; then they systematically burned the wooden structure. Fire department vehicles and the firemen who rushed to put out the fire were driven off with a vicious fusillade of bricks; fire hoses were slashed with machetes. The building was destroyed.

Governor Rhodes went to the campus Sunday (May 3). He described the agitators as revolutionaries linked with international Communism; he declared a state of emergency and put the campus and city under martial law. That night the agitators emotionalized a still bigger crowd, and defying the law, they led 1,000 "demonstrators" in an invasion of the city. The Guard officers ordered the law-breaking mob dispersed. The mob defied the order, with screams and taunts. The arrest of 68 and use of tear gas broke it up.

Again in defiance of law and the Guardsmen's presence, the terrorists came back Monday (May 4) in still greater force. Soon their mobs were attacking the Guardsmen with clubs and rocks. The 30 Guardsmen were split off from the main body of troops. The tragic firing upon the mob followed when the 30 were hemmed in and assaulted from three sides. Who is to blame for the four deaths? The mob of lawbreakers is to blame. And whoever was in the mob must share a part of the blame.

Review of The Play

"Big...Bad...Mouse"

The Garrett County Playhouse on Beckman's Peninsula, Deep Creek Lake, has a smash hit on its hands this week. "Big... Bad...Mouse", a true English farce by Philip King and Falkland L. Cary, was thoroughly enjoyed by the largest opening night audience in several years. It is obvious that this adult family show went over well by the frequent interruption of the play by the howls of the audience. The play takes place in a large English orders office of Chunkibix, Limited, and covers parts of two successive days.

Efficiency is the key word of the first act of this play. But efficiency goes out the window in the second act as everyone becomes involved in the antics of the "mouse" of the firm. Members of the staid old English firm go from Victorian morality to the swinging mod generation. There is something here for everyone.

Fiona Janes, who is played by Miss Marsha Wischusen, is one of the secretaries of the firm. A delight to see this young woman, for the role seems to be written for her. She may or may not be in love with Harold Hopkins, the bumbling office boy-clerk, done with great comedic effect by Tony Bruskas. Tony is at his best this week and great fun to watch. Miss Spencer, the prim, but love-starved spinster secretary for Mr. Bloome, the junior member of the firm, is played with great firmness by Jana Hahn. We watch her as she undergoes a change of personality after she discovers the office secret.

Mr. Price-Hargraves is the senior member of Chunkibix, Ltd., who is a very demanding person. He is also a very frustrated man who does all he can to catch his junior partner, Bloome, in a trap. He does catch him, but what a surprise reason, as the audience soon discovers. David Cramer again affords the audience many laughs with his portrayal of this role.

Milburn Mehlhop, taking the lead this week as Mr. Bloome, is the firm's "big, bad, mouse." As the play opens we find him the meek little man who never harmed anyone in his life. But then a young lady, Doris Povey has been chased across Wandsworth Commons by a man who is skinny with funny glasses. It turns out she is the niece of Miss Spencer. When she confronts Mr. Bloome she immediately identifies Bloome as her molester. Karen McHenry, one of our local artists, although cast in a minor role as far as dialogue is concerned, proves to be the kingpin around which the plot of the story revolves. She turns in a beautiful performance in this play and a delight to watch.

Bloome, Milburn Mehlhop, is the star of this week's play. Innocent of any wrong-doing all his life, he now turns out to be the office hero. It is found that he has more than black ink in his veins. He proves to be a red-blooded young man, and winds up as the most sought-after man of the firm. Milburn handles the part with tremendous skill, and this reviewer would like to pay him the highest tribute for allowing him to see him in action. The audience seemed to concur in its reaction to his performance.

It would be unfair to reveal the ending of the story, for there is quite a surprise in store as the curtain falls for the last time.

Susan Stoner is the Lady Chesapeake, chairman of the board of Chunkibix, Limited. She remains the prim, Victorian until almost the closing of the play. But people do seem to go through a change in personality when the truth comes out. Miss Stoner is fantastic in her role of Lady Chesapeake. She plays the female lead in "Big...Bad ...Mouse."

Theatre in the round is an experience of involvement. This is just what the Garrett County Playhouse is. Located in the Blue Barn at Deep Creek Lake, the Playhouse company, brought together by Gene Yell, and directed by Robert Nesbitt, is a place where informality is the order of the evening. The show begins each night at 8:30 p. m. and will run tonight through Saturday. There is only one play left in the summer's repertcire. Next week the Playhouse will close with Peter Shaffer's pair of comedies, "The Private Ear" and "The Public Eye."

The play this week is highly recommended as adult family fare. Reservations may be made at Gregg's Pharmacy, 334-2197; Englander's Pharmacy, 334-9455; or Proudfoot's Pharmacy, 334-3913.

Commissioners Seeking Bids For Winter Coal

Bids for coal for various county agencies were ordered at a regular meeting of the County Commissioners on August 10. The coal is to be furnished for the county roads garage at Oakland, Accident and Grantsville, the county jail, Sang Run crushing plant and county court house for the coming winter season.

Dr. Elmer Hill, acting county health officer, and Dr. Stearns of the State Health department, discussed with the board the possibility of a full time health officer. He asked for additional funds, suggesting the county provide $5,000 of a needed $10,000 with the state providing the other $5,000. Another suggestion was that Appalachia provide the additional $5,000.

Hubert A. Friend, commissioner president, said the 1970-71 budget had been made and that the contigent account would not provide the additional funds. He pointed out that $18,000 had been advanced and an additional $25,300 committed for the sewage installation at the Bausch and Lomb installation.

Several men were before the board expressing concern over the lack of settlement of the roads dispute.

Greek telephone service has made great progress recently.

Claims Insurance Ads Misleading To Elderly

Some private insurance companies have been sending misleading advertisements to Medicare beneficiaries in the Garrett County area, according to James E. Robertson, Social Security District Manager, in an effort to sell them health insurance to supplement their Medicare protection.

Mr. Robertson said that the promotional literature distributed by these companies has been designed to give the reader the impression that the company is in some way connected with the Social Security administration, or that it has access to the Federal agency's records.

Mr. Robertson stressed that the Social Security administration does not endorse any privately-owned insurance plan designed to "supplement" Medicare benefits. He also emphasized that private insurance companies do not have access to social security records, which are confidential by law.

Rights For Men...

Under strong pressure by the "women's liberation" sentiment, on August 10 Congress passed House Resolution No. 264 calling for an amendment to the Constitution stipulating that "equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of sex." The resolution will become part of our Constitution if the legislatures of two-thirds of the States ratify the measure. It will be interesting to see what happens next—because there appears to be much more involved than meets the eye.

To begin with, the resolution does not say that equal rights shall not be denied women; but "on account of sex." Since there are, the last time we counted two sexes, that means the equality of rights will be guaranteed to men. And, as it now stands, every State in our union has pages of laws which discriminate against man in favor of the woman. What happens if all of these laws become unconstitutional?

For example, Alaska law specifies that the "husband must provide home and wife must reside there." But "equality under the law" will wipe out such favorite treatment, since the wife will be equally responsible to provide a home. Our Social Security laws specify that women can retire and start drawing benefits at 62; men at 65. This discrimination will have to be removed. All kinds of similar laws regarding alimony, divorce, domicile, community property, child custody, support and a host of others most of them favoring women, will have to be changed. If the measure is ratified, the women will be just as liable to pay alimony as men.

Most states have laws to protect women from hazardous employment in mines, quarries, foundries, or in jobs such as railroad section hands, bellhops, baggage or freight handlers, etc. Labor laws give women more rest periods than men. And what about the help wanted ads in newspapers? We must suppose that the Supreme Court will rule that one cannot discriminate by specifying that the applicant be male or female. Will school boards be forced to "achieve balance" by having an equal number of men and women teachers; And we can think of many other problems.

Of course, the idea of Congress was to see that women would be given equal pay for equal work and that sort of thing. We wonder however, if in passing the Constitutional provision, Congress has not used the equivalent of a sledgehammer to kill a fly? If so, it could very well be that the loss of present provisions under existing laws favoring women could far outweigh any gains.

Sheer Stupidity . . .

A local editor, whose community is the site of a state university, took note of a student protester's sign reading, "Build for people, not for profit," with the comment: "That is sheer stupidity, especially for persons who profess to be against pollution." The editor then noted that a plant located in the area and operated by one of the nation's largest timber companies has been able to cut down on pollution solely because the company makes a profit.

Thanks to this profit, the company has been able to construct an $8.5 million chemical recovery furnace which is expected to cut sulphur and particulate emissions considerably The furnace is just one step in the long battle against pollution by this company which represents an industry that has an innate concern for the environment. As one timber industry official says of the antipollution efforts of his company, "The long-term nature of our business of growing trees requires unique foresight. The necessity for thinking in terms of the future, plus our longtime commitment to stewardship of the natural resources entrusted to our care inevitably placed the company in a role of environmental protection leadership several decades ago."

This spokesman for a single company, for all practical purposes, was speaking for the entire timber industry as it functions today. No company, expecting to be in business decades hence, can be profligate with the natural resources upon which its existence depends The policies of timber companies, from environmental conservation to use of the forest lands, are predicated upon a sense of permanence that pervades the entire industry.—Industrial News Review.

Nineteen Killed On State Highways

Nineteen persons were killed on Maryland highways last week, according to the weekly survey published by the State Police. Eleven of those were drivers, three were passengers, and five were pedestrians. Alcohol was a contributing factor in four of the deaths, speed in five, and "driver error" in fifteen.

"Unfortunately, too many bicyclists have the misconception that the motor vehicle rules of the road do not apply to them," noted Lt. Col. W. H. Conroy Deputy Superintendent of the State Police. "Anyone who operates a bicycle, however is subject to all the operating regulations which apply to the drivers of motor vehicles.

"Each year many lives, particularly the lives of youngsters, are lost needlessly because these regulations are ignored. Every bicycle operator should be thoroughly familiar with the rules of the road....and obey them."

WASHINGTON AND SMALL BUSINESS

Big Brother Goofs Again

Out in California the vaunted self proclaimed omnipotence of Big Brother in Washington who sees all, knows all, recently took another blow.

Hundreds of thousands of gallons of crude oil, poured out into Santa Barbara when an oil well fractured, killing marine wildlife and making a black soggy mess of large areas of the finest beaches to be found on the Pacific Coast.

It was a needless catastrophe and only caused by the loudly proclaimed assertion that Washington knows best.

The vast Federal bureaucracy that keeps insisting it should have more and more power has control and regulation of offshore oil drilling. States have sought to regulate the drilling off their shores, but have been pushed away brusquely with the admonition that states may know some things, but they are stupid when compared with Big Brother.

So, as a result, drilling under Federal regulations, only a very few feet of casing was put down into the well, and as gas and oil pressures built up, the soft bottom of the channel fissured to spew out thousands of gallons of crude.

Under California law, the drilling company would have been required to put down a few thousand feet of casing which presumably would have prevented fissuring.

Unfortunately, under a democratic system of government, the people have no recourse from the depredations wrought by a bumbling bureaucracy. Totalitarian states often have pursued a different course. In Stalin's Russia such stupidity would have resulted, at the least, in a long vacation in Siberia. In Mussolini's Italy, getting a train into the station late was the basis for a firing squad.

But in a democracy, fortunately, stupidity, if not condoned, is more or less accepted.

It can be assured, however, that if California public officials had permitted such wanton stupidity, the people of the state would have had an official head or two, by recall election or some other procedure.

But it is most difficult to chastise a Federal bureaucrat, as 555 people in the other forty-nine states, far removed from the scene of the disaster, do not rise up in anger to the degree that the people of the affected state are prone to do.

At this date, it is perhaps futile to cry over spilt oil.

But this disaster may cause some of the people who so loudly assert that "states rights" are archaic some second thoughts.

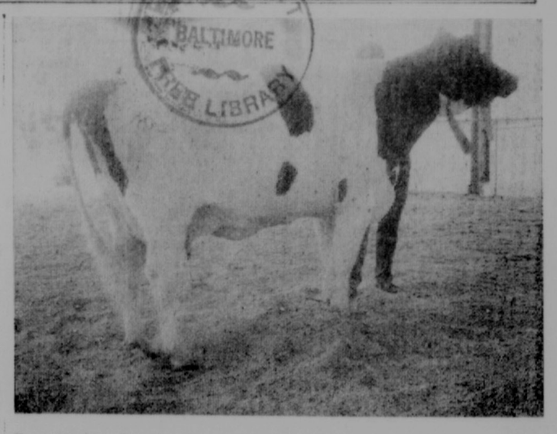
Man Burned In Gas Well Mishap, Dies

William Newhouse, 34, of Moorefield, W. Va., member of a drill crew working on a new Atlantic Seaboard corporation gas well on the Knight farm between Salt Lick and Aurora, died last Friday in West Virginia University medical center, Morgantown, of burns received in an accident last Tuesday. He received burns over 85 percent of his body. Another worker, David Peterson, Kingwood, was listed in serious condition. A third man, Eddie Williamson, Elkins, received burns on his hands when he was trying to put out the fire.

Virgil Argabrite, district foreman, gave a description of the fire. He said a stripper rubber in a blowout preventer had been blown out of the valve, permitting gas to escape. This gas caught fire and burned the two men before it was extinguished just moments later by a cut-off valve on a pipe. At the time the blaze occurred the drill crew were removing sections of drill pipe from the new well before beginning the next step in their job.

Deceased was a veteran of the Korean War and a member of the American Legion post at Moorefield. Survivors include his mother, his widow, two sons and one daughter and a brother.

Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon from the Moorefield Church of the Brethren with interment in the Newhouse cemetery at Rig, W. Va.



Ezra Yoder, Grantsville, exhibited the grand champion Holstein, open class, at the county fair last week. The cattle division was one of the largest in years.

Judge Defers His Decision In Suits

Associate Judge Harold E. Naughton last week took under advisement his decision in four damage suits in Allegany county Circuit court growing out of a fatal accident which occurred on U. S. route 40 on Big Savage mountain, one-half mile west of Frostburg, in Garrett county.

Defendant in all four cases was Eugene Autry Nicol, Lonaconing. One of the cases was filed originally in this county and removed to Cumberland by an order signed by Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill.

The suit was filed by Mrs. Grace Evelyn Swauger, Jennings, in three capacities against Mr. Nicol and John Jay Augustine, Jr., of Frostburg.

Mrs. Swauger filed the suit as next friend and guardian of her son Darrell Fay Swauger; next friend and guardian of Darrell, husband of Linda Marie Swauger, deceased; and next friend of Jennifer May Swauger, daughter of Linda Marie Swauger. Judge Naughton granted a defense motion for a verdict in favor of Mr. Augustine in this case.

A second suit was filed by Mrs. Dolores Barry Jones as administratrix of the estate of her daughter, Linda Marie Swauger for funeral expenses for her daughter against Mr. Nicol. Another suit was filed in behalf of Miss Geraldine K. Pryor, infant, by Clarence L. Pryor, of Frostburg, against Mr. Nicol. She was a passenger in Mr. Nicol's car. The fourth suit was filed by Mr. Augustine and his wife.

The defendant offered to pay $30,000 damages among the various injured persons and it was left to Judge Naughton to determine how the damages should be divided. William W. Grant is attorney for Mrs. Swauger.

Orders dividing the money among six persons were filed last Friday in the Circuit Court in Cumberland.

Largest verdict of $8,500 was awarded in favor of Jennifer May Swauger, an infant, whose 16-year-old mother Mrs. Linda Marie Swauger, died as a result of the injuries.

Judge Naughton awarded $7,000 in favor of Darrell Fay Swauger who was a passenger in the car in which his young wife was fatally injured. He also was hurt in the crash.

A $6,000 verdict was given by the judge to Miss Geraldine K. Pryor, route 2, Frostburg, an 18-year-old girl who had brought suit through her father, Clarence L. Pryor. She was a passenger in the Nicol car. John Jay Augustine, Jr., Frostburg whose car was struck by Mr. Nicol, was awarded $4,000 damages. His wife, Mrs. Geneva Lois Augustine, a passenger in her husband's car, was rewarded $3,000. A final $1,500 was awarded to Mrs. Dolores Barry Jones, as administratrix of the estate of her daughter, Linda Marie Swauger, for funeral expenses for her daughter.

Junior fitting and showing honors among the 4-H'ers went to Becky Fike, of Oakland. She was named champion in her division.

Watershed Plans For Casselman Aired At Meeting

About 25 representatives from three counties attended a meeting August 5 at the Legion Home in Grantsville where a coordinated course of action was discussed for the upper Casselman River watershed.

Garrett and Allegany counties in Maryland and Somerset county in neighboring Pennsylvania were represented, the second in a planned series. The next meeting is set for October or November. Robert Glotfelty, chairman, county Soil Conservation district, presided. Attending from this county also were W. W. Nace, district conservationist; Col. Haig Jackson, of the Garrett County Economic Development company; and Charles C. Bender, former mayor of Grantsville.

Plans for the upper Casselman watershed, which flows northward from this county into Somerset county, call for five impoundments.

Events Above The Mountain Top

Paul S. Frank, Jr.

It is interesting to note that a micro-organism, Streptococcus mitus, which is often found in the human respiratory tract was brought back from the moon. Apollo 12 Astronauts removed a television camera from Surveyor III. The micro- organism was found in the camera and had apparently survived launch, the journey to the moon and 950 days in the lunar environment. It existed in a freeze-dried state during its strange journey.

Today sunrise was at 6:35 A. M. Sunset will be at 8:08 P.M. this evening. On the 26th Sunrise will be at 6:41 A.M. while sunset wil be at 7:59 P.M. The duration of daylight will decrease fifteen minutes during the week.

Correction Of Error In Assault Case Noted

Under the heading "Five Cases of Assault Listed" in The Republican dated August 13 it stated that Harry Faucett of Friendsville had filed bond. Also stated that: "The bond was forfeited in the amount of $50 and costs". This is according to the records as they were shown in the office of Trial Magistrate, Robert M. Maroney, Oakland, when this record was taken Tuesday morning, August 11. These records were in error and have since been changed to omit "forfeited". The Republican was not notified of the change until after publication.

The trial date has not been set.

This is Mary Sue. She has nice clothes and good food. I know, because sometimes I help feed and dress her.

What she doesn't have is a mother and a father. Oh, she has parents, but they're judged unfit to care for her.

Things must have been pretty bad for her at home. It took a long time to win her trust. The day she smiled was a major triumph for us all.

I'm a teen-age volunteer at a foundling home operated by our church. For most of the youngsters, this is the first experience with love and kindness, good food and clean clothes. Now I realize how important is our church's mission work.

Your church interprets God's love in its ministry to the sick and starving, the aged and the dispossessed. Support your church. Find joy in serving others.

THE ONLY SACRIFICE

Lesson for August 23, 1970

Background Scripture: Genesis 12 through 23; Romans 4; Hebrews 11:8-12, 17-19. Devotional Reading: Romans 4:13-25.

Why would Abraham want to sacrifice his own son?

The answer is that he didn't want to. It came to him as a conviction that this is what God wanted him to do. That is pretty difficult for us to understand, isn't it? Why should any man believe that God desired the death of a son for a sacrifice?

Rev. Althouse

If we answer that question from the perspective of a person living in our contemporary world of the twentieth century, the reply would have to be: No justifiable reason whatsoever! Today we would regard such an act as either madness or the depths of criminality.

When in Canaan . . . .

Abraham, however, was not a resident of the twentieth century and his civilization was very, very different from our own culture. He lived thousands of years before Christ was born and the religions of his day were crude and barbaric by comparison. Abraham lived in Canaan, a land where these cruel religions flourished in great variety. Some of them taught that the highest act of devotion to one's god was the sacrifice of a human being cherished by the worshipper. Whereas we would regard this as a grossly immoral act, they regarded it as the fulfillment of their religious obligation. Thus, the Canaanite who offered his first-born son (who was always valued most because he was the father's immediate heir), did not do so out of cruelty or brutality, but with a sense of humble self-sacrifice.

Abraham was aware that his Canaanite neighbors held human sacrifice to be the highest form of religious devotion and very likely he began to question himself as to whether God asked this of him also. He too must have come to look upon the sacrifice of one's first-born son as the supreme act of of submission to one's god.

The first-born

We usually regard the laying-down of one's life for someone else as the highest of all sacrifices. For Abraham, however, this would not have been so — as it may not be true for all of us today. In Abraham's day it was thought that one lived on after death only in one's children, particularly the son or sons through which the family line was to be perpetuated. The ancient man took comfort in knowing that, even if his own life were taken, his son would carry on the family name and tradition. So the loss of one's son, particularly the first-born son, was often regarded as a greater tragedy than the loss of one's own life. Even today fathers, if faced with a need to choose, would rather lay down their lives than allow their children to perish.

How fortunate when at last Abraham came to realize that the ways of his Canaanite neighbors were not God's ways. "God will provide" he had answered when Isaac asked about the animal that was to be sacrificed. Actually, his answer had been more accurate than he realized when he gave it. For it was when he was on the verge of sacrificing his son, God broke through to him and helped him to understand that he did not desire the death of Isaac, his son.

God will provide

God had indeed provided the needed sacrifice and Abraham learned that God does not desire human sacrifice. What a revolutionary idea this was for Abraham's day and age. At this point in history, by the grace of God, mankind took a giant step forward in his understanding of God.

Later, Abraham's descendents would make another great step forward in discovering what God really desires of us: "For thou hast no delight in sacrifice; were I to give a burnt offering, thou wouldst not be pleased. The sacrifice acceptable to God is a broken spirit, a broken and contrite heart . . . " (Psalms 51:15-17).

Two employes of the Garrett National Bank in Oakland who have had over 20 years of service, were presented with identical International Cub Cadet Garden tractors, complete with lawn mower and snow blower attachments by James H. Feaster, Jr., M.D., chairman of the Board of Directors. They were Nordeck Shaffer, vice president and cashier, on the left machine, and H. Rex Ttegarden, vice president and auditor, on the right. In the rear are some of the board members, left to right, Dr. Feaster, Thomas Johnson, Sr., Fred O. Johnson, Fred Glotfelty, William A. Shirer, J. Edward Helbig, Arthur Naylor and Tom Johnson, Jr. (See accompanying story.)

Given Cub Tractors For Long Service

At a recent surprise gathering at the Garrett National Bank in Oakland, two employes were honored for over 20 years of service each.

Nordeck Shaffer, vice-president and cashier, and H. Rex Teagarden, vice-president and auditor, were presented with identical International Cub Cadet garden tractors, complete with lawn mower and snow blower attachments, by Dr. James H. Feaster, Jr., chairman of the board of directors.

Dr. Feaster noted that the success of the bank could not be attributed to any one person but to loyal and faithful service of all connected with the bank. Following the presentation members of the board, officers and employes had cake and punch. The cake, an exact replica of the main office, was baked by Mrs. Georgia Sanders, route 1, Swanton, daughter of Fred Glotfelty, board member, and Mrs. Glotfelty, Oakland.

Mr. Shaffer, a graduate of Oakland High school and Catherman's Business school, started to work at the bank as a bookkeeper on November 1, 1949. He was promoted to assistant cashier in 1957 and vice-president and cashier in 1966, the position he presently holds. He had worked as deputy clerk in the office of the Circuit court for 12 years prior. He served in the U.S. Navy for four years during World War II and also served 18 months of active duty during the Korean conflict.

A member of St. Mark's Lutheran church, Mr. Shaffer presently serves as secretary of the Church council, is substitute Sunday School teacher and is also a member of the Oakland Volunteer fire department and serves as its secretary. He is also a member of the K. of P. lodge and Woodmen of the World. Married to the former Stella Leighton, Mr. Shaffer has two children and resides on Dennett road, Oakland.

Mr Teagarden, graduate of Oakland High school, started to work for the GNB on May 1, 1949, as bookkeeper. He was promoted to auditor in 1957 and vice-president and auditor in 1966, the position he presently holds.

He served in the U.S. Navy for four years during World War II, his main tour of duty being in the South Pacific. He was also called to duty during the Korean conflict and served one year.

An ardent supporter of the Red Cross blood program Mr. Teagarden has given seven gallons of blood, donating regularly since 1953. He and his wife, the former Elizabeth A. Filsinger, and their four children, attend the Mt. Lake Independent Baptist church. He is presently a member of Oakland Lodge No. 192., A., F. and A.M., and also the K of P lodge. They reside on 10th street, off Dennett road, in Oakland.

vs.
The Unknown Heirs, Devisees, and Personal Representatives of Thomas Watson, William Watson, Joseph Watson, and Frances Moderwell.

No. 5923 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to obtain a decree declaring absolute ownership of Lots Nos. 950, 952 and 954, as shown on the Plat of the Town of Mountain Lake Park, Maryland, to have been vested in Effie Louise Waters at the time of her death on January 29, 1970, and that the heirs, devisees and personal representatives of Thomas Watson, William Watson, Joseph Watson and Frances Moderwell will be enjoined from asserting any claim to said lots.

The Bill states:

That Martha Dent Watson was during her lifetime seized and possessed of three lots in the town of Mountain Lake Park, Garrett County, Maryland, which are known and designated as Lots Nos. 950, 952 and 954, as shown on the Plat of said town of Mountain Lake Park, which lots were conveyed to the said Martha Dent Watson as Mattie D. Watson by three deeds, the first from Park Improvement Company of Garrett County, Maryland, dated November 7, 1902, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T. No. 42, folio 550, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland; the second from Park Improvement Company of Garrett County, Maryland, dated March 23, 1903, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T. No. 44, folio 353, one of the said Land Records; and the third from Mountain Lake Park Association dated December 2, 1904, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T. No. 47, folio 581;

That the said Martha Dent Watson departed this life testate during the year 1905, a resident of Fairmont, Marion County, West Virginia. By the terms of her Last Will and Testament she attempted to devise the above described real estate in the following terms: "I give my Mountain Lake Park property to Louise Waters but in case she dies without issue to go to the heirs of my 3 brothers, Thomas, William and Joseph and the heirs of my sister, Frances Moderwell." That the said Last Will and Testament of Martha Dent Watson was never recorded among the Records of the Orphans' Court for Garrett County, Maryland, nor were any letters of administration granted by said Orphans' Court on the Estate of Martha Dent Watson;

That the said Louise Waters lived in a dwelling located on the said real estate from 1905 until her death on January 29, 1970. The said Louise Waters departed this life testate on the date aforesaid and by the terms of her last Will and Testament, recorded in Wills Liber H, Folio 471, one of the Wills Records of Garrett County, Maryland, she bequeathed and devised all her property and estate to three nieces, to-wit: Leora Wade, Madge Arnett and Freda Yost, who is now Freda Yost Starn. She appointed The First National Bank of Oakland as Executor of said Last Will and Testament and directed the said Executor to sell at either public or private sale all real estate and tangible personal property that she may own at the time of her death, except personal property specifically bequeathed and to pay the proceeds arising therefrom, after the payment of her debts and funeral expenses, to the three nieces, as aforesaid;

That it is the opinion of The First National Bank of Oakland that the said Louise Waters acquired title to said real estate by open, notorious and adverse use of same since 1905, until her death in 1970.

Since the death of the said Louise Waters, The First National Bank of Oakland, through its Trust Officer, has been in constructive and peaceable possession of said real estate.

That The First National Bank of Oakland has a duty as Executor of the Estate of the said Louise Waters to sell said real estate under the power of sale granted to it under her Will. That The First National Bank of Oakland has been advised by legal counsel that in the event of a public sale of said real estate the purchaser probably will not accept title.

That said real estate has been appraised for THREE THOUSAND DOLLARS ($3000.00);

That there is no action at law, nor any proceeding in Equity pending to enforce or test the validity of the title to said real estate;

That the probable contentions of prospective buyers of said real estate are without merit and constitute a cloud upon the title to said real estate.

It is thereupon ORDERED this 27th day of July, 1970, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, that the plaintiff by having a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks before the 21st day of August, 1970, giving notice to the unknown heirs, devisees and personal representatives of Thomas Watson, William Watson, Joseph Watson and Frances Moderwell, of the object and substance of the Bill of Complaint and warning them to be and appear in this Court either in person or by an attorney, on or before the 21st day of September, 1970, to show cause, if any they may have, why a Decree should not be passed as prayed.

The principal and interest to be paid in equal annual amortized installments beginning with the initial payment on January 1, 1972, and annually thereafter on January 1, until the principal and interest are fully paid, except the final payment of the entire indebtedness, if not sooner paid, shall be due and payable 40 years from its date. The amount of such equal annual installments (which will include both principal and interest) shall be computed on the basis of the interest rate bid by the successful bidder on the declining principal balance method. Each annual payment shall be applied, first, to the payment of the accrued interest, and, second, to the payment of principal. Prepayments of any installment may be made in any amount at any time at the option of the Town.

Immediately following receipt of said bids, the same will be opened and read in the presence of the Mayor and Town Council and the award will be made by the said Mayor and Town Council on the same day, subject to and in acordance with this Notice of Sale.

The Bond hereby authorized, together with the interest thereon, shall be payable from the gross income and revenue to be derived from the operation of the multipurpose structure at Site No. 6 on the Little Youghiogheny River Watershed, a sufficient portion of which has been assigned and pledged and set aside to pay the principal and interest as and when the same shall become due, and this assignment and pledge shall extend to and include any assessments that may subsequently be levied. In addition, the full faith and credit of the Mayor and Town Council is pledged (as construed by Article 23A of the Annotated Code of Maryland, Section 37) to the repayment of this Bond and the interest thereon in the event that the revenues received from the facilities being financed hereby are insufficient for that purpose. The Bond will be issued pursuant to a Resolution of the Mayor and Town Council duly adopted on August 3, 1970, for the purposes of financing a portion of the portion allocated to the Mayor and Town Council for the construction of a multi-purpose structure at Site No. 6 on the Little Youghiogheny River Watershed for the purpose of providing a municipal water supply for the Town of Oakland, in Garrett County, Maryland.

Said Bond will be payable to the order of the successful bidder. Principal and interest will be payable in lawful money of the United States of America at the time specified for payment therein at the office of the Clerk of the Mayor and Town Council, Oakland, Maryland.

Bidders are requested to name the annual rate of interest to be borne by the Bond on which rate this bid is based and submitted. Interest rates must be in multiples of one-eighth (⅛th) or one-tenth (1/10th) of one per centum (1%), and may not exceed the annual rate of three and 256/1000th percentum (3.256%). Bids will be submitted only on the face amount of the Bond without discount or premium. The Bond will be awarded to the bidder naming the lowest interest rate for the Bond in any legally acceptable proposal. Where the bids of two or more bidders are for the same lowest interest rate, the Mayor and Town Council will have full and absolute discretion to determine to which of said bidders said Bond will be awarded.

The right is reserved to reject any and all bids.

Each proposal must be for the entire Bond and must be enclosed in a sealed envelope, addressed to the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland, City Hall, Oakland, Maryland, 21550, and marked on the outside, "Proposal for Purchase of $292,400.00 Oakland Watershed Construction Bond of 1970." Addition Set For Dial Office

Construction is well underway on an addition to the Grantsville dial office building of the C. and P. Telephone company, according to R. K. Dayton, manager at Cumberland.

Adding the cost of the building addition and of the call handling equipment it will house, Mr. Dayton said the expansion program means an outlay by the company of about $50,000.

The building program is in progress because the switching equipment that handles telephone calls for the Grantsville area has almost outgrown the space currently available and even more equipment will soon be needed, he explained.

The one-story masonry structure is scheduled to be ready for installation of telephone switching equipment in September. Carl Belt, Inc., was awarded the contract for construction of the addition.

Saigon said that North Vietnam was told by the Soviets that they would not increase military aid for a war in Laos.

THE REPUBLICAN

Solution?...

Several solutions are being offered to break the impasse between the former county workers and the County Commissioners. An interested taxpayer offered one of them this week. We have one of our own.

We suggest the Commissioners agree to put the men back to work, holding no grudge. Let them hire as many additional workers as are needed for a full complement to get work under full steam. Provide the additional wages as indicated in a previous offer. Then when new commissioners are elected, have a meeting of all workers, supervised either by the National Labor Relations board or any bipartisan committee. Let them vote by secret ballot on whether or not they desire to join a union. It is our understanding that originally there was no secret ballot on the strike. There was only a voice vote and a show of hands, which is no true indication of how some of the workers may have felt. In other words the vote for the union could have been a forced one. And the court has ruled that the strike itself was

No Change Is Indicated In Roads Problem

International Union President Visits Strikers, Presents Check

The County Commissioners and Union officials including Jerry Wurf, international president of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, met Monday but no change was reported in ending the county's 144-day road workers' strike.

Hubert A. Friend, president of the commissioners, said the Union was still demanding union recognition and the dues check-off system, and there was no change in the position of the Commissioners. They have consistently refused to recognize the union.

Commissioner John Ross Sines told the union president that he considered the strike to be illegal since the workers took the strike action before their contract expired in June. Sines said neither side would make any concessions and Mr. Wurf offered no solutions for ending the strike.

The one-day county visit made by Mr. Wurf was an effort by him to assist in solving the strike. The action began April 7 and has continued to this day.

Mr. Wurf gave a check for $5,000 to the road workers and made a pledge for $1,000 more each week for as long as the strike continued. He spoke to approximately 100 members of the Local 1834 and said the "county commissioners are badly mistaken if they think they can starve these men into a settlement." He arrived at the county garage in Oakland around 8 a. m. and talked with pickets, later he met with the Commissioners. With him at the meeting were Calvin Rinker, Jack Sowers, Charles Lowdermilk, Ernest S. Friend, county workers, also Ronald J. Estreet, Cachese Lipschitz, Fred Barbash, Melvin W. Fisher president of Maryland Public Employes council, Andrew A. Lewis, Jr., secretary of the Maryland and D. C. AFL-CIO council; and Ernest Crofoot.

A hearing is set for September 4 in the Circuit Court before Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill, at which time the union will be required to show cause why it of court for violating an order should not be held in contempt limiting the size of picket lines and barring interference with attempts to perform road repairs.

Ninth In Racing

Gordon "Sandy" Douglass, local boat manufacturer of the Flying Scots and other racing models, accompanied by Eric Ammann and Fred A. Thayer returned last Saturday from Milwaukee, Wisc., where they had participated in the Flying Scot National boat races on Lake Michigan.

Douglass and his crew placed ninth in competition and had it not been for an unfortunate occurrence, would have won the regatta for the seventh time. Sandy has been the winner on six previous occasions.

Sandy had low score in four of five races but during the 5th race while running second, was caught on a port tack and was eliminated. His boat touched another as the result of a back wave, which is not allowed.

Forbes Repeats As Golf Champ

Jack Forbes, Morgantown, W. Va., fired a final day total of 145 to win his second straight Western Maryland Amateur golf championship by one stroke Sunday at the Oakland Country club.

Forbes, who won the tourney last year, became the second repeater in the eight year history of the tournament when he scored a 297 to edge out Charley Miller, of Cumberland's Maplehurst Country club who finished with a 298.

Forbes shot a 72 and 73 in the final two rounds, while Miller took a 79 in the third 18 and calmed down to post a 72 in the final round. At halfway mark Forbes was tied for seventh with a 152 total while Miller was in a tie for second place with a 147.

Jim Goodwin, Morgantown, wound up with a 72-hole total of 299, good for third place. Goodwin was deadlocked with Miller after the first 36 holes.

Larry Spotloe, Philippi, W. Va., scored a 146 in the first two rounds to lead at the midway point, but soared to 146 in the final rounds to finish in fourth place with a 300 total.

Joe "Pepper" Inskeep, Rawlings, the other two-time winner, in 1964 and 1965, was fifth with a 302 score.

Forbes, Miller and Goodwin were awarded trophies for their top finishes and they also had the pick of over $1,700 in prizes collected by the host pro, Jim Kreyenbuhl.

Sunday's early round was played in a steady rain but the sun broke through to dry the course for the afternoon play.

Some of the other scores: Robert Welch, Oakland, 308; Lindsay Gonder, Hagerstown, formerly Oakland, 308; Bud Hinebaugh, Oakland, 310; Rob Sharps, Oakland, 322; Gene Helbig, Oakland, 331.

A field of 95 golfers, players from five states, participated in the tournament, a record for the eight-year event. Players competed from Maryland, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and the District of Columbia.

There were 18 holes of play on Friday, 18 on Saturday and 36 on Sunday with the low 36 players competing in the Sunday event. There were 101 players listed prior to the beginning of the tourney, but five of them withdrew prior to play.

Steve Wood, Morgantown, the 1967 winner, set an all-time low for the 72-hole course when he led the field three years ago with a 290. He did not compete this year.

The 6,525 yard 18-hole course was in good shape for the tournament.

Historical Tour To Include Allegany County This Year

The sixteenth annual historical tour under auspices of the Garrett County Historical society will take a new twist, providing at least thirty-five or forty plan to participate.

In the plans the tour will take place on Saturday, September 26, and will be conducted in Allegany county, it was announced by Paul T. Calderwood, president.

All points to be visited will be located within the mother county, Allegany. The tour has been arranged for the local society by Mrs. R. C. Isiminger, Sr., president of Cumberland's Operation Gateway. It will be a tour by bus, leaving the Woman's Civic club, Washington street, Cumberland, at 9:45 a.m. with the first stop at the county's history house, then Emmanuel Episcopal church, Fort Cumberland tunnels, and George Washington headquarters. Each place will be staffed by guides to explain the historical significance.

Bus or buses would then proceed to the C and O canal. Paw Paw tunnel, where a box lunch would be served at a picnic area. A talk concerning the tunnel and canal would be given by W. D. McClanahan, superintendent of the Antietam National Military park and the C and O canal national monument. Corn Blight Hits Lightly In County

The southern corn blight has been showing up in mild stages in Garrett County corn crops, according to James McHenry, county agent.

The corn blight has swept across the country this year due to constant summer rains and high humidity which are ideal conditions for the blight to flourish.

Mr. McHenry said the blight was noticed somewhat last year in the northern part of the county and this year it has spread to the southern area of the county. "This year is a bad season for all blights," he said.

Leaf spot, caused by a fungus, was explained by O D. Morgan, plant pathologist, University of Maryland college of agriculture. He said the disease generally starts on lower leaves and by movement of spores, by rain or wind, gradually moves up the plant. Under severe infestations the leaf sheaths, stalks and ears may be attacked. Spots are about one half to one inch long and one-eighth to one-quarter inch wide with brownish centers and reddish brown

Japanese Beetles Appear Numerous

Japanese beetles seem to be more numerous on the mountain top this year than ever before and the County Extension office is receiving numerous calls for assistance.

Years ago scout traps were used to learn just how heavy the infestation was in this county and a number of farmers are asking why these could not be set out again. James McHenry, county agent, explained that these were never used for control but just for a scouting program.

The beetles will be leaving the area in August, after laying their eggs on lawns. The eggs will form grubs which burrow into the ground and remain until about June when they will hatch. In former years the ground has been frozen to such an extent that the grubs are killed, but McHenry said that last year due to the large amount of snow which covered the ground for a large part of the season the frost did not go too deeply.

He recommended the use of five percent Chlordane spray, five pounds to the 1,000 square feet on lawns or the use of Seven spray or dust, for control of next year's crop of Japanese beetles.

A-Frame Complex Ground Broken

Ground was broken last Thursday, August 20, for construction of a series of A-frame buildings to provide at least 34 families with Deep Creek Lake summer properties, according to an announcement by Thomas E. Schroyer, president of Tesco Properties, Inc.

Construction will be done by the Thomas E. Schroyer and Company, of Washington, D. C. Mr. Schroyer a year or more ago acquired some fifteen acres of land, near the Holy Cross camp and near the old Oakland boy scout camp. The property will be divided into some 34 lots with a half acre or more to each lot.

Mr. Schroyer said these A-frame buildings would be constructed on 34 lots that would face some two hundred feet of frontage on Deep Creek Lake. Size of the buildings is 24 by 38 feet with a living room, kitchen and bath downstairs with two and three bedrooms on second. The first floor would contain some 1,000 square feet of space. He said the buildings probably would be furnished.

Other officers of the company include Patricia Schroyer, secretary-treasurer; Jonas McKenzie, vice-president.

No completion date was set. The facility is not far from the construction of the first phase of a 55-unit lakefront condominium eventually to consist of fourteen two and three bedroom townhouse units scheduled for a 10-acre site adjacent to the old Boy Scout camp on Hoop-pole inlet of the lake.

Shoots Out Windows

There was malicious destruction of property at the T. M. Thompson Gun shop on U.S. 219, near Sand Flat, on Saturday night, for the second time within a month. Sunday night a passing motorist shot out some of the windows on the second floor of the dwelling, using a rifle or pistol. Some time ago some windows on the lower floor were shot out.

Delbert Swartzentruber, deputy sheriff, investigated the occurrence but no clues to the perpetrator were uncovered. No plausible reason was given for the shooting. He apparently is not involved in the roads dispute.

Male Juveniles Are Tried Last Week

Two male juveniles were tried in the Garret County Circuit Court, both on August 20. Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill heard both cases sitting as juvenile judge.

A 17 year old male of Blaine, W. Va., was charged with being delinquent. He was specifically charged with trespassing on the property of James C. Lipscomb, Kitzmiller, after being notified to keep off said property. The case was dismissed by Judge Hamill upon motion of the defense council.

Another male 14 years old, near Oakland, was charged with being delinquent. The specific charge was unauthorized use of a 1965 Chevrolet pick-up truck owned by Issac Beckman, Oakland. He was also charged with operating a motor vehicle without a driver's license. Judge Hamill found him to be a delinquent minor. He was sentenced to the Maryland Training School for Boys until released by due process of law. The sentence was suspended upon condition that he be of good behavior generally and refrain from any infraction of the law. He was placed under the supervision and jurisdiction of the Garret County department of Juvenile Services and is to abide by their rules and regulations.

National Christmas Tree Growers Meet

Members from 30 states and 3 provinces of Canada met at Burlington, Vermont, August 19, 20, and 21 for the 6th annual Christmas Tree Growers Association convention, Dr. F. D. Custer, trustee for the Maryland Christmas Tree Growers, entered a white spruce Christmas tree for Maryland in the National Tree contest. Winners of the contest furnish a tree each year for the Blue Room of the White House.

The convention featured scientific papers and panel discussions on the various problems relating to Christmas tree production. The air pollution problem confronting Western Maryland and adjacent West Virginia was discussed, with Dr. Francis Gouin, University of Maryland, being one of the principal speakers.

According to Dr. Custer, the National Christmas Tree Growers association is making an effort to acquaint the public with the role that evergreen trees play in benefiting the environment. He pointed out that for many years the Christmas tree beautifies the landscape, cleanses the air, produces oxygen and protects the water supply. When it is cut, other trees are freed to make a similar contribution.

Student Voices

On Cultivating Your Education
by Rita Shrout

As summer draws to a close, many of us are occupied with school preparations. Let us not, though, be content to have only our books and clothes in order; our minds, too, should be in the proper state.

The purpose of high school education is as I see it, twofold. Most obvious, of course, is academic advancement. The other purpose, self-discovery and the relation of that self to others, is less definable and certainly more difficult to achieve. The development of the first category often has the assistance of parents as a result of their demands for good grades. Although most students themselves realize the value of good grades parental pressure is a necessary addition to get the job done. On the other hand, self-discovery is exactly what it implies: self. It must be performed by the individual alone.

Many students returning to school this fall will be unhappy to do so—not necessarily because of an aversion to math, a dislike for social studies, or a dread of science; but because they are personally discontented and unhappy. They blame the school, the administration, the other students; and still they continue resigning themselves to the condition year after year. Everyone wants to be happy, but how many want to work for it? To build it? To cultivate it? I like the words of George Bernard Shaw:

We have no more right to consume happiness without producing it than to consume wealth without producing it.

True happiness stems from self-discovery—the latter part of education. Unfortunately our school systems cannot teach students to be happy; each person has a happines unique to himself. Some find happiness in activity, some it in making others happy. In returning to school however, the most beneficial happiness, I think would be a happiness in ourselves. If we will take pride in our work, alongside knowing ourself as a best friend, our cultivated happiness habit would be ready for harvest.

Changes In State School Lunch Programs Listed

At a special briefing of cafeteria supervisors held in Baltimore Monday, August 24, William Watson, Jr., Garrett County supervisor, was informed of the following changes in the school lunch program for the school year 1970-71.

As of September 1, there will be no more 100 percent free programs in the state of Maryland such as have been operating in five schools in Garrett County. Free lunches will be allotted according to new guidelines given to all principals in the county, based on family income and hardship factors of the home, namely, number of children in the home attending school, illness in the family, unusual expenses, seasonal employment, and child neglect.

By January 1, 1971, Public Law 91-248 must be implemented. The following chart outlines the family gross income limits for reduced or free lunches under this law. These limits are also affected by the hardship factors.

The chart shows the number in the family, the reduced cost lunches and free lunches, the figures being respectively:

1— $1,920, $1,140; 2— $2,252, $1,548, 3—, $3,120, $1,968; 4— $3,720, $2,352; 5— $4,270, $2,748; 6— $4,820, $3,000; 7— $5,320, $3,348; 8— $5,820, $3,660; add for each additional family member, $450, $312.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

The real "far out" liberal wing in government either is getting quite tired and neglectful of some things, or perhaps it has developed some most devious devices for going underground to smite the opposition hip and thigh.

It has recently revealed by the prestigious Wall Street Journal that many employers not only refuse to hire men with beards, but even go to the extent of firing them if they grow beards while on the job. The United States Post Office has even been involved in this problem with letter carriers in the queen city of the "hippies," San Francisco.

C. W. Harder

This is quite amazing in view of all the fair employment legislation that has been pushed through the Congress. Yet in all the vast sections and sub sections, there is nothing to indicate that discrimination against beards is an unfair practice.

There are quite definite restrictions against discriminating in the hiring of women. In fact, if an employer gives a job to a man in preference to a woman, he can be called upon to explain just why a woman could not do the work as well.

This apparently does not come up in Russia where women are employed to drive tractors, as brick layers, and hod carriers. So apparently the rationale is what is good enough for Russian women is good enough for Americans.

But nothing is said in all this law about discriminating against beards, which is quite amazing folly on consideration.

For example, it was not too long ago that the forces of the majesty of the government of the United States was called into action when the owner of a cocktail lounge dismissed two waitresses well in their thirties and replaced with younger chicks on the basis the older girls were not sexy enough. This was termed an unfair labor practice, but no decision was really reached after prolonged deliberations, as no government official wanted to be so ungallant, not to mention politically unwise, as to rule at what age a woman loses her sex appeal. This is perhaps a ruling that even Solomon would have ducked, so perhaps the bureaucrats should not be censured for their temerity.

But this matter of beards is another thing. It is perhaps horrifying to contemplate that bureaucrats have completely over looked the fact that an employer not wanting beards on his payroll may be guilty of an unfair labor practice.

But perhaps this is not an oversight but a devious, low blow at the opposition.

Because as is well known, Pat Frawley is a supporter of conservative movements such as Dr. Schwartz's crusade against communism. Pat is also head of Schick. Schick makes razors.

Review of The Play

As summer nears its end, and Labor Day portends the unofficial end of the fun and sun on Deep Creek Lake, we sadly say goodbye to the 16th season of the Garrett County Playhouse. Yes, this is the last week of eight, which has brought to GCP goers much enjoyment.

This show, twin comedies, is titled "The Private Ear and The Public Eye." What a show to end the season. The first of the two, "The Private Ear" requires one to think of what the author is trying to tell us. You use your imagination, and observe how a very shy young bachelor tries to get a girl to like him. To tell you my interpretation of this show would give too much of the plot away. You'll have a different one anyway. The shy young man is played by Milburn Mehlhop, who throughout this season has portrayed many parts. Milburn again is outstanding, and will long be remembered by GCP audiences as a tremendous actor. None in theatre today has any better expressions than Milburn. The other young man in the comedy is Tony Bruskas. Tony has great potential for the theatre, and should he follow this vocation, would be a hit with all audiences. Jana Hahn, all season long, has been wonderful. She is as natural as Doreen, the girl in the play. Jana, to me, has matured into a fine actress this year, and her portrayals of various characters, have grown better each week.

The second of these two, "The Public Eye" has Milburn Mehlhop showing his versatility as an actor, playing an entirely different part from the first one. He is the "private eye" who turns into a psychologist, and an expert marriage Counselor. Milburn is just great, I don't know what else to say about him. David Cramer, another newcomer to GCP audiences this year, is another who shows much talent. Not only has David poise, personality and good looks, he is a good actor. Dave has been most exciting this season, and he too, should be tops if he continues in the theatre. The third one in this play is Susan Stoner. Susan has been one of GCP audience favorites for the past four years. As Belinda in this play, she is delightful.

The 1970 season at GCP has been an exciting one, and most entertaining. Bob Nesbitt in his direction of the plays has done an excellent job. We would be remiss if we did not mention the work of Fred Edwards, who doubles as Stage Manager, and Properties Manager. The Tecnical Director along with Lighting was done by Sean Spriggs. Both have done outstanding work.

Gene and Barbara leave next Thursday for London, Italy, Spain, and will return to the University of New Mexico next February. It will be a working trip as both will be seeking new plays for the future. Go see "The Private Ear and The Public Eye" at the Garrett County Playhouse this week. Last day will be Saturday.

margins. Another species of the same fungus causes a much larger spot. They are brown and range in size from one to four inches by one-fourth to one inch wide and are usually boat shaped. This is the Northern corn leaf blight.

Damage to the corn this year in southern and mideastern states has been estimated at 10 to 50 percent loss. In Maryland the Eastern Shore appears hardest hit at present.

Mr. Morgan said the early corn crop may escape with light damage, late corn could be damaged if the weather continues to be hot and humid.

He explained that both the Southern and Northern leaf blights could be controlled by the use of resistant hybrids. He said not much could be done once the disease has attacked the corn. Seed treatment or crop rotation appear to have no effect. A fungicide spray could be used when corn is high but would have to be done by airplane which is too expensive, for the amount of saving effected, he said.

If the vote indicated that the majority of workers desired a union, let them have a union, and if not, then let the union desist in its attempt to organize the men.

The workers on their part would agree to postpone their demand for union recognition until after the general election, which is only weeks away.

In the meantime roads could be taken care of and plans developed for adequate care this winter with prompt removal of the snow that is sure to come. The workers also have a civic responsibility.

There is certainly no hope for any kind of mutual agreement as of now. If accepted by both sides, road workers would have jobs with money coming in regularly. The citizens would have the benefit of normal highways once again which is their right to expect. Road workers would show themselves responsible citizens and the Commissioners would indicate their willingness to compromise. All this present animosity would be dissipated.

Museum Acquires Railroad Artifact

Reprinted from The Glades Star

An artifact manufactured one hundred and twenty-six years ago and only recently unearthed at Mount Savage, Maryland, has been presented to the Garrett County Historical Museum at Oakland. The artifact is a piece cut from one of the first wrought iron rails produced in the United States of America at the Old Rail Furnace established by the Mount Savage Iron Works. There, in 1844, the first wrought iron rails were produced. This was a very important achievement that contributed to the development of the American railway system. And it is of particular interest to know that the Old Rail Furnace site was in Allegany County. At that time, Allegany County included all of what is now Garrett County in western Maryland.

The Museum's unusual acquisition resulted from the friendly interest in its existence and the cooperation of railroad men who are employed by the Western Maryland Railway Company and the C&O/B&O Railroad Company. The original Mount Savage rail that is represented was discovered by Mr. Henry Huffman, B&B Foreman for the Western Maryland, in the old Mount Savage bridge and given by him to Train Master, Mr. M. C. DelSignore, of the Western Maryland Company. Mr. DelSignore, learning of the museum through his friend, Mr. Thomas S. Gifford, Jr., of the C&O/B&O Rules Committee, gave the artifact to Mr. Gifford as a presentation for the local museum. Mr. Gifford is a former resident of Terra Alta, W. Va.

Historical marker near Mount Savage between Frostburg and Barrellville. U-shaped piece cut from an iron rail made in Old Furnace works in 1844. Rail artifact picture by Robert Sincell.

No Participation Policy For Election Boards

The Garrett County Board of Election Supervisors has been notified along with other county boards in the state to advise members and employes to refrain from engaging in partisan political activity during next month and November.

The letter, received from Willard A. Morris, administrator of the state administrative Board of Election laws, was sent to all boards at the request of Gov. Marvin Mandel.

With the primary election scheduled September 15, and the general election slated for November 3, Gov. Mandel said "such activity should be avoided by Election Board members and employes, because of the sensitive nature of their work in protecting the voting rights of individuals and the possibility of conflicts of interest."

Nuclear power radiation is said not dangerous.

KNOW YOUR ENEMY!

HOW DOES LSD ("ACID") ACT?

ITS "TRIPS" ARE SCARY

LSD is so powerful that an amount covering a pinhead can turn a person into a monster. It enters the brain and confuses the senses. A sound may appear as a color. A fire seems to be a fragrant flower, so that the user reaches for it or puts his face to it and suffers a severe burn.

A feeling of lightness can influence an LSD user so he thinks he can fly and he does, right out of the window to his death. He is out of touch with reality. If he has a "good trip," he can recover. But, months later, he can get the LSD effects without taking another dose.

LSD does not improve the personality or increase one's creativity. A "good trip" just gives you some new experiences. A "bad trip" can make you mentally unstable. Your brain might not be able to take it. Keep away from LSD.

The next of these Public Service messages will discuss Marijuana or "Brass."

23 Are Killed On State Highways

Twenty-three persons were killed on Maryland highways last week, according to the survey published by the State Police. Nine of those killed were drivers, ten were passengers, and four were pedestrians. Alcohol was a contributing factor in four of the deaths, speed in fourteen, and "driver error" in all but two.

"Heavy rains and slippery roads contributed to at least five deaths on Maryland highways last week," noted Lt. Col. W. H. Conroy, deputy superintendent of the Maryland State Police.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor, The Republican:

After reading Mr. Friend's letter, I decided it was time readers had a look at the other side of this issue. The so-called county bus mentioned was not a county bus but a junk bus using county licenses. We own a junk pickup. Wonder if we couldn't use our car tags on it and call it lawful? Maybe then we could be called good law abiding citizens.

As for needing outside help. Our men have worked hard all their lives. They are in condition to take care and defend their own selves, any time, any place, without outside help.

How about all the so-called good sympathizers on the other side. You didn't mention them, Mr. Friend. You said no arrests were made but what about the good law abiding men who were arrested for having guns and loading them to use on our men? Your so-called good citizens attacked our men with meat hooks. There was little said about that.

About rape being committed on your people. I'm sure all our men have much better taste than to want any of your inbreds.

Why should you worry about what the union has to offer us? We certainly didn't ask you to be bothered. The union has helped every family and I emphasize EVERY family who stuck with them. In fact we are living as good or better now than when our men were working for the meager wages they were paid.

As far as violence and the so-called meek citizens, I think it's time people wake up to just where the violence is starting from. I remember while you were representing us in the political forum that a good citizen carried a broken jaw from you over a little dispute. How is that for meekness? If Mr. Sines doesn't think our law enforcers are doing their job, why does he always want them to protect him?

Wake up Garrett County and take a good look around you. Not just at the road workers. We don't want violence but our union is here to stay.

Mrs. Charles Bateman

Area Lions Meet For Zone Session

Some ninety members of area Lions clubs attended a zone meeting hosted by the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park club Monday night at the club booth at the McHenry fairgrounds. There was a dinner of spare ribs, corn on the cob, barbecued chicken and shrimp.

Lions club members attended also from Grantsville, Kitzmiller, Tri-Towns and LaVale, and were introduced by President Earl Clark. Joseph Dorsey, district governor, spoke on American heritage and the essay contest on patriotism now being conducted by Lions International. Harry Larrick, sight conservation chairman, spoke on the medical eye bank, which the local club helps to sponsor.

It was noted the Rex-The Lion award for maintaining membership the past year was won by the local club. President Clark also revealed the club had grossed about $3,000 from the chicken barbecue dinners during fair week. Some 50 youth who used the free bus to Herrington Manor for swimming supplied by the Lions, wrote their note of thanks.

The board announced it was giving $75 to the Junior Woman's Civic club for preparation of some 60 bags for local soldiers now serving in Vietnam. The board also will provide a float in the Autumn Glory parade. The Lions club won a first last year.

At the next meeting September 14, Harry Lipps, district governor, will speak and meet with the Board of Directors. Committee chairmen are to present their plans for the year. Club members plan to operate the concession booth at Southern High football games with Jim Crabtree in charge.

Hitler Chavez . . .

After a five year "strike" against the workers and growers of California grapes, one would expect loud rejoicing upon the part of those across the nation who helped the "United Farmworkers" to maintain a grape boycott. Other than the announcement that a large number of the growers had capitulated, however, there has been very little said about the results. It may be that those who were patsies for Cesar Chavez are too embarrassed to reveal the outcome.

By way of background, there never was a "strike." The farm workers were happy with their jobs, their income, and their employers; they did not want to join a union and refused to do so. When Chavez failed to recruit the workers, he turned to the boycott as a means to blackmail the growers into capitulation—which is exactly what happened.

The contract which has now been signed, therefore, is not between the workers and growers; it is between Chavez and the growers. The details of that contract have been quietly hushed up. The only report we have seen was by the news columnist James Kilpatrick, who revealed that the key passages in the contract read:

"Union membership shall be a condition of employment. Each worker shall be required to become a member of the union immediately following seven (7) days of employment, and to remain a member of union in good standing. Union shall be the sole judge of the good standing of its members."

"Any worker who fails to become a member of the union within the time limit set forth herein, or who fails to pay the required initiation fees, periodic dues or regularly authorized assessments as prescribed by the union shall be immediately discharged upon written notice from the union to company."

So, as reported by Mr. Kilpatrick, the workers sign — or else. They have no other choice. They have no control over the amount of initiation fee, the dues, or the union assessments—all of this has been pre-determined by Hitler Chavez. If they don't join, they don't work.

Election Ballots For ASC Group To Be Mailed Soon

On September 1, ASC community election ballots will be mailed to all known eligible farm voters, according to I. William Umbel, Chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and conservation committee.

Farm voters may vote for up to three of the candidates listed, or they may write in their choices on lines provided at the bottom of the ballot. To be counted, all ballots must be properly signed and mailed or returned to the County ASCS Office by September 11. Votes will be tabulated openly on September 15 at 9:00 A.M. at the ASCS Office.

In each of the eight ASC communities in the county, three community committeemen and two alternates will be elected. The candidate receiving the largest number of votes becomes chairman; the next, vice-chairman; third high, regular member; fourth and fifth highest become first and second alternates.

The three community committeemen elected will serve as delegates to the County Election Convention to elect farmers to fill vacancies on the County ASC Committee and to name a chairman and vice-chairman of the county committee.

The County Convention open to the public will be held at the ASCS Office Monday, September 21, at 9:30 A.M.

A list of known eligible voters is open for inspection at the County ASCS Office. Any person who believes he is an eligible voter but who is not listed should get in touch with the County ASCS Office as soon as possible, Mr. Umble said.

He also said that any voter who has not received a ballot in the mail within a few days after September 1 should call the County ASCS Office to arrange a duplicate ballot if necessary.

Miss Broughton Weds Lt. Foley

Miss Catherine Elizabeth Broughton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Broughton, Columbus, Ga., became the bride of Lt. Anthony O. Foley, of Fort Benning, Ga., and Oakland, a son of Mrs. John C. Foley and the late Mr. Foley, at 7:30 p. m., on Tuesday, August 4.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Marvin J. LeFrois officiated at St. Anne's Catholic church.

Robert Browning, Oakland, was best man and usher. Groomsmen were David W Chandler and Billy Gene Frost.

Miss Deborah Ruth Broughten was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a street-lenth pale yellow rayon-blend Empire dress with embroidered trim and a matching bow in her hair. Her bouquet was a nosegay of white and yellow carnations and pompon daisies.

The bride's father gave her in marriage. She chose a street-length white brocade ensemble with seed pearl trim. Her short veil of illusion was attached to a bow. Her bouquet of white carnations was centered with a yellow-throated white orchid.

The bride's parents entertained with a reception at their home. Miss Linda Tate kept the bride's book, and assisting in serving were Miss Mary Lou Crowley, Phoenix City, Alabama; Miss Jeanette McNair and Miss Yvonne Brady.

A reception was held at the home of his mother during their wedding trip to this area. They are now residing at 1906 35th street, Columbus.

Observe 60th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Friend celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary, August 22, at their home in Selbysport, Md.

Their wedding took place in Friendsville August 20, 1910.

Maryland Signs Bloomington Dam Gov't Contract

Maryland has signed a contract with the Federal government which clears the way for construction of the Bloomington dam on the North Branch of the Potomac. J. Millard Tawes, secretary of the State Department of Natural Resources, announced the transaction.

The dam, to be located some eight miles upstream from the confluence of the Savage river with the Potomac at Bloomington, will serve to reduce flood hazards downstream and to augment the flow of the North Branch during dry periods.

Water is to be used for municipal and industrial water supply. Limited recreational facilities are planned.

James R. Worsley, chairman of the Maryland Potomac Water Authority, signed a contract for the purchase of water stored in the reservoir. The authority was created by an act of the Maryland General Assembly during the 1958 session and authorized to contract with the United States for water supply. Federal policy requires that a local unit of government agree to pay that portion of dam construction, operation and maintenance costs attributable to water supply purposes. Costs attributable to flood control and water quality improvement will be paid by the federal government.

The Maryland Potomac Water authority includes members from this county. The costs for water supply will be paid to the United States over the next 50 years. Costs will be allocated among the counties in proportion to the amount of water each county uses. The Maryland General Assembly passed a resolution in 1968 which authorized Maryland to contribute one-third of these non-federal funds.

Woman Collapses On Oakland Street

A Hyattsville woman collapsed in front of Matthew's store on Second Street in Oakland just before one o'clock Monday.

She was Mrs. Catherine Gast, 50, of 4102 Longfellow St., Hyattsville. When she revived she said she had a heart problem and had been subject to these attacks before. She was alone, as her husband was elsewhere in town when the incident occurred. They are on vacation at Deep Creek Lake.

She was taken to the Garrett County Memorial Hospital in the Minnich ambulance where she was treated and released.

Lake Couple Place 5th In Jet Racing

Tom and Marilyn Johnson, with their 14-foot Jet boat from Deep Creek Lake, were pictured in the recreation section of the Sunday Sun, Baltimore, on August 23. They took a fifth place in the overall standings in a sailing contest at Vermilion, Ohio, on Lake Erie last week.

The Johnsons were the only members of the Deep Creek Lake Yacht club to make the journey to Lake Erie. After an ill-boding 21st in the warm-up race, they took a fifth and then an 18th when they lost sight of a windward mark in the yellow haze and overstood it. But they followed up a sixth and a third with a tie for second place in the last race, moving them into the trophy circle with a fifth over the entire series.

What can all this conglomeration have in common?

Nothing, you may say — no two people in the world are exactly alike!

But they do have something in common, you know — something very important — they are all human beings. No matter how different, the point is they have the same hopes and ambitions and frustrations as you and I.

You and I like to think we are a little different, of course. But you and I share something with all other human beings — something very precious. We are all loved by God, and we should all return a little of that love to Him every Sunday — in the church of our choice.

Something in common

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

THE FAT LIFE

Lesson for August 30, 1970

Background Scripture: Genesis 13:8-13; 18 through 19; 2 Peter 2:6-9.
Devotional Reading: 1 Corinthians 10:6-13.

It is said that, as a boy, John D. Rockefeller, Sr., was a strong, husky farm lad. When he entered the business world he used his great strength to drive himself unmercifully. At the age of thirty-three he had earned his first million dollars. By age forty-three he was in control of the largest business in the world. Ten years later he had become the world's richest man.

Rev. Althouse

Yet, as he spent his great strength to develop his financial empire, he began to lose his health and happiness. Though his weekly income reached a million dollars, his stomach was so bad that he could eat only crackers and milk. It was discovered that he had contracted alopecia, a condition in which the hair drops off the head accompanied by the loss of eyelashes and eyebrows. One of his biographers said that he had come to look like a "mummy,"—a million-dollar "mummy" to be sure.

More money, fewer people

Worst of all, however, was the fact that as his wealth grew, his friends became fewer and fewer. He was a man desperate for love, but in his quest for love from some he crushed others who stood in his way. He not only lacked love, he was also deeply hated by many whom he had ruined. Once his image was burned in effigy and he was surrounded by bodyguards day and night. When he was fifty-three, Ida Tarbell wrote of him: "An awful age was in his face. He was the oldest man that I have ever seen."

Rebirth at fifty-three

His health got progressively worse and there were times when he could not even eat crackers and milk. His body was dying for lack of nourishment and some speculated that he would not live past his fifty-fourth birthday.

Then, during one of those long nights when he could not sleep, he lay thinking and came to an amazing discovery; when at last the end came, he would not be able to take with so much as one thin dime! The more he pondered this fact, the more he thought of his own impending death, the more he realized that money is not to be hoarded but used for others.

Thus, he established the Rockefeller Foundation so that vast portions of his fortune could be channeled into worthy causes. Think of the tremendous sums of money that have poured through that foundation upon universities, hospitals, missions, and underpriveleged people. His wealth financed the research that made possible the cure for hookworm in the south, the development of penicillin and drugs to combat tuberculosis, diptheria, and other diseases.

Much of the universal disdain for this man turned to respect and admiration. His health improved greatly and at the age of fifty-three he began to practice for the first time one of God's greatest laws: "Give and it will be given to you." He thus took a new lease on life and went on to live to the ripe old age of ninety-eight.

Lure of the fat life

When in his generosity Abraham had given Lot first choice in deciding which area he would live in and claim as his, it seemed that Lot had craftily made the wisest choice. His was to be the rich, thriving land, leaving only the barren hills for Abraham. Yet the fat life near Sodom and Gomorrah proved to be decandent and hollow, and, at last when the corruption brought doom upon these two cities, it was only by the intervention of Abraham that he and his family escaped the consequences of the materialistic life. Even then, Lot's wife looked back wistfully—she found it so hard to tear herself away.

Harry and Bonaro Overstreet have said: "It is one of the basic facts of human life that the ungiven self is the unfulfilled self." There is no fulfillment in the fat life."

CANCER MORTALITY RATE IS UP — AND DOWN

Down in women, due to the dramatic reduction in cancer of the uterus and up in men due to the rapidly increasing cancer of the lung.

The Pap Test, which uncovers cervical cancer at an early stage before it has begun to spread, is the primary reason for the overall decline in the cancer death rate among women. When this cancer is diagnosed early it is almost 100% curable. On the other hand, cancer of the lung has increased more than 15 times over the past three decades. It is considered a largely preventable disease. Has your physician X-rayed your lungs recently?

Senate Passes Bill For Potomac Dam

The Senate in Washington approved and sent to the congressional conference committee on Monday legislation including a $4.8 million initial construction appropriation for the Bloomington Dam on the north branch of the Potomac river.

The action clears the way for the army corps of engineers to seek bids on the first phase of the estimated $90 million project.

A corps spokesman said the first phase involves relocating about 12 miles of Western Maryland Railway tracks near the dam site, eight miles upstream from where the Potomac joins the Savage river. The Army official said that bids would be opened late in October or early in November with construction to proceed shortly thereafter.

The dam, expected to be operational by 1977, was authorized by Congress in 1962 but its start has been delayed by lack of appropriations.

The 296-foot high dam is designed to drain a 283-square mile area into a reservoir about 5.5 miles long.

The Smut Peddlers...

While millions of Americans are deeply concerned about the flood of pornography and demand legislation to drive smut peddlers out of business, a presidential commission has recommended all laws against pornography be repealed.

The 18-member commission (17 appointed by former President Johnson and one by President Nixon) proposed that the United States adopt laws as favorable as Denmark's. Today, Denmark is the capital of the smut trade. Pornographic books, films and materials are sold openly in shops on main streets and exported overseas.

The commission specifically recommended repeal of all federal, state and local laws against showing and selling of pornographic films, books and other material to adults. It said: "The commission is of the view that it is exceedingly unwise to attempt to legislate individual moral values and standards." No doubt the vast majority of decent citizens are shocked at the recommendations of the panel established by President Johnson and dismayed by its Johnson and dismayed by its faulty logic.

Public authorities can't be unconcerned with public morality. The moral fiber of the nation is a legitimate public and governmental concern and always has been viewed in that light. If the commission's recommendations were approved, the Congress would be giving legislative sanction to immorality.

In defending its proposals, a member of the President's Commission on Pornography said sex crimes in Denmark declined 31 percent after legalization of pornography. Whether this is accurate, one cannot say. What is clear is that the people of Denmark have been exposed to a flood of sick and perverted material. The psychological impact of that material on Danes now growing to maturity is likely to be grave indeed.

No western society, based on Christian values, has been exposed to pathological erotic material in such enormous quantities. It is questionable that Christian morality in Denmark can survive the legalization of morally depraved material.

Very properly, the U.S. Congress is indignant about the conclusions of the commission appointed by President Johnson. Only a few weeks ago, Congress gave bill (H.R. 11032) designed "to prohibit the knowing deposit in the mail for transport in interstate commerce" of unsolicited salacious advertising. The penalty for this, as approved by Congress, is a fine of not more than $50,000.00 or imprisonment of not more than five years--on the first offense. Obviously, Congress is determined to crack down on smut peddlers.

In advocating passage of this bill, U.S. Rep. William E. Marshall (R-Ohio) told of methods of the smut peddlers, saying: "The peddlers of pornography glean names from newspapers, magazines, school, club, and event rosters."

Though the Commission on Fornography wants to give smut peddlers a green light, the American people think otherwise. In the last two years, the U.S. Post Office Department has received 451,129 complaints from citizens who have been the target of the smut peddlers' mail advertising campaigns.

In a message to Congress, requesting action against pornographers, President Nixon said that "American homes are being bombarded with the largest volume of sex-oriented mail in history. . . Mothers and fathers by the tens of thousands have written to the White House and Congress. They resent the intrusion into their homes." President Nixon urged "a citizens' crusade against the obscene."

The Commission on Pornography showed gross insensitivity to moral considerations and to the quality of American life. It also showed appalling ignorance of the fact that a flood of erotic material is symtomatic of deterioration in a nation. We know from history that fall of the Roman Empire was marked by the spread of pornography. It would be intolerable if U.S. lawmakers turned permissive in their approach to pornography. Instead of facilitating distribution of such material, the need is for even tougher laws against those who produce and sell filth.

Fiddlin' Man

The man is a memory, his name forgotten, but like a visual hallucination comes the sight of his flashing eyes and dashing hand, as he drew the bow across his instrument at the hall in Avilton, standing on the platform with feet firmly planted, introducing the evening with a plaintive song as partners gathered. Those strings echoed perfume from an old English garden or the jubilance of a Scotch Highlander, for the gentleman was an old-time fiddlin' man. He said our unspoken words just as well at an evening's end when "Good Night, Ladies" wished a sweet farewell for homeward journeys.

Somehow the instrument rarely receives its true name, for to most people, it is a fiddle. It really matters little for this fiddlin' produces homey, tender sounds whether it comes from a master in the classics or a country man who pours out talent while his neighbors dance. The violin is ancient in origin; it probably came to Europe from the Far East, finally taking the shape we know in the 1550's. Because of a delicate wooden shell and its strings, the timbre is one of quality, but musicians agree that the long use of an instrument develops this richness and mellowness of sound not found in a new violin.

Perhaps some remembering Italian immigrant learned to adapt his violin to the emerging American patterns and brought us a new interpretation of American music. Whatever happened, the fusing was perfect, and to this day an old-time fiddle tune like "Fisher's Hornpipe," or an Irish or Scottish jig shows our ancestry even in square dance music. Now Americans seldom leave anything as it was, so freedom displayed itself in some gay folk songs. Even though these tunes may be borrowed, just as "Streets of Laredo" took its melody from an Irish air, they leave no doubt as to the improvisation; what could be "Turkey in the Straw" be but American?

Our country fiddlers certainly must learn to let the fiddles speak. As you hear of Darling Nellie Gray and "Comin' Through the Rye," the music finds a place in your heart and hearing. Banjos are fine for tuning happy spirits, and guitars do well in giving background, but when you need genuine feeling, a fiddle is the instrument The lightness of a waltz reflects in the fiddler's eyes and smile, for he probably is proficient enough to enjoy the mood of his music with the audience, seeing the faces and forms across the instrument. We daresay that mountain corn sometimes had aided dancers of the old days in appreciating a fiddle tune. Zane Grey speaks so in Betty Zane: "Most of the young men had sampled some of Dan's best rye and their flushed faces and unusual spirits did not result altogether from the exercise of the dance."

Stephen Vincent Benet wrote a ballad entitled "Mountain Whipporwill", the story of a lonely boy who put the birds' songs and mountain sounds into his music as he played in a fiddling contest. Of one old man who competed against him, he tells, "He fiddled north and he fiddled south, He fiddled the heart right out of your mouth." The Garrett County people who love our music know this to be true. It takes a skilled player to run the trills of "Cacklin' Hen" or to bounce his bow for Ida Red. And anyone who has thrilled to an old-time artist knows that if you can keep your toes from clopping when Ragtime Annie and Ol' Joe Clark sound together, the Lord either withheld His glorious gift of rhythm from your soul or you're dead—just stone cold dead.

U.S. Senator

President Promotes Peace in Middle East Conflict

From the wisdom of the Middle East we have inherited the words of the beatitudes. And certainly of the beatitudes none is more appropriate today than the one which advises that peacemakers are blessed.

The world owes the Nixon Administration, particularly President Nixon and Secretary of State William P. Rogers, a debt of gratitude for their efforts to bring the fighting in the Middle East to a halt and give the world another chance for peace. The 90-day ceasefire, arranged by the Secretary of State, may not be a large chance, it may be one of those fleeting moments in history in which an opportunity is gained or lost, but the people of the Mid-East can fully appreciate the words of Jesus in the Gospel according to St. Matthew when he said: "Blessed are the peacemakers."

Let's examine for a moment exactly what the chance for peace seems to be today. In putting this whole picture into perspective, it's well to remember the prophetic words of the Defense Minister of Israel, General Moshe Dayan, who said at the conclusion of the six-day war in 1967: "The war is over. Now the trouble begins."

General Dayan was exactly right. Since the Israeli victory of 1967, there have been countless raids, attacks, counter-attacks, shellings, bombings, air-raids and other violence in the streets of the Middle East. Hundreds have been killed, thousands more have been wounded. The Middle East has been in a constant state of tension. But the efforts of the United States have produced a glimmer of hope in this otherwise desperate situation. Secretary of State Rogers prevailed upon the governments of Egypt, Jordan, and Israel to agree to a 90-day ceasefire while peace negotiations are conducted.

The ceasefire itself is tenuous. There have been charges and counter-charges of breaches of the agreement. It is difficult to see how the ceasefire could lead to successful and meaningful negotiations until it has, in fact, produced an end to hostilities. Yet, it is a step towards peace and it is an essential first step. The ceasefire depends on many factors including the activities of the Palestinian Guerrillas, who have vowed to continue fighting, the sincerity of President Nasser and the activity of certain factions within Israel.

None of these factors can be controlled by the President or Secretary of State. But whether the ceasefire is successful or not, the fact is the Nixon Administration, through its foreign policy effort, has provided an opportunity for the contending forces to come together in an effort to attain a peace which would be lasting and answer the prayers of the entire world.

I join with the American people in congratulating and thanking President Nixon and Secretary of State Rogers for their efforts and in praying that they will be successful.

vs.
The Unknown Heirs, Devisees, and Personal Representatives of Thomas Watson, William Watson, Joseph Watson, and Frances Moderwell.
No. 5923 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to obtain a decree declaring absolute ownership of Lots Nos. 950, 952 and 954, as shown on the Plat of the Town of Mountain Lake Park, Maryland, to have been vested in Effie Louise Waters at the time of her death on January 29, 1970, and that the heirs, devisees and personal representatives of Thomas Watson, William Watson, Joseph Watson and Frances Moderwell will be enjoined from asserting any claim to said lots.

The Bill states:

That Martha Dent Watson was during her lifetime seized and possessed of three lots in the town of Mountain Lake Park, Garrett County, Maryland, which are known and designated as Lots Nos. 950, 952 and 954, as shown on the Plat of said town of Mountain Lake Park, which lots were conveyed to the said Martha Dent Watson as Mattie D. Watson by three deeds, the first from Park Improvement Company of Garrett County, Maryland, dated November 7, 1902, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T. No. 42, folio 550, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland; the second from Park Improvement Company of Garrett County, Maryland, dated March 23, 1903, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T. No. 44, folio 353, one of the said Land Records; and the third from Mountain Lake Park Association dated December 2, 1904, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T. No. 47, folio 581;

That the said Martha Dent Watson departed this life testate during the year 1905, a resident of Fairmont, Marion County, West Virginia. By the terms of her Last Will and Testament she attempted to devise the above described real estate in the following terms: "I give my Mountain Lake Park property to Louise Waters but in case she dies without issue to go to the heirs of my 3 brothers, Thomas, William and Joseph and the heirs of my sister, Frances Moderwell." That the said Last Will and Testament of Martha Dent Watson was never recorded among the Records of the Orphans' Court for Garrett County, Maryland nor were any letters of administration granted by said Orphans' Court on the Estate of Martha Dent Watson;

That the said Louise Waters lived in a dwelling located on the said real estate from 1905 until her death on January 29, 1970. The said Louise Waters departed this life testate on the date aforesaid and by the terms of her last Will and Testament, recorded in Wills Liber H, Folio 471, one of the Wills Records of Garrett County, Maryland, she bequeathed and devised all her property and estate to three nieces, to-wit: Leora Wade, Madge Arnett and Freda Yost, who is now Freda Yost Starn. She appointed The First National Bank of Oakland as Executor of said Last Will and Testament and directed the said Executor to sell at either public or private sale all real estate and tangible personal property that she may own at the time of her death, except personal property specifically bequeathed and to pay the proceeds arising therefrom, after the payment of her debts and funeral expenses, to the three nieces, as aforesaid;

That it is the opinion of The First National Bank of Oakland that the said Louise Waters acquired title to said real estate by open, notorious and adverse use of same since 1905, until her death in 1970.

Since the death of the said Louise Waters, The First National Bank of Oakland, through its Trust Officer, has been in constructive and peaceable possession of said real estate.

That The First National Bank of Oakland has a duty as Executor of the Estate of the said Louise Waters to sell said real estate under the power of sale granted to it under her Will. That The First National Bank of Oakland has been advised by legal counsel that in the event of a public sale of said real estate the purchaser probably will not accept title.

That said real estate has been appraised for THREE THOUSAND DOLLARS ($3000.00);

That there is no action at law, nor any proceeding in Equity pending to enforce or test the validity of the title to said real estate;

That the probable contentions of prospective buyers of said real estate are without merit and constitute a cloud upon the title to said real estate.

It is thereupon ORDERED this 27th day of July, 1970, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, that the plaintiff by having a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks before the 21st day of August, 1970, giving notice to the unknown heirs, devisees and personal representatives of Thomas Watson, William Watson, Joseph Watson and Frances Moderwell, of the object and substance of the Bill of Complaint and warning them to be and appear in this Court either in person or by an attorney, on or before the 21st day of September, 1970, to show cause, if any they may have, why a Decree should not be passed as prayed.

Clerk

Immediately following receipt of said bids, the same will be opened and read in the presence of the Mayor and Town Council and the award will be made by the said Mayor and Town Council on the same day, subject to and in acordance with this Notice of Sale.

The Bond hereby authorized, together with the interest thereon, shall be payable from the gross income and revenue to be derived from the operation of the multipurpose structure at Site No. 6 on the Little Youghiogheny River Watershed, a sufficient portion of which has been assigned and pledged and set aside to pay the principal and interest as and when the same shall become due, and this assignment and pledge shall extend to and include any assessments that may subsequently be levied. In addition, the full faith and credit of the Mayor and Town Council is pledged (as construed by Article 23A of the Annotated Code of Maryland, Section 37) to the repayment of this Bond and the interest thereon in the event that the revenues received from the facilities being financed hereby are insufficient for that purpose. The Bond will be issued pursuant to a Resolution of the Mayor and Town Council duly adopted on August 3, 1970, for the purposes of financing a portion of the portion allocated to the Mayor and Town Council for the construction of a multi-purpose structure at Site No. 6 on the Little Youghiogheny River Watershed for the purpose of providing a municipal water supply for the Town of Oakland, in Garrett County, Maryland.

Said Bond will be payable to the order of the successful bidder. Principal and interest will be payable in lawful money of the United States of America at the time specified for payment therein at the office of the Mayor and Town Council, Oakland, Maryland.

Bidders are requested to name the annual rate of interest to be borne by the Bond on which rate this bid is based and submitted. Interest rates must be in multiples of one-eighth (⅛th) or one-tenth (1/10th) of one per centum (1%), and may not exceed the annual rate of three and 256/1000th percentum (3.256%). Bids will be submitted only on the face amount of the Bond without discount or premium. The Bond will be awarded to the bidder naming the lowest interest rate for the Bond in any legally acceptable proposal. Where the bids of two or more bidders are for the same lowest interest rate, the Mayor and Town Council will have full and absolute discretion to determine to which of said bidders said Bond will be awarded.

The right is reserved to reject any and all bids.

Each proposal must be for the entire Bond and must be enclosed in a sealed envelope, addressed to the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland, City Hall, Oakland, Maryland, 21550, and marked on the outside, "Proposal for Purchase of $292,400.00 Oakland Watershed Construction Bond of 1970." Delivery of said Bond, without expense, will be made by the Mayor and Town Council to the purchaser or its agent on August 24, 1970, or as soon as practicable thereafter, at the office of the Clerk to the Mayor and Town Council, Oakland, Maryland, and, thereupon, the said purchaser will be required to accept delivery of the Bond purchased and to pay the entire $292,400.00 purchase price. Said Bond will be accompanied by the customary closing documents at the time of delivery, including a no litigation certificate effective as of the date of delivery.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Time To Call Halt...

August 27, 1970

Road Workers, Commissioners, and Citizens of Garrett County:

It is time to call a halt: a halt to the destruction and property damage, a halt to the threats and strong-arm tactics, and a halt to the division and ill will occurring in the county. Further employment of these tactics can only aggravate an already intolerable situation.

It is extremely difficult for me to believe that our once liked and respected road workers have sufficiently lowered their human and moral principles enough to rationalize the damage and destruction of personal property and the property that they, as well as their friends and neighbors paid taxes to purchase and maintain. Are these the same men we once liked and respected? Have they indeed changed so much; or are they now merely pawns of a greedy, power hungry, unprincipled union which has no respect for the rights and property of others?

Road workers, it's time each and all of you wake up and stand up for your own principles and moral standards. Don't allow a union to pressure you against your own convictions. If necessary, renounce your union memberships, and send the union officials packing back to their havens of corruption until such time as they can exhibit the standards of decency and respect to which all are entitled. Expose those among you who carry out the malicious practices for the bad apples they are. Have the courage to meet with the commissioners to discuss your grievances, and, if necessary, without union influence. Both the people and commissioners know that we badly need and want experienced and capable workers. So let's show the people that the workers can be respected.

If the commissioners fail to fulfill their obligations, it is the privilege of the voting citizens to replace them, but until such time as this, these men need to cooperate with us and they need the cooperation of all of us.

Finally, let's hear from you, the individual roads worker, not by mass signed union propaganda or through guerrilla tactics by night! Violence can only bring more violence, so let's all cool down and do our part to bring peace, unity and good roads back to Garrett County!

Sincerely,
Floyd Oester

PRESIDENT PRESENTS MEDAL OF HONOR—President Nixon greets Congressman J. Glenn Beall, Jr. (R-Md.) at a recent White House ceremony in which the families of nine U. S. servicemen received posthumously-awarded Medals of Honor. Shown are the mother (right), wife, Mrs. Grace Hartsock (2nd from right) and seven-year-old Dion, son of Army Staff Sergeant Robert W. Hartsock of Flintstone, who died in an act of heroism in Vietnam in February, 1969. During a heavy attack on his unit's base camp, Sergeant Hartsock saved the life of his platoon commander and, indirectly, the lives of many fellow soldiers by throwing himself on an enemy explosive charge. Moreover, despite his mortal wounds, he crawled to his weapon and provided heavy counter fire which stopped the assault and allowed his comrades to seek shelter. In his capacity as their Congressman, Beall accompanied the Hartsocks to the award ceremony.

Household Survey For Grantsville Has Good Return

A five-page household survey questionaire was circulated in the Grantsville area in January of this year by the Grantsville Area Planning commission and the 61 percent return show interesting figures.

Eighty-two percent of the people purchased automobiles in the Grantsville area; for groceries 45 percent went to Cumberland area and 32 percent, Grantsville area; 18 percent, Meyersdale; for clothing however 82 percent went to Cumberland area with 10 percent to Meyersdale; for furniture and appliances, 46 percent went to Cumberland area; 31 percent stayed in Grantsville with 10 percent to Meyersdale.

Garrett Is First In Bond Sales Quota

Maryland sales of Series E bonds alone came to $7,541,770, 42 percent above last July, and series H bonds of $137,000 were up 69 percent over last July, according to a report from the state director of Savings bond sales. January to July sales also were above the like period in 1969.

In the state report Garrett county stood first in percentages with a figure of 87 percent of its quota of $214,000. The report showed sales during July of $36,298, making the total for the six months period $186,228, compared to $120,643 for the same period of the previous year.

Other counties high on the list were Talbot county, number two, with 86 percent of its quota of $185,000 met; Kent county, number three, with 81.2 percent of its quota of $97,000. Caroline county was 4th, Worcester, 5th; Calvert, 6th. Allegany county stood 17th. Baltimore city, with a quota of $36,025,000, stood 12th with July sales of $3,121,322.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Once again for the umteenth time, we do not publish anonymous letters to the editor, and only occasionally those who request that their names be withheld.

We received a short letter last week which was unsigned. It was consigned to the wastebasket. This week we received one which requested that his name be withheld with a signature. "Intercsted Taxpayer."

He had some good thoughts and for this reason we are publishing it and withholding the name.

To the Editor:

I think the county road situation has gone far enough, with court cases and appeals. By the time the term of the present commissioners will have ended and new commissioners elected and installed, whoever they might be, the road situation will be worse and tempers boiling.

I think now is time for some horse trading from both sides School is about to start and if some pupils don't enter school because of bus and road problems and don't complete the required number of days present they cannot be passed to the next grade and will lose a year of school.

I think the present commissioners should let the old road workers who, according to Judge Hamill, are no longer employed by the county, to return to work with nothing held against them, with the raise promised the new hired workers given to them, with a few more cents on the hour, either under the old contract or no contract until the newly elected commissioners sit down and work out a new contract satisfactory to both parties. Also let the newly hired workers work to help repair the roads as more help will be required to repair all the roads. Winter starts early in Garrett County.

The Commissioners should withdraw their suit against the union if this is agreed on.

The Union should let the workers do this because if you take a poll I think you will find a large percentage of the residents of Garrett County are against the men for striking before their contract expired and the Union is getting full blame for this. They would change the opinion of a lot of county residents if their roads are repaired and the snow plowed so they can get out and in to their homes, to work and for emergencies. I think it would also be easier to deal with the new Commissioners, because less pressure would be applied on them from the outside when agreeing on a new contract.

I suggest Judge Hamill or State's Attorney Thayer contact both sides and meet with them separately and ask each to agree to a settlement of this kind. This would have to be done soon as winter is coming close; and publish the results of each meeting in this paper so as to let the people know who is to blame for not trying to settle this mess.

5 Students Make Unique Record

Five Garrett County students at West Virginia Wesleyan, in Buckhannon have set some academic records for others to achieve or better.

Each has been on the dean's list every semester enrolled at the college.

Two scored 4.00 grade averages, one for the second time. They were the only students from Maryland to achieve this. There were 38 from Maryland listed.

All are majoring in fields that demand considerable work and study.

All are graduates of the same high school---Southern High School, at Oakland.

All participate in extra-curricular activities such as organizations, band, or choir.

As mentioned on the dean's list for the second semester with class rank of that date they are:

Rebecca Ann Sherwood, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence Sherwood of 316 East Oak Street, Oakland, a sophomore chemistry major, scoring a perfect 4.00 grade average for the second time, her fourth time on the dean's list.

Randall Lee Overdorff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Overdorff of 108 East Pennington street, Oakland, a freshman philosophy major, scoring a perfect 4.00 grade average for the first time, his second mention.

Judith Ann Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen A. Simpson of Mountain Lake Park, a sophomore education major, her fourth mention.

John Charles Purbaugh, son of Mrs. Dorothy Purbaugh of 318 North Third street, Oakland, a freshman history major, his second mention.

This week finds the Sun once again eclipsed by the moon. The eclipse is an annular eclipse. That is because the moon will be so far from earth that its image will not appear to be as large as the image of the Sun. Therefore, at the middle of the eclipse, the Sun will appear as a bright ring around a black center. The eclipse will be visible only in the South Pacific Ocean. The eclipse will occur on Monday at 6:19 P.M.

The moon will be at its apogee on Sunday at 9:00 P.M. This farthest distance that the moon will be from earth on this orbit is 252,500 miles. One might remember that last March just 31 hours before the eclipse the moon passed its perigee of 223,600 miles. The difference in these distances is a cause of the annular eclipse.

New moon will be at 6:19 on Monday. The moon will set at 5:59 p.m. today and at 8:25 p.m. next Wednesday.

Three planets continue to present themselves to the unaided eye of the observer. Venus sets an hour and one-half after the Sun. Jupiter, in Virgo, sets about two hours after the Sun. Saturn rises near midnight among the stars of Tarus.

Our closest star sets at 7:57 P.M. tonight. It appeared in the sky at 6:42 A.M. this morning. Next Wednesday this star will be visible in the sky fourteen minutes less than it was today. On that day sunrise will be at 6:47 A.M. and Sunset will be at 7:48 P.M.

Yes, Ridge Homes has mortgage money and a home you can afford!

How come Ridge has mortgage money when nobody else does? Because, as the East's largest home manufacturer, we have our own financial resources to help people build new homes. Yes, even now, during this tight money squeeze. Especially now! Because with the cost of land and labor going up 1% every month, people just can't afford to postpone building any longer.

"But", you're probably thinking, "what good is a mortgage if I can't afford the house I want?" Being the largest helps there, too. Another Solution? . . .

Last week we suggested the Commissioners agree to put the road men back to work, with as many additional workers as were needed for full complement. Then the workers agree to make no further demand for union recognition until after the election, at which time there could be a secret ballot. This would result in the potholes being fixed and the department readied for winter. This suggestion received favorable comment.

This week we have a further suggestion, in case last week's suggestion doesn't work. In 1942 there was legislation which gave the county the responsibility of taking care of the county roads. Prior to that, this was the responsibility of the State Roads Commission. If there is no chance of an agreement, why could not the County Commissioners agree to have the State Roads Commission take over the operation of the county roads, the bill, of course, being paid by the county, upon presentation of vouchers from the SRC. If it takes legislative action for this, then why couldn't the Commissioners ask the SRC to take over the job temporarily until proper legislation can be made effective? They could even

Contempt Suit Against Union Set For 17th

The hearing requiring striking Garrett County former road workers and union officials to show cause why they should not be cited for contempt of court, which was scheduled for Friday, September 4, has been postponed until Thursday, September 17th, it was revealed this week.

Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill's office secretary said the postponement was granted when William Engelman, attorney for the American Federation of State, County and Municipal employes, who had been on vacation, sought additional time to prepare his answer.

This means the hearing will not be held until after the primary election.

The Judge signed the original order after a petition was submitted to him by the County Commissioners through their attorney W. Dwight Stover.

The show cause order was filed against Local 1834 of the union, several union officials and Wellington J. Sowers and Ernest Friend, Oakland, former county road employes.

The action stemmed from a charge by the Commissioners that a court injunction limiting the number of union pickets at one location to 20 and forbidding any interference with county-owned vehicles or employes was violated.

They claimed that on August 4 some fifty to sixty pickets were on the Oakland parking lot, preventing men employed by the plaintiff from working, that entrance to the county roads garages were blocked with vehicles, that they were armed with sticks and clubs and that a union official was agitating the new road workers. Accompanying the petition were two affidavits made by state troopers, corroborating charges of the commissioners as far as number of pickets and how they were armed.

Seek New Road To Bloomington Dam

Residents of the Bloomington area for the past several months, have been endeavoring to persuade the Army Engineers to keep a county road open and to make it an access road to the Bloomington Dam recreation area and to continue on to Kitzmiller.

A meeting was held August 27 with Daniel Rohrer of the Western Maryland Regional Development office, along with Bernard Guy, Bloomington, Delegate B. O. Aiken and Col. J. Haig Jackson, of the local Economic Development corporation.

The Western Maryland railway is to be relocated some 11 miles of its road bed from the West Virginia side to the Maryland side of the river, in the vicinity of a county road identified on a State Roads commission map as "Seldom Seen" road. The Corps of Engineers has proposed that the road be closed completely. Mr. Guy contends that would landlock property along the river which is listed as industrial site territory of some 200 acres. Additional acres contain a large quantity of coal, which could not be mined if access was denied.

Bloomington citizens feel a new road should be built alongside the relocated railroad bed with several crossings permitted, otherwise Bloomington would not have access to the Bloomington dam.

THE OAKLAND JAYCEES completed their bicycle safety and skills program recently at the National Guard Armory. The highlight of the program was the giving of a bicycle by Manor Builders to the winner, Richard Paugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mason Paugh of Mt. Lake Park.

Appearing in the picture are: John Hetrick, project chairman; Richard Paugh, winner of the bike; and Ben Shaffer, Manor Builders representative who presented the bike. The program was open to all children from ages 8 to 14.

Veteran Dies In One-Car Mishap At Keyser Ridge

A 48-year old Connellsville, Pa., veteran of two wars, on a week-end pass from a veterans hospital in Pittsburgh, was killed Monday night when his car left U.S. 40 near Keyser Ridge and crashed into a state roads commission sawdust pile.

He was Lester Albert Clark, according to Trooper C. E. Loeber who investigated. The mishap occurred at 9:40 p.m. 400 feet from the U.S. 219 intersection. Clark, traveling east, failed to negotiate a left curve, left the highway and hit the storage pile. The 1963 sedan flipped over, throwing the man out of the car.

Death was instantaneous, according to Dr. James E. Feaster, Jr., deputy county medical examiner.

A veteran of World War II and the Korean conflict, Clark had been awarded the Purple Heart and the Bronze Star.

Born March 18, 1922 in Marcus, W. Va., he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Clark, Cowen, W. Va. Also surviving are his widow, Betty Jean Rankin Clark, of Green Glade section; three sons, Stephen and Lester A., Jr., at home; Johnnie Clark, Elkins; three daughters, Leslie Ann Clark, at home; Vicki Jean Clark, Barbara Clark, Elkins; two brothers, Dale Clark, Cowen, Denzil Clark, Clarksburg; three sisters, Mrs. Mildred Starcher, Louisville, Ky.; Mrs. Geraldine Black, Williamstown, W. Va.; and Mrs. Nadine Payne, Chesapeake, O. The widow's father is Adrian Rankin, of Green Glade.

The body was taken to the John O. Durst Funeral home in Oakland. Funeral services are to be conducted Thursday evening at 7:30 from the funeral home with interment on Friday in Gettysburg, Pa. National Military Park. Dr. Lawrence Sherwood, pastor of St. Paul's United Methodist church, will officiate. In lieu of flowers the family is requesting contributions to the Children's home in Burlington, W. Va.

Jail Terms Against Two Suspended

Two Oakland area young men entered pleas of guilty last Friday in the Circuit Court when they appeared for trial on charges of breaking and entering six Deep Creek Lake cottages.

They are Douglas Railey, 19, Oakland; and Robert Biser, 20, of Mt. Lake Park. Hearing the cases was Associate Judge Harold E. Naughton, of Allegany county. Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill, Oakland, had disqualified himself from hearing the cases.

Judge Naughton gave each one of them one year terms on each of six charges, sentences to run consecutively, but he suspended the sentences and placed them under jurisdiction of the Commissioner of Correction for five year. The judge noted the charges were misdemeanors. He pointed out also that restitution had been made, with the exception of a rifle which will be turned over or the price of the gun paid.

Cottages entered were those of Elia C. Paul, Robert B. Conaughty, Edwin C. Agee, John B. Webb, Virginia W. Peddle, all of Turkey Neck section, and John S. Patton, Lake Shore drive.

Their arrest came last June after an investigation lasting over a period of more than three months by Tfc. Lloyd E. Denton, criminal investigator for the state police, assisted by Deputy Junior Evans. The burglaries allegedly occurred the middle of March.

A third traverser, also charged with the same offenses, James Booth, 19, of Hyattsville, is being held in Rockville following a conviction of shoplifting in that area. He will be released to Trooper Dunton upon completion of his sentence.

Former Roads Worker Enters Plea of Guilty

Admits Dynamiting Fence On Hubert Friend Property

Paul W. Cosner, Jr., a former worker for the County Roads Department, entered a plea of guilty last Friday morning when tried in the Circuit Court at Oakland on a charge of willful and malicious destruction of property owned by Hubert A. Friend, president of the Board of Commissioners.

Judge Stuart F. Hamill revoked the $300 bond of the defendant, of near Sang Run, and ordered him remanded to the county jail until a pre-sentence investigation had been completed by the state department of parole and probation.

The fence on the farm of Mr. Friend, near Hoyes, was dynamited about 9:15 p.m., last June 16 and Cosner's arrest followed a short time later by State Police. Only minor damage was inflicted on the wooden fence.

State police also reported that the incident apparently was tied in with the dispute between the county road workers and the county commissioners.

County road workers went on strike April 7 when commissioners refused to recognize local 1834, American Federation of State, County and Municipal workers. The commissioners contended they had an agreement with the road workers' organization until June 30 and that the strike was illegal. They ordered the workers to report for work by April 14, or be fired. They did not report and were fired. A court decision termed the strike illegal.

No work has been done on the roads since that time.

The old bridge over Cherry run, used as one of the routes in and out of Deep Creek State Park, on the Lake, was dynamited during the strike and cannot be used. No arrests have been made in this case.

Forestry Camp Youths Charged

Two male youths ages 15 and 16 were charged in Juvenile Court with assault and battery. Both are from Baltimore but were detained at the Backbone Mt. Forestry Camp. The 16-year-old was charged with assault and battery upon Jeffery Delaney and the 15-year-old charged with the same upon Arden Miller both at the camp. At a hearing on August 28 it was questioned whether or not the cases should be waived to the criminal court for deliberation. The cases were waived to the criminal court under the Circuit Court. The specific charges against Linwood Williams, 16 and Ricardo Tyrone Lee, 15, were as above. They were found guilty and sentenced by Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill, Jr. for a period of 18 months to the jurisdiction of the Department of Correction and ordered delivered to the custody of the Commission and received at the diagnostic center at the Maryland Penitentiary.

Republican Women Stress Primary Vote

Some fifty persons attended the covered dish dinner meeting of the Garrett County Republican Women's club at the Grantsville Fire Hall last Thursday evening, August 27. Many candidates for the public office were present and spoke briefly. Getting out the vote for the primaries was stressed.

C. Stanley Blair, GOP candidate for governor, in a letter expressed regrets at not being able to attend. The club reported a membership of 106 and a profit of over $50 at the fair booth from sale of cook books and flag pins.

Miss Catherine Close and Mrs. Noel Speir Cook were guests from the Frostburg club. Miss Close suggested each member call five people to urge them to vote.

Another meeting is set for September 24 at Loch Lynn restaurant at 8 o'clock. Refreshments will be served and new officers installed.

Registration Shows GOP Majority 1,870

Democrats Made Increase Of 37 Voters Over 1958 Figures

Democrats noted an increase of 37 voters over Republicans in the final official registration figures as of August 17, but Republicans still have the big edge in the registration, 5,125 to 3,255, a majority of 1,870.

All except two of the county's twenty voting precincts have Republican majorities, but a few by only a slim margin. Bloomington has a majority of just 1 and Accident a majority of 26, Avilton, 27, Deer Park, only 28. The others are substantial.

Sang Run is still the most heavily populated with Republicans, the majority there running more than 3 to 1, 298 to 86. Jennings is almost a three to one majority with 120 to 44, as is Crellin with 173 to 69. East Oakland and Mt. Lake Park are over two to one. East Oakland has 555 Republicans compared to 262 Democrats, while Mt. Lake Park has 552 Republicans to 274 Democrats. Mt. Lake Park has the largest voting precinct with 839 voters registered. East Oakland is not far behind with 822. Grantsville has 687, Friendsville 679, and third precinct of west Oakland 611. Precinct 1 west Oakland has 574.

Least populated area is Elbow, but its ratio is three to one in favor of Republicans with total registration of 70, 53 Republicans and 17 Democrats.

Males outnumber females in the registration figures, 4,308 to 4,072. There are 2,605 Republican females, while on the Democratic side Democrat males outnumber Democrat females 1,703 to 1,552.

Eighty-nine individuals have either declined to state their affiliation or registered as members of the American party or independent. Eighty declined. For the first time six persons are registered with the American party, 3 males and 3 females. Three registered as independents, 2 male and 1 female. Of the eighty of those declining, 65 are males and 15 females.

The complete tabulation appears in today's issue.

Road Workers With Children Will Get Aid

The Maryland Department of Social Services has ruled that striking county road workers who have children can qualify to receive public assistance.

The county road workers went on strike on April 7 and were fired a week later. One requirement for aid is that there be "no jobs in the county available for them."

Another stipulation is that they not be covered by unemployment insurance. Because they are former public workers they are without that type of coverage.

Several workers have applied for aid to families of independent children. James Vidmar, deputy director for program administration, said "These people will get their checks shortly." The county does not have a general public assistance program.

Road workers must be certified for eligibility by the Department of Employment Security.

Short Circuit Causes Two Fires In Week

Short circuit in two instances within a week caused two fire alarms in Oakland, but there was no damage in either case.

The first call for the Oakland Fire department came last Friday evening about 8 o'clock when some wires shorted in a lamp at the Army-Navy Store on Alder street. There was no damage.

The second call came at 9:20 on Tuesday, September 1, when wires were found to be on fire in a tractor of the M and W Distributors' truck in front of the A and P store on Third street. The blaze was out on arrival of the firemen.

Cogress approved a bill creating an independent U. S. Postal Service, after two centuries of Congressional control.

SALUTE TO LABOR

Some call them blue collar workers. Some call them hard hats. I call them the budliers of America.

In an age like ours, when so much attention is given to destroying the system, America is fortunate to have a labor force of millions who build and maintain, who defend and protect, and who believe in the greatness of a free society.

But the issue here is not praise alone. It is the recognition that, as Eric Hoffer wrote, "There are many of us who have been workingmen all our lives and, whether we know it or not, will remain workingmen till we die."

To some Hoffer's idea will seem unduly depressing. But to me to work is to live.

As the kids go back to school...

. . . and life becomes a little more demanding upon them, let us all resolve to take a greater interest in their goals and their ambitions, their trials and their triumphs, their achievements and their disappointments. For it is the youth of today who will become our leaders in the future. It is our responsibility to instill in them the mental, physical and spiritual capabilities of good leadership.

We owe it to our children, our community and our country to set a good example by learning all we can about the many problems facing today's kids. Every parent should join the P.-T. A. in his child's school. We should also actively support their football games, their concerts and all other extra curricular activities to which our attendance is invited.

The Sun rose today at 6:48 a.m. It will set at 7:47 p.m. this evening. Next Wednesday sunrise will be at 6:53 a.m. while sunset will occur at 7:37 p.m. During the week daylight will grow fifteen minutes less.

The moon will pass through its first quarter phase at 3:56 p.m. on Tuesday. It will be waxing as the days pass. Moonset will be at 8:45 p.m. today and will regress to 12:30 a.m. by next Thursday morning.

Venus, Jupiter and Saturn are the visible planets this week. Venus is very low in the south sky, setting about an hour after the Sun. Jupiter is also low in the southwest sky, but it is not as bright as Venus and is East of Venus. Jupiter sets about two hours after the Sun. Saturn rises about an hour before midnight. It is in the constellation of Taurus, the bull.

Tomorrow Saturn will appear stationary among the stars. After tomorrow Saturn will appear to move westward against the star background. This is called retrograde motion or motion in the opposite direction. As the earth passes Saturn in its journey around the Sun, we reverse this effect. It is the same as the apparent reverse motion of an automobile passed on the highway.

Wednesday marks the beginning of the adult education class, The Friendly Sky. It meets at 7:00 p.m. in the classroom adjoining the Planetarium in the Board of Education Building. The topic of the class is observational astronomy. All interested adult members of the community are welcome to enroll.

To Extend Mail Route

Lake Shore drive, along Deep Creek Lake, normally served by the postoffice rural route carrier, from June 1 to September 15, will now become a permanent addition to the route, it was announced by Guy William Hinebaugh, postmaster.

The purpose of the extension was to serve temporary summer residents but due to an influx of permanent year-round patrons this section will be delivered all year long, he said.

Reunion Is Held

The descendants of the late Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Brenneman held their 14th annual reunion in Brenneman's Grove at Bittinger, August 16th.

One hundred twenty-five persons registered. Relatives attended from Ohio, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Virginia, Washington, D.-C., and Maryland.

The president, Mrs. Lawrence Buckel, conducted the business meeting.

The group voted to make a donation of $50.00 to the Glade Mennonite Church building fund in memory of "Grandpa" and "Grandma" Brenneman.

The reunion will be held next year at the Fair grounds in Coshocton, Ohio, the last Sunday in July.

Another Solution . . .

suggest to the Governor that this be made an emergency decision, pending legislative action.

Such action certainly would stop all the upheaval and provide the county with proper road care. State roads employes are allowed to join any union they want but no union is recognized as a bargaining agent when it comes to contracts over work, salaries, etc. So we would eliminate all this pressure for union recognition, and let everything be operated under SRC supervision.

William Goldsborough, resident engineer for SRC, recalled when asked about such a possibility, that it was about the 11th of November last year when there was need for snowplows. It is time for action.

Six Accidents

baugh, Oakland, was traveling north on "I" street and struck a car driven by Roger E. DeWitt, Mt. Lake Park, going west on Oakland Ave. This caused DeWitt to lose control of his car and skid into the parked car of Clarence L. Stem. Edward E. Proudfoot, Forest Hill, passenger in the DeWitt car, was taken to the Garrett County Memorial hospital in the Minnich ambulance. Damage to cars ranged from $300 to $500. The only charge made by Cpl. Thomas E. Ruppers was against Rohrbaugh for failing to grant the right-of-way.

A "hit and run" accident occurred at the same time at McHenry. A car driven by Catherine A. Cattrell, Weirton, W. Va., was stopped on Rock Lodge Road at U. S. route 219, when an unidentified car going south on route 219 skidded across the center line, struck the Cattrell car but failed to stop. There was no injury and only slight car damage. Tfc. R. S. Lewis investigated. Charges are pending.

Another accident occurred just past noon near Deer Park. Blake L. Kiracofe, Hyattsville, was going west on state route 135 and was slowing to make a right turn into Sand Flat road. Carl L. Callis, Mt. Lake Park, following Kiracofe in a C and P telephone truck, was unable to stop and struck the Kiracofe car in the rear. There were no injuries and vehicle damage was moderate. No charges were made by Cpl. Thomas E. Ruppert.

Another Saturday accident occurred at Loch Lynn Heights. William C. Dryden, St. Petersburg, Fla., was going south on Roanoke avenue, got too far to the left, and sideswiped a parked car of Earl Wagner, Minerva, Ohio. No charges were made by Tfc. Robert D. Lashley, no injuries and only slight car damage were reported.

A peculiar accident happened the same morning. Robert W. Lipscomb, Masontown, W. Va., was going north on state route 38 near Vindex road and was apparently struck by an unknown vehicle going south. No evidence at the scene could be found to indicate that an accident actually took place. Tfc. Robert D. Lashley investigated.

Still another accident the same morning occurred at Gortner. Albert L. Wiles, Aurora, W. Va., was parked on the west shoulder headed north on U. S. route 219. He had checked traffic in both directions in preparation to pulling across the southbound lane to the northbound lane. At that time Catherine Rodeheaver was pulling out of Mason School road and attempted to make a left turn into a service station area. In checking the roadway to the rear Wiles did not see the Rodeheaver car and collided with it. There were no injuries and only slight car damage. No charges were made by Tfc. D. A. Tucker.

Four accidents occurred on other days.

A one car accident occurred Tuesday, August 25, just past noon on Westernport road, three miles east of Savage river road. Three persons were injured and taken to Sacred Heart hospital, Cumberland, by an unknown passing motorist. They were Paul Grant, 23, Rawlings; Craig Edgar, 16, of Baltimore; and Tommy James, Jr., 19, Midland. Grant, eastbound on Westernport road, said he dropped a package on the floor and attempted to reach for it. In the process he lost control of the car, ran off the road and came to rest overturned against a tree. Moderate damage was sustained to the car. No charges were made by Tfc. Dale K. Williams.

Another one car accident occurred south of Red House near the state line. Harold D. Simmons, Horse Shoe Run, W. Va., was traveling north on U. S. route 219 just past midnight Friday, August 28, and apparently fell asleep. The car ran off the road, up an embankment and struck a tree. The damage to the car was called "total." He was slightly injured and taken to the Garrett County Memorial hospital in the Durst ambulance. Tfc R. S. Lewis charged him with reckless driving.

A car, with seven passengers, parked on a private drive Monday evening, August 24, belonging to Betiy J. Paugh, Oakland, was struck by a car driven by Ezra D. Conklin, Swanton, as he was backing and attempting to get around the Paugh car. There was little car damage and no injuries reported. Tfc. Robert D. Lashley made no charges.

There was a two vehicle accident on U. S. route 219 north of Sand Flat road Wednesday, August 26, at noon. Melvin F. Vetter, Oakland, was going south on route 219 and signaled to make a left turn into a private drive. At this time a car driven by Alex Prodan, Carmichaels, Pa., also traveling south on 219 attempted to pass the Vetter pick-up and in doing so collided with it. There were no injuries and vehicle damage was light. Tfc. D. A. Tucker charged Prodan with improper passing.

MARIJUANA — WHAT IS IT?
"GRASS, POT, TEA OR WEED."
Although known for nearly 5,000 years, Merijuana has no recognized benefit in medical practice. Its sale is legally restricted. You cannot even buy it with a prescription.
The leaves and flowers of Canada Sativa, or the Indian hemp plant, have long been used by people who experiment with "mood" type drugs. Marijuana is not considered to be addictive, like Heroin and Morphine. There are no severe withdrawal stymptoms if you stop.
For this reason young folks think Marijuana is a safe drug to smoke. The illegal drug pushers call these cigarettes "Reefers," "Joints," or "Sticks." Their smoke is unpleasantly harsh and smells like burnt ope. They are the first steps to danger.
The next issue of these public service messages will discuss the dangers of using Marijuana.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

A few weeks ago I stated that the Union has nothing to offer our road workers and our citizens except more domination, more threats, more strikes, and more injustice.

There are many good reasons why the above statement is true:

If our County Commissioners were to recognize the Union as the sole bargaining agent for and on behalf of the former road workers, the Commissioners would also have to agree to the "Check Off" clause under which the County would agree to deduct membership dues from each employee and send the money to the Union. I am told that the Union has served notice that they will agree to nothing else.

Under such an agreement the fourteen loyal men who have opposed the strike and refused to sign up with the Union would have to be fired. It is not likely that the Union would agree to a clause which would permit them to work without joining the Union. Every employer knows that fourteen loyal workers can be of more permanent value to the county than one hundred of the opposite kind. The county could not afford to punish the just, and reward the unjust, yet this would be apt to happen unless a special clause could be written into the contract.

All new employees desiring to accept work on the roads would also be required to accept the deductions for dues from wages earned, which money would be sent to the Union. Also, it has been the practice of Unions to require hefty initiation dues from new employees.

The Union would claim the right to lay down work rules for the men. Thus, the County would lose the right which the law gives to our County Commissioners to establish rules and conditions deemed necessary for sound public policy and effective administration.

Once the Union is designated as a bargaining unit for the men, the Union officers could call strikes because some worthless fellow had been demoted or fired. The Union would be able to call the men out on sympathy strikes with other workers here or elsewhere. This too, is common union practice. The Union would claim the right to levy special assessments upon the men to raise money for strikers in this county or other places, just as they are now raising money elsewhere to buy the favor of the so called strikers here in our midst. The Union could levy fines against any of our men for breach of union rules, or for performing work which union officers have decreed should be performed by other men, or by other crews. Or for crossing a picket line or for refusing to serve on a picket line.

When our roads workers had their own organization they could control the money they paid in dues and direct how it should be spent. But now they would lose control, and the money they would pay in dues, special assessments, and fines could be spent by outsiders and for purposes to which many of the members might object.

The Wagner Labor Relations Law, and the Taft Hartley Act, which affords some protection to workers against arbitrary and abusive labor practices, do not apply here, and Union officers can do almost anything. They can practice favoritism, they can demand that a worker be fired for anti-labor talk, or for criticism of labor officers or labor rules, and they can enforce their demands and make it stick. Without the protection of federal labor laws men can become mere chattels under Union domination.

It is difficult to understand why sensible men would, of their own free will want to trade away their precious liberty to put on the yoke of chattel slaves, unless they have, indeed, been sold a false bill of goods. It is just as difficult to understand why County Commissioner Paugh would lend his support to a scheme that could enslave his fellow citizens, workers and taxpayers by getting us entangled with a ruthless organization over which we could expect to have no control but which could provide the Union with an opportunity to dominate our County and lay a heavy burden upon our citizens.

It is possible that the men would not have gone on strike in the first place had they not received encouragement from a County Commissioner. Be that as it may, it is a fact that Paugh's frantic appeals to the press, the radio broadcasters, and the Governor have gotten some undeserved outside sympathy for the strikers and some unfavorable publicity for the county.

The coming Primary Election will provide our Republican voters with an opportunity to let Commissioner Paugh know that they do not approve of his efforts on behalf of the Union. Luckily, we do have a chance to choose between Paugh and his opponent, William Fitzwater. It should be an easy choice.

Capitol Comment

By Charles McC Mathias

President's Education Veto Should Have Been Sustained

One of the most difficult issues to face the Congress in recent years was the recent decision on whether or not to sustain President Nixon's veto of the $4.4 billion Office of Education appropriation bill. Congress decided to override the President and passed the bill for a second time by margins of more than 2 to 1 in both the House and the Senate.

After many hours of deliberation, I voted against overriding the veto, hoping that Congress would at least take a second look at that bill in light of other actions that had been taken since the education appropriations subcommittees of the House and Senate had settled on the record $4.4 billion figure.

For example, the nation has been committed to spending billions of dollars on continuing a farm subsidy program which is obsolete. Billions more have been committed to an antiballistic missile system which is premature. While I opposed such expenditures, a majority of the Congress felt otherwise and the commitments of our tax money had been made. This created a serious question as to whether enough money will be left to do what ought to be done in education.

Authorizing more spending than we have revenue to support will mean printing more money, and every dollar that comes off the press will be worth less than the one which preceded it. In short, it would fan the flames of inflation.

The painful nature of this dilemma was recognized by many Maryland citizens. A particularly thoughtful comment was made by a Silver Spring man, who wrote me:

"My wife and I are strong proponents of a well-educated society. We have taught our eight children that education, both formal and informal, makes for a better informed person and that an informed person increases his potential for a productive life and for good citizenship. Further, we have advised them that we feel they have a responsibility to enhance any mental and physical capabilities that God may have given them."

His letter described how he and his wife have attempted to make provision for their children's education and planned to be able to send them to college.

But, he concludes: "Our plans seem to have been to little avail when we see that inflation has whittled away at the value of our savings. It is beginning to seem that the cost of education may be beyond our means for our younger children if this inflationary cycle continues."

This man has put his finger on the dilemma. If we go ahead spending money on the wrong priorities, if we use our taxes for programs which are of dubious value, we are going to prejudice such vital needs as the education of our children.

The inflationary cycle must be broken. President Nixon should have been sustained in his veto in order to help break that cycle. I would hope that when the new Congress convenes in January the members will take a new look at our national priorities and that we will restore education to the top of the list where it belongs. The security of America depends on the training and education of our citizens. Nothing is more important to the defense of America than a well-educated and well-informed citizenry.

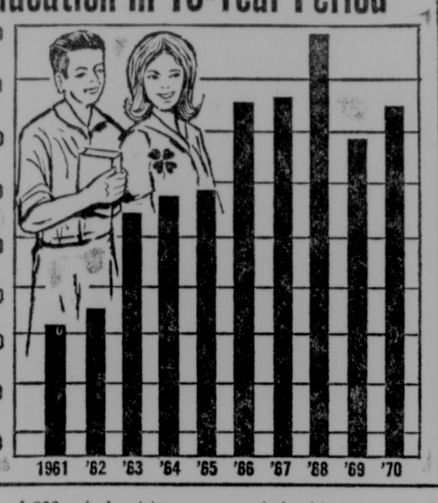
4-H'ers Get $1.4 Million for Education in 10-Year Period



A total of 286 scholarships valued at $166,700 are offered this year to current and former 4-H members. These bring the dollar amount of educational grants given during the last decade to $1.4 million.

The figures were compiled by the National 4-H Service Committee, Chicago, which obtains funds from private sources.

Some 45 of 60 donors contribute funds for scholarships which range from $300.00 to $1,600.00. Each business firm or foundation sponsors a specific program such as safety, or underwrites scholarships to be used in pursuing specific courses of study such as forestry.

Several companies have been supporting 4-H in this manner for about 50 years. Among the pioneers are Montgomery Ward; International Harvester Company; The Santa Fe Railway System; Chicago and North Western Railway Company; The Sears-Roebuck Foundation and Kerr Glass Manufacturing Corporation.

In the learn-by-doing 4-H programs, scholarships are awarded to national or regional winners who usually are high school juniors or seniors, or college freshmen.

There are 45 such programs which range from achievement to veterinary science.

The scholarships can be used for a regular four-year college course or in vocational schools, short courses, business training, nursing and the like.

Among other scholarship donors of long tenure are The Firestone Tire & Rubber Company; Coats & Clark Inc.; Westinghouse Electric Corporation; Eli Lilly and Company; Simplicity Pattern Co. Inc., Standard Brands Incorporated; Allis-Chalmers; Carnation Company and Ford Motor Company Fund.

4-H programs are supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service with program awards arranged by the National 4-H Service Committee.

Information on specific programs may be obtained by contacting the county Extension office.

Huskies To Open Season Saturday

The Northern High Huskies will open the ten-game schedule on Saturday with a home game against Terra Alta.

Coach Jack Lear is optimistic about his team this season, providing the members stay healthy. He complained about his lack of depth.

Northern's other games are with Parsons, Sept. 11, away; Berlin, Sept. 18, away; Valley, Sept. 25, away; Meyersdale, Oct. 2, home; Kingwood, Oct. 9, away; Mountaineer, Oct. 16, home; Moorefield, Oct. 23, home; Bruce, Oct. 30, home; Southern, Nov. 6, away.

Parking Meter Story Gets Around

A feature story that first appeared in Baltimore newspapers concerning our 25-cent parking fines, apparently has gone all over the country, the latest story appearing in a Monterey, California, newspaper. It also was heard over the San Francisco CBS radio station.

The story followed the apprehension of a Baltimore newspaper reporter on a parking violation. He was so startled when he found the cost was only twenty-five cents that he wrote a story about it when he got back to the city, saying parking tickets were still somewhat of a laughing matter in this county seat. The story included an interview by Police Chief Percy Lawton. Lawton told him some persons still snicker when they read of a 25-cent fine for a parking meter violation and that it must be raised again. The fine for a violation was hiked from 10 cents last year.

Accident News

The Firemen will hold their meeting this Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

There are 2,230 veterans in Garrett Co. and 516,000 in Maryland, according to Veterans Administration figures released today based on America's 27.3 million former servicemen as of the beginning of 1970, according to George A. Davis, Director of the Baltimore VA Regional Office.

According to the latest available figures, some 320 Garrett Co. and 67,000 Maryland veterans were in service during the Vietnam era---that is after August 4, 1964. Of these, 30 Garrett Co. and 5,000 Maryland veterans also served during the Korean Conflict.

World War II veterans make up the largest group of veterans with 1,160 from Garrett Co. and 283,000 from Maryland.

Of the 420 Garrett Co. and 120,000 Maryland Korean Conflict veterans, 60 and 29,000, respectively, also served in World War II.

Some 260 Garrett Co. and 56,000 state veterans saw military service only between the Korean Conflict and the Vietnam Era (February 1, 1955 - August 4, 1964), Davis said.

Of 24,000 World War I veterans in Maryland, 160 are from Garrett Co.

An estimated 68 of America's 5,000 Spanish-American War veterns live in Maryland.

Veterans with questions on benefits may contact their VA Regional Office in the Federal Building, 31 Hopkins Plaza, Baltimore.

Those who served since February 1, 1955, may be eligible for GI Bill training. Those who served since June 27, 1950, may be eligible for home loans.

Parents Charged With Neglect Of Six Children

The parents of six children on Bray School road were charged with neglect of these children by the Circuit Court, Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill, Jr. presiding.

Leroy Guthrie, Sr., and his wife Louise Guthrie, were charged with neglect of their six children by permitting them to harass neighborhood children by threats, name calling, destruction of property and assault and battery on August 20 on Bray School Road.

At a trial on August 28, the parents pleaded not guilty but the verdict of the court was guilty.

The court sentenced Leroy Guthrie to two years to the jurisdiction of the Department of Correction and ordered delivered to the custody of the Commission and to be received in the diagnostic center of the Maryland Penitentiary. The sentence was suspended on condition that he be of good behavior generally and refrain from any infraction of the law and also refrain from disturbing the peace of the neighborhood by controlling his children and keeping them home. He was also placed under the supervision and jurisdiction of the Garrett County Department of Juvenile Services for two years and is to abide by the rules and regulations of that department.

After the above noted trial, on the same day, Leroy Guthrie threatened Clarence Mayle. Guthrie was called back into the courtroom and the court struck out the suspension of sentence and reinstated the sentence of two years.

The court also sentenced Louise Guthrie the same as Leroy except that she was to be sent to the Maryland Correctional Institution for Women at Jessup. Her sentence was suspended.

On the same day Associate Judge Hamill found the six minor children of the above neglected. and delinquent for their activities in the neighborhood. Judge Hamill had the children placed under the jurisdiction and supervision of the Garrett County Department of Juvenile Services for an indefinite period.

Storage Building Burns At Parsons

A metal storage building containing charcoal lighter fluid was entirely destroyed by fire early Sunday morning near Parsons, at the Kingsford company plant

The hot fire in the 100 foot by 300 foot structure was fought by volunteer firemen from Parsons, Thomas, Davis, Leading Creek and Elkins. Damage to the building, loss of lighter fluid, some charcoal and a 75-horsepower electric motor was estimated at $100,000. The lighter fluid, in quart cans, 12 to a carton, made the blaze extremely hot. The building, first one to be erected by the company, was isolated from the others. The structure was used for storage purposes.

Thomas-DeWitt Wedding Held

Wedding vows were exchanged Sunday, August 16 by Miss Michele DeWitt, and Roger Lynn Thomas.

The double ring ceremony was performed in St. Peter's Catholic Church, Oakland. Rev. Regis F. Larkin, pastor, officiated. Organist Miss Marcella Kerins accompanied vocalist Mrs. Jay Bell.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Margaret S. DeWitt, Oakland, and Porter E. DeWitt, Hyattsville. Mr. Thomas is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Thomas, Broadford Road, Oakland.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a floor length gown of taffeta, fashioned with lace appliques, long tapered sleeves, graduated front panel, and demi-belle skirt. Lace appliques trimmed the bodice and front panel of the skirt, and were repeated on the train. An elbow length veil of bridal illusion fell from a matching high tapered pillbox. She carried a sweetheart bouquet of white carnations with a lift out corsage of white cymbidium orchids with white streamers, and placed on a Bible.

Matron of honor for her sister was Mrs. Arthur Fitzwater. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Melvin Bielecki, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Warren Schmidt and Mrs. Jay Rice. Flower girls were Teresa Thomas, sister of the groom, and Beth Bielecki, niece of the bride. The attendants were attired in identical floor length gowns fashioned with empire waistline of yellow orange, green and blue. They wore shoulder length matching mantillas, and matching accessories, and carried nosegays of carnations to match their gowns. The altar flowers carried out the color motif of the attendants' gowns.

Paul J. Thomas, Jr. was his brother's best man. Ushers were Carroll Thomas, uncle of the groom; Thomas Callis and Ray Burton. Ring bearer was Wayne Fitzwater, and acolyte was Brian Fitzwater, nephews of the bride.

A reception followed at the American Legion Home with Mrs. Edwin Michael serving the cake, and Mrs. David Jones, a cousin of the bride, and Miss Linda Beckman presiding at the punch bowls. Mrs. Jackson Thomas was in charge of the guest book.

For travel the bride chose a long sleeve dress of pink crepe covered with a white flowered lace coat.

The bride is a graduate of Southern High School, and attended Catherman's Business college. She is employed by the Department of Agriculture in Beltsville.

Mr. Thomas is also a graduate of Southern High School, and is a senior at the University of Maryland.

Two pre-nuptial showers were given in honor of the bride, one by Mrs. Jay Rice, and the other by co-workers at the Department of Agriculture.

Out of town guests attending were Mrs. Pauline Hunter, Mrs. Adalene Barnes and granddaughter Kristal Avas; Mr. and Mrs. Steven Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Eglehart, Mrs. Delores O'Brien and Janice Luckett, all of Beltsville; Miss Diane Truman, Greenbelt; Mrs. Helen Rinker and daughter Debbie, of Arlington, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Powers, Laurel; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Martin and son, Baltimore.

The couple will reside at 430 Ridge Road, Greenbelt.

Historical Tour To Include Visit Of Paw Paw Area

The 16th annual tour, under the auspices of Garrett County Historical Society, which will take place on September 26, will include a visit to the historical Paw Paw Tunnel, among other points of historical interest in Allegany County.

The Paw Paw Tunnel has been called the engineering marvel of 1850. This tunnel, 3120 feet long, was built to pass the C & O Canal through this narrow place in the Potomac River Valley. The underground waterway created by this tunnel was 19 feet wide, 7 feet deep and high enough to pass the canal boats. Construction of the tunnel started in 1836, but financial and labor problems delayed its completion until 1850. At one point no work was done for four years.

Today one wonders that financial backing to complete the tunnel and the Canal on to Cumberland was ever obtained, since the B & O Railroad reached Cumberland in 1842.

The Canal now has the status of a National Monument. The Superintendent, W. D. McClanahan, hopes to be at the Paw Paw Tunnel to address the group, according to Paul T. Calderwood, Historical Society president.

what's in a NAME?

People ask for brand-name products because they have become known for dependability and service through the years. These names assure us of quality.

We, too, are known by our names. Mention of John Smith immediately inspires a positive or negative reaction, depending upon the man's reputation. A good name is indeed our most priceless, yet most perishable, possession.

Day in and day out, our thoughts, words and actions must be on the side of goodness, for it is today which determines tomorrow's past — for good or for bad.

If we could only perform each act and utter each word as if they were our last, those by which we would be remembered, then how great would be the significance of our names!

In this confused era where better can we turn for guidance and help than to the Church? Here we will discover the teachings of Christ — the most hallowed name of all.

THE PEACEMAKER

Lesson for September 6, 1970

Background Scripture: Genesis 26; Matthew 5:9; James 4:1-3.
Devotional Reading: Romans 12:14-21.

WANTED: Peacemakers like Isaac.
REWARD: Blessed are the peacemakers for they shall be called the sons of God.

If God were in the habit of running classified advertisements in this newspaper, the one above might well be among them. The world certainly needs peacemakers like Isaac today.

Rev. Althouse

What's so special about Isaac? Let's review what we know about him. He was the son of Abraham and the father of Jacob and Esau. A famine was rising in the land and God instructed him to live in the valley of Gebar. The people who lived there, the Phillistines, welcomed him at first, but when Isaac became quite prosperous, they forced him to leave.

Another well!

So Isaac moved out into a more barren area and dug a well. As soon as the well was dug, the Phillistines decided it was on their property. So Isaac dug another well and this one was also claimed by others. But Isaac moved on and dug another well, and no one bothered him about this one.

The situation I've just described had all the makings of a war. Isaac's Phillistine neighbors were jealous and envious of his prosperity. They became greedy, coveting something for which they had not labored. And this is still the source of so much hostility and tension in the world today, the seeds from which are spawned great and bloody conflicts.

Isaac was a peacemaker. He worked miracles in human relationships. What was his secret? He was no diplomatic genius, so diplomacy is not the answer. He had no great army, so no one was afraid of his military might. What then made him a man of peace?

Saving "face", losing peace

The key, I believe, is in the fact that, unlike most men, Isaac was not handicapped by an inflexible pride. He was not a coward and would not back down upon his principles. Had the Phillistines tried to take away his right to worship God they would have learned that quickly enough. But he was a man who could compromise on non-essentials. He would fight, but what he fought for had to be worth fighting for. He would not fight for the sake of his pride.

How many wars have begun and continued simply because nations have taken stands on trivial matters and then felt compelled to fight for the sake of "saving face"? A case in point is the year 1917, the most costly year in the First World War. After both sides had lost some 900,000 casualties in the carnage of the Battle of the Somme, Germany and the Central Powers put out peace-feelers for a negotiated peace. Britain and France, however, were committed to a policy of "unconditional surrender" and, instead of responding to the German peace efforts, a green light was given to British General Haig for the Flanders campaign. In five months, Haig sacrificed 400,000 British troops in an inflexible plan that at best gained an advance of 9,000 yards. By then, a negotiated peace was impossible!

The cost of honor

After the Armistice the Allies, still committed to their "unconditional surrender," excluded both Germany and Russia from the peace table at Versailles and a treaty was signed that lasted only twenty years when Hitler used this unjust treaty as the means to rally a bitter Germany behind him. George Kennan, former ambassador to Russia, tells us: "A stable postwar arrangement . . . had been rendered impossible before the war ever came to an end . . . by the principle of unconditional surrender."

Isaac, however, dug three wells and gave up the first two because he did not feel they were worth fighting over. That's what made him a peacemaker.

DON'T GET ALL "BURNED UP"

We are not referring in this case to losing your temper and getting angry. For that type of "burned up" can quickly pass and have no side effects. Much worse is ever-exposure to the sun and the resulting "burned up" lingering pain and messy peeling of skin.

It is really simple to avoid—a good protective cream and initial exposure in small doses is all it takes even if you have a sensitive skin. If you do get a severe sunburn see a physician quickly. For a moderate case a soothing analgesic spray can be effective.

Communications

. . . Rita Shrout

We, as taxpayers, spend billions of dollars each year in our attempts to find life on other planets. Yet, how many of us have learned to tolerate and communicate with our fellowmen?

After the death of Senator Robert Kennedy, Mayor John Lindsay of New York was interviewed by the British Broadcasting Corporation. When it was brought to the attention of the interviewer that both Senator Kennedy and Mayor Lindsay frequently visited troubled areas, talked and shook hands with people, he asked Lindsay, "Does this serve any useful purpose?" Lindsay's reply: "Yes, it is communicating with people, letting them know you understand and care."

Mayor Lindsay's key word was communicating. When there are barriers against understanding, misinterpretations are destined to follow. Only when communication is a two-way system, transmitting and receiving, can we really understand each other. We find it relatively easy to communicate with those who share a common interest; there's something to communicate and something to receive. However, we should not limit communications to just those who share our likes and dislikes.

When we first think of communication we think of newspapers, TV, radio, magazines, word of mouth, letters; but, in addition, we often revert to primitive communication. A quick glance, a touch of fingers, even perfume ---all create a message without words. Many of us tend to cultivate one form of communication more fully than others, as the blind develop their senses. This factor is important in communication. If we could learn to analyze and discover the medium through which to communicate best with each individual, our relationships could be developed beyond the point of violent argument and misunderstanding. We have only to exert a little effort.

Perhaps after we have searched physical space for human beings in vain, we will settle down and conquer the conditions affecting communications on Earth.

Wed Saturday In Alexandria

Wedding vows were recited on Saturday, August 29, by Anne Harris Trice, daughter of Mrs. Edward Walter Baird, Alexandria, Va., and Mr. John Michael Psimas, son of Dr. and Mrs. Constantine Nicholas Psimas, Portsmouth, Va. The bride is also the daughter of John Ryland Trice, Alexandria, and granddaughter of Mrs. LeRoy E. Robison, of Kitzmiller.

The Reverend Robert E. Forrest performed the ceremony at Fairlington United Methodist Church of Alexandria. The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown of white organza covered with embroidered appliques, was styled with a Victorian neckline and long puffed sleeves. Her veil was long of white illusion with scattered appliques. She carried her mother's prayerbook covered with white satin and lace. A single white orchid and a streamer of white ribbon and stephanotis adorned the prayerbook.

Miss Terry Jo Reed of Alexandria was maid of honor. She was attired in a peach bon soir full length empire gown featuring short bouffant sleeves and white embroidered trim encircling the waist and victorian neckline. She wore a sheer white picture hat trimmed with peach ribbon. Her bouquet was of carnations matching the gown, with white streamers.

Bridesmaids were Miss Patricia Carol Psimas, sister of the groom, Portsmouth; and Mrs. Robert Lowell Elwell, McLean, Va. Their gowns were identical to the honor attendant's with petite bouquets of peach and white carnations. The reception was held in the Capitol Room of the South Gate Motor Hotel in Arlington.

Best man was the groom's father, Dr. Psimas. Ushers were Ronald Richard Psimas, brother of the groom, Portsmouth, and William Earl McHenry, of Virginia Beach.

As the newlyweds departed for their wedding trip to Myrtle Beach, S. C., the bride wore a white linen dress with an empire coat of sheer black and white voile. Her shoes and bag were black patent and she wore a corsage of red sweetheart roses.

The bride is a 1967 graduate of Francis C. Hammond High in Alexandria and is a senior at Old Dominion University, Norfolk, where she is majoring in elementary education. The groom, a graduate of Woodrow Wilson High School, Portsmouth, and Campbell College, of Buies Creek, N. C., is now serving active duty in the United States Naval reserve stationed in Norfolk.

The couple will reside in Norfolk.

Farm News Has Note Of Strike

An editorial in Maryland Farm News had some interesting comments under the heading "Unions Use Fear, Loyalty to Achieve Ends." The first part of the editorial recounted events that had happened in Garrett county since the county road workers struck on April 7 and the refusal of two of the County Commissioners to recognize the union.

It's the latter part which we quote:

"As to who is right or who is wrong in this situation is not a point to be considered here. What is an objective is to bring to the attention of all citizens of how fear and loyalty are being used by the unions to achieve their objectives.

"Union members throughout the state of Maryland have donated money, food and clothing to the Garrett County union road workers. Many from Baltimore, Cumberland and other areas travel to the county to give aid and moral support when deemed essential.

"The attitude of local strikers toward efforts to employ non-union men was reflected in a comment of Jack Sowers, local union president. 'There'll be one less school bus in Garrett County,' he said about plans to send non-union workers across picket lines in a county bus.

"Threats! Yes, there is no question about this point.

"Most people have no concept of union pressures unless they live through such experiences. Ask the grape growers in California what it has been like to live with the socalled nonviolent farm labor movement, or the Alabama broiler growers about the burning of broiler houses in efforts to organize them.

"Of course, unions will deny any responsibility for violence. They have already done this in Garrett in connection with the four dynamiting incidents, of which two occurred near the homes of the two county commissioners who refuse to talk to the union.

"Unions, if allowed to continue their power plays, will easily control our nation because they will be able to stop vital services, including the movement of food from the farm to the market place.

"No one will argue against the need for organization of groups of people with similar interest for their own protection and welfare. But, there must be checks and balances if our democratic principles are to survive. The autocracy of business a century ago is now rapidly being replaced with the autocracy of unions. One is as bad as the other!

"It's time for the citizens of our nation to call upon our elected representatives to establish, where needed, sound reasonable ground rules for organizational activities of public employees, farm workers and farmers.

"Farm Bureau has strongly advocated legislation to: (1) prohibit compulsory unionism, (2) prohibit strikes in certain areas that work against the public interest, (3) prohibit violence in labor disputes and provide injured parties injunctive relief and damages, (4) establish a Farm Labor Relations Act designed to fit agriculture, and (5) improve the opportunity for farmer controlled marketing organizations to succeed."

Co. Agent Group Honors Local Man

Robert G. Miller, who was born and reared on a 160-acre farm near Accident, has been honored by the National Association of County Agricultural Agents for his work on Maryland's Eastern Shore.

Mr. Miller, who is the Wicomico County extension agent, last week at Corvallis, Oregon, was presented the Distinguished Service Award, one of the highest honors of the national association.

After graduating from high school he managed the family farm for two years before entering the military service for two years during World War II. Following his discharge in 1964 he managed a pea vining station near Accident before enrolling in the University of Maryland.

Mr. Miller earned the B.S. degree in agricultural education from the University in 1950. He added the M.S. degree at North Carolina State University in 1966 and has taken additional courses at the University of Wisconsin.

He served as vice-president of the Maryland Agricultural Agents association during 1962 and headed the organization the following year. He chaired the policy and Land Grant college committee as well as the annual meeting committee for the organization during 1967-68.

He is a member of Epsilon Sigma Phi honorary fraternity and graduated with honors at North Carolina State. He and his family live in Salisbury.

The Maryland committee which recommended Mr. Miller for the award, said he had been a focal point in the development and growth of the vegetables, field crops and swine enterprises on the Eastern shore. His leadership influenced the organization of the Maryland Sweet Potato association, the Tri-County programs in soybean and corn production and establishment of disease and insect control clinics.

Commissioners' Meeting

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN That the Board of County Commissioners for Garrett County Maryland, will be in session for the transaction of all routine business that may properly come before them on Tuesday, September 8, 1970 and each Monday thereafter. In the event that a holiday occur on Monday, the meeting will be held Tuesday

By Order of the Board
HAROLD J. ADAMS,
Clerk

New Scenic River System Considered

The Youghiogheny river is one of five rivers included in a new Scenic Rivers system now being developed by Maryland. The goal of the program is to preserve the "scenic, fish, wildlife and other recreational values of each river and its adjacent land."

Ten more watercourses are to be inventoried during the year to determine whether they should be added. Among the ten are Casselman and Savage rivers in this county. A third category has been added to the list for future study as possible Scenic rivers. Among 60 recommended for study are Bear Creek, Jennings run, Puzzley run and Salt Block run in this county.

The Youghiogheny, according to the Department of State Planning, faces problems similar to those of other waterways in that it isn't threatened directly by urbanization but the Yough could face a crisis in water quality if mine acid seepage from current strip mining activities and older mines in the watershed is allowed to infiltrate into the river.

Present quality is high, mostly because the river winds through heavily forested land, not yet subjected to serious development.

In order to preserve the river's wilderness potential for recreational and other uses, the review board hopes to preserve major portions of the watershed. It recommends that all large inaccessible regions be designated as natural areas with limited recreational development. Moderate supporting activities would be proposed at Oakland, Friendsville and Swallow Falls State park.

The House of Delegates chamber at the State House in Annapolis is undergoing modernization of the sound system and voting board.

Labor Day, 1970 . . .

We have reached the "I don't know where the summer went" season. Fall lies just around the corner. Labor Day marked the end of summer vacations and the beginning, at least psychologically, of a new work year. The unofficial demarcation line that most of us live by is Labor Day and the opening of school.

Aside from the war in Indochina, the American people seem most concerned about continued inflation, the threat of recession and what to do about it.

President Nixon has called for greater productivity as a means of countering both threats. He has created a special commission to make a study of the need for higher productivity and ways to achieve it. The key, of course is held by the people who actually do the work. Greater productivity means more goods in the market, more goods mean lower prices, lower prices mean more sales, more jobs, and eventually higher wages that aren't inflationary.

But it all has to start with a determination on the part of each of us to work harder with the endless clamor for higher wages by many labor unions without increasing productivity. There must be a leveling off somewhere.

Citizens on Tuesday have another opportunity to carry out their responsibilities by going to the polls and casting their ballots for the people of their choice. It is a patriotic duty and a privilege to vote, so let us not shirk our duty.

Permit Is Picked Up For 100 Unit Housing Complex

The permit to construct the 25-building Town House complex was picked up at City Hall last Friday.

The building complex includes one hundred units in the 25 buildings. Eighty units are to have three bedrooms and twenty are to have four bedrooms.

They are to be built on the old Bradley farm, also known as the old fair grounds in the western part of town. Water service is available.

The cost of the project is put at $1,579,500.

An article and pictures of this project appeared in the May 21 issue of The Republican.

Leake Is Eligible To Seek Office

The Rev. Walter H. Leake, of Deer Park Assembly of God church, will be allowed to run for the House of Delegates, according to a ruling by Judge Matthew S. Evans in Anne Arundel county circuit court.

The judge ruled Tuesday that Leake could run as an American Party candidate.

There is a constitutional ban in Maryland on clergymen running for office but Judge Evans' ruling did not challenge the law. The Rev. Leake will not be ordained for several months, however.

Robert F. Sweeney, deputy attorney general, said that since the Rev. Leake "is not a fully ordained licensed minister of the gospel" yet his case would not be a real challenge to the state constitutional provision. The issue arose when the Assembly of God church minister was refused permission to file as a candidate before the July 6 deadline.

Cosner Receives Year's Sentence For Dynamiting

Paul W. Cosner, Jr. a former worker for the County Roads department, who entered a plea of guilty August 28 on a charge of willful and malicious destruction of property owned by Hubert A. Friend, president of the Board of County Commissioners, and who underwent a presentence investigation at the order of Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill, was sentenced to one year to the custody of the Commissioner of Correction in the circuit court on Wednesday morning.

The man will be taken to the Maryland penitentiary for tests, and from there may remain in the penitentiary, be sent to the House of Correction or some other correctional institution.

He has been in the county jail since his plea with his $300 bond being revoked.

He pleaded guilty to dynamiting a fence on the farm of Mr. Friend, near Hoyes last June 16, about 9:15 p. m. His arrest followed a short time later by State Police.

Arson Suspected In Farm Blaze

"If at first you don't succeed, try again," must have been the motto of a person or persons who in all probably set fire to a storage shed, formerly a residence, on the property of William E. Fitzwater, Jr., on Turkey Neck road, Sunday night around midnight.

The Deer Park firemen responded and saved over half the building on the first round. But after being thoroughly doused with water a second alarm was sounded about 2 o'clock and this time the entire building was in flames and was completely destroyed. An old truck motor and furnace were among the storage items in the building at the time. The structure was approximately 40 by 75 and contained a basement and two stories.

Mr. Fitzwater said the state fire marshal was on hand Tuesday conducting an investigation along with state police. Fitzwater said a smell of gasoline was very prominent around the ruins.

Mr. Tyson reported that $11,079,858 was channeled into Maryland through 877 loans for better town and country housing during the fiscal year ended June 30. Loans the previous year totaled 556 for $7,380,947.

Kennedy, in Washington, meets Dave Ramsey at Red House one day last week, who had been a Peace Corps representative to his native country last year. It was a surprise to both, to say the least.

Blighted Corn Safe To Feed Cattle

Corn that has been damaged by blight can be fed safely to cattle, according to James A. McHenry, extension agent.

The corn yield will be reduced mainly because the leaf could not manufacture sufficient carbohydrate to fill the kernel, he added. The carotene content of the silage will be reduced because fewer green leaves are available. Thus dairymen should plan to include vitamin A in their grain mixture with severely damaged corn.

Farmers are being advised to watch their corn. Severely damaged corn may not mature for grain and they may have to ensile it to save the crop.

Mr. McHenry said tests showed the best time for making corn silage was medium hard dough to early dent stage.

Corn generally in this county was only slightly affected by blight. But Mr. McHenry pointed out that there were other conditions such as nutrimential deficiency that caused browning of corn and that this should not be confused with corn blight.

YFC Members To Attend Meyersdale Rally

Members of Mt. Top YFC will take a bus to the Meyersdale YFC rally to see the film "Flip Side," being shown there Saturday evening. The bus will leave Southern High at 6:15, and will stop at McHenry at 6:45.

The film is in color and portrays a generation warped by dope, sex, liquor, broken communications, hippie philosophies and godless pleasures with the answer being Christ.

Bolivian Student Meets Peace Corps Friend Enroute To Capital

By Dave Ramsey

Last Friday morning, Arturo Perez set out on his bicycle from Red House, Maryland, destination—Washington, D. C. To most of us this would seem a long journey, for Arturo it was but the final phase of a 15,000 mile sojourn which has taken him through every Latin American country and a goodly part of the United States.

Luck has played a large role in Arturo's immense journey through to Garrett County, but an even greater role in bringing our paths to cross. My wife and I have recently returned from two years of service in Bolivia as Peace Corps Volunteers and no one could have been as surprised as I when I stopped on Route 50 near Red House to offer aid to a stranded bicyclist, to discover to my amazement a young Bolivian student who spoke only a few words of English and who pedaled and pushed his bicycle laden with gear from the Bolivian Altepalano, through every South and Central American Country and across the U. S. as far as Red House, to the spot where we chanced to meet. He, I might add, was as thoroughly surprised to find someone along Route 50 who knew his homeland, as I was to find him.

I invited him home to supper and rest for the night before passing on to Washington, D. C. We spent a long happy and rather amazing evening listening to the story of physical endurance and faith in his fellow man, to which this young Bolivian ascribes (despite language and cultural barriers).

Arturo left La Paz, Bolivia, on July 1, 1967, on a forty pound bicycle carrying some 250 pounds of supplies, the reason fo rhis journey, a plaque to the memory of John F. Kennedy. Arturo has been selected by the students of Bolivia to carry the plaque which reads in Spanish: "All the students of Bolivia in memory of John F. Kennedy Q.E.P.D. (Rest in Peace), LaPaz, Bolivia, July, 1966."

Carrying the plaque of respect to the grave of a North American President whom Latin Americans so admire, has not been an easy task for this young man and is testimony to his dedication and good will. Although a champion bicycle rider who set a 106 hour endurance record in Chile, Perez has encountered and overcome many obstacles. He had to spend three months in a Columbian hospital after a snake bite, had a serious wreck in Peru and fought severe cold of the isolated Andean Mountains, and was forced to work for some months in Guatemala after his funds ran out. Perhaps more minor in scope but just as major an obstacle to consider is the language barrier he faces, speaking so little English. Arturo carries with him a letter explaining himself and the purpose of his journey in English and numerous letters from American families and members of the Rotary and Lions Clubs, who have befriended him along his path.

Daily obstacles often seem insurmountable. Because Arturo Perez feels his journey is one

Large Vote Expected For Primary, 15th

Republicans And Democrats To Select Candidates

Republican voters will go to the polls on Tuesday, September 15, to express their preference for ten offices among thirty-two candidates while Democratic voters will ballot for eight offices among thirty-three candidates.

The winners in the two primary elections will join a number of others who will appear on the general election ballot in November, who had no opposition in the primary.

Some 8,469 citizens of all parties were listed on the registration books as of August 17, but 80 of them are listed either in the American party or the independent party, or declined to state their preference and will not be eligible to vote in the primary election. Eligible to vote will be 3,255 Democrats and 5,125 Republicans. A large vote is anticipated as there will be unusual interest in the competition for County Commissioner in the three commissioner districts.

John Ross Sines and Allen S. Paugh are candidates for reelection on the Republican ticket. Sines is from Commissioner district 3, while Paugh is Commissioner district 1. Paugh has one opponent, William Fitzwater, Jr., while Sines has three opponents, Arthur M. Savage, J. Edward Tasker, and O. Dale Upole.

Hubert A. Friend, incumbent president of the commissioners, is not a candidate for re-election. Vieing for the nomination in district 2 are Charles L. Arnold, Warren E. Miller, Samuel J. Thomas and C. William Turner.

On the Republican ticket there are choices for governor, comptroller, U. S. Senator, Congressmen from the 6th district, state senator, Sheriff, and County Commissioner from all three districts. Members of the State Central Committee also will be chosen.

On the Democratic ticket there are choices for governor among five, U. S. Senator from four; Congress from three; Sheriff from three, County Commissioner: 3 from district 1, 3 from district 2 and five from district 3. Democratic candidates for Commissioner include the following: district 1, Bernard M. Guy, Mason L. Madigan, William R. Virts; district 2, Ellis O. Cogley, Earl O. Opel, Allen S. Warnick; district 3, Wayne B. Hamilton, James E. Matthews, Asa F. Nethken, Theodore Raynovich, Harvey B. Sines. There are seven candidates for six positions on the State Central Committee.

A facsimile of the ballot to be used in the primary election appears on another page of The Republican today.

The results of the voting for County Commissioner may have a bearing on finding a suitable decision on the County roads hassle.

Garrett - Allegany Only GOP Bastions

Garrett and Allegany counties are the only numerical bastions of the Republican party, according to statewide voter registration figures. In Garrett county GOP voters have a 5,125 to 3,255 edge. In Allegany county registered Republicans outnumber Democrats 19,621 to 16,562.

Democrats own a 3 to 1 margin over the Republicans in Maryland and in the past four years have outgained the GOP by 40,000 in newly registered voters.

The Democratic party has a total of 1,106,759 while the GOP totals 414,595.

KNOW YOUR ENEMY!

MARIJUANA — YOU CAN BECOME A FOOL

Smoking "Pot," "Tea," "Grass" or "Weed," all of them names for Marijuana, creates a feeling of superiority to others. That is its chief attraction to persons with unstable minds, who are unsure of themselves.

Actually, Marijuana users find it more difficult to make wise decisions that require clear thinking. Reflexes are affected and driving under the influence of Marijuana is dangerous.

Its physical reactions include a more rapid heart beat, changing blood sugar levels and it stimulates the appetite. Users may become talkative, loud, unsteady or drowsy and the sense of time and distance is distorted.

The next issue of these Public Service messages will discuss the greatest danger to smokers of Marijuana.

Southern's new bleachers, costing approximately $12,000, were finished in time for the opening home game last Saturday night. The School Athletic Department borrowed the money from a local bank to make the purchase. Labor to install the stands was provided by the Garrett County Community Action Committee, Operation Mainstream, funded by the Department of Labor. With a seating capacity of 1554, the new stands were almost filled. The new seats provide an uninterrupted view of the game. Five hundred choice reserved seats for the season were put on sale for $12.00 which also included the admission price. Some reserve seats are still available for $10.00 for the remaining games. Bleachers were purchased from the Snyder Bleacher Division, Snyder Tank Corpoation of Buffalo, N. Y., for $10,200. Other costs include demolishing the old stands and foundation work for the new. Last year new bleachers were placed on the visitors' side of the field.

A Latin American hijacked the world's largest commercial plane to Havana, Cuba.

YOU'VE COME A LONG, LONG WAY, PEREZ—Arturo Perez, student of Bolivia, South America, stands beside his heavily laden bicycle which he pedaled and pushed for several thousand miles while on his way to deliver a plaque to Washington, in memory of John F. Kennedy. Perez met, surprisingly, one evening last week with Dave Ramsey, now residing in Oakland, who was a member of the Peace Corps to Bolivia last year.

Bolivian Student

of personal sacrifice he will accept no rides and recently spent from 10 A.M. till 5 P.M. pushing and puffing his heavy vehicle up Cheat Mountain. Despite such everyday hardships Arturo has never thought of abandoning his journey nor the support of his fellow Bolivians who cheered him on his way in 1967. Nor could he give up his dream of reaching the grave of John F. Kennedy as personal tribute to a man he so admired. Certainly his journey of personal sacrifice is testimony to an admirable young man.

Arturo hopes to return to his native Bolivia with an ambulance to be used in service to the poor people of the Andean highlands. As a landlocked nation, the second poorest in all Latin America, Bolivia faces seemingly insurmountable problems in her struggle to bring a better life to her peoples. Certainly Arturo Perez is a valuable asset to his native Bolivia and a most interesting visitor to our U.S.A. We wish him well on this last leg of his journey and thank him for the time and experiences he shared here with us in Garrett County.

Mrs. Harild Uuole, a full-time assistant whose work included a variety of duties, resigned at the end of June.

Southern Rams Trim Stags 22-14

Robert Ridder ran and passed Southern to a 22-14 win over Kingwood Saturday night in the Rams' home opener.

The scoring opened in the second quarter when Ridder handed off to junior fullback Rick Shaffer who scored from five yards out. The extra point try was good as Ridder ran around the end and dived over the goal line.

Southern was off and running again later in the quarter when sophomore Homer Rodeheaver recovered a Stag loose ball on the 32 yard line. Ridder scrambled to turn what seemed to be a loss into a scoring play when he threw a 32 yard bomb to end Rich Rinker, who trotted into the end zone. The try for an extra point failed.

The Rams seemed on their way to an easy victory, but on the ensuing kickoff, Herb McDonald reversed his field and ran 70 yards for a quick score for Kingwood. The extra point try failed and the buzzer sounded ending the first half with Southern leading 14-6.

After play resumed in the third quarter, Tom Hayhurst returned a Kingwood punt for 65 yards to set up Southern's third T.D. Ridder took the ball in from 2 yards out. The two point conversion was good when Shaffer powered his way through the line making the score Southern 22 to Kingwood 6.

Kingwood came right back to score when Calvert scored from two yards out. The extra point try was good for two points when Liston threw to Calvert making the score Southern 22 to Kingwood 14.

Kingwood threatened to tie the score late in the fourth quarter. The Stags were on Southern's 4 yard line when quarterback Liston's pass slipped off the fingertips of the receiver to fall incomplete.

Southern took over the ball on downs and ran out the clock with the final score Southern 22 and Kingwood 14.

Outstanding on defense were George Zimmerman, Chris Nichols, Homer Rodeheaver, Gregg Lee, and Bob Ridder. On offense Ridder, Shaffer, Peter Cosby, and Terry King were standouts.

Southern had 12 first downs to 8 for the Stags, and gained 187 yards.

The Rams will play Valley of Lonaconing this Friday evening on the home gridiron.

Southern Speaks

by Laurie McCullough and Bev DeBerry

A new video tape machine has been purchased for Southern High to be used in the different departments.

It can be used to advantage for vocational guidance for taping speakers who cannot be in all classes, play back for speech, music, and dramatics. Sports events can also be taped. All of these can be played back so that the student can study his presentation or mistakes and then make improvenments.

The device has two parts. One part resembles a TV and the other resembles a taping machine. It was used at the football game Saturday.

Juniors Order Rings

Students who will graduate in 1972 were measured and placed orders for their class rings on Wednesday. They could choose from different sizes and sets from the same design. Jostens Company sells the class rings and the graduation announcements.

Band Plays At Game

The Southern band played for the opening football game last Saturday. There was no halftime show since the members did not have their new uniforms or have time to practice.

They plan to put on shows for future games.

The next appearance for the band will be at the football game with Valley High School Friday night.

Farewell Supper Set

A farewell fellowship and covered dish supper honoring Miss Susie Thomas, of Bruceton Mills, who will be leaving for Japan the latter part of September, will be held at the fire hall in Bruceton from 1 to 8:30 p.m. Saturday, September 19, with supper being served at 6:30

Interested persons are invited to attend and bring a covered dish.

An Open Letter To Ex-State Senator Clifford Friend In Answer To His Letter To The Editor of The Republican Newspaper Of Thursday, September 3, 1970

FROM THE OFFICERS AND MEMBERS OF GARRETT COUNTY ROAD WORKERS UNION, LOCAL 1834, AFSCME, AFL-CIO

Dear Mr. Friend:

Your completely inept analysis of the Garrett County Roads Workers Union shows a lack of knowledge of the Union's structure, its working relationship with various political subdivisions within the State of Maryland and a complete void as to both Maryland and Federal labor legislation. Frankly, considering your lack-lustre record in the Maryland Senate, we are not too surprised to see you go off—half cocked—without researching a single fact in your politically motivated tirade against Commissioner Paugh and our Garrett County Union, Local 1834, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, AFL-CIO.

May we remind you, Mr. Friend, that the year is 1970, not 1930, when the BIG LIE reigned supreme. Hitler's tactics will not work in this day and—we'll prove it to you on election day, September 15. You may not be living in the 20th Century, but we are! What made you think that Garrett Countians don't read newspapers, listen to a radio or watch TV? We resent your implications that we are a simple-minded folk. We know what is going on in today's world.

It is people like you, Commissioners Sines and Friend and the mere handful of your misguided, non-thinking followers who are behind the times—way, way behind.

Your letter is either a shrewd politician's use of the BIG LIE technique or a blind harangue by a completely uninformed, bitter relic of the past, who wants to continue to prosper on the ignorance and poverty of his fellow man. Which is your category, Mr. Friend? Whichever it is, the distortions, half-truths and outright lies were written to mislead the voters of Garrett County.

First, Mr. Friend, you seem to have forgotten that the right of association is a basic American right. Those who might suppress or advocate the suppression of this freedom of choice are not good Americans.

You said in your letter, that there would be "...more domination, more threats and more injustice." Are you admitting that these existed prior to the merger of our old Association with AFSCME? How much domination, threats and injustice existed with your blessing and support? Did "JAW BREAKER" Road get its name through your efforts? Was this violence?

It is hard to believe that you are completely ignorant of the collective bargaining process. It is easier to believe that you are again using the BIG LIE when you talk about the Union establishing working conditions, hours, wage scales, hiring, firing, etc. Collective Bargaining means that both employer and employee sit down together and work out their differences to the mutual advantage of both. This has been done by AFSCME and the Commissioners of neighboring Allegany County. There are 49 local AFSCME Unions in the State of Maryland, representing more than 17,000 members in State, County and City Governments.

The Baltimore Evening Sun, a very conservative newspaper, in a recent editorial headed "STUBBORN GARRETT," had this to say:

> "Here is a stupid, silly dispute which two commissioners have let deteriorate far beyond the bounds or reason or principle. The state government and other counties, including neighboring Allegany, have dealt openly, responsibly and effectively with the same Union. Garrett could—and should—do the same. If the Commissioners can't see this, it might be well for businessmen and others seriously interested in the economic future of the county to pry their officials eyes open."

AFSCME local unions enjoy excellent relations with local governments throughout the State of Maryland. In every case, local unions are autonomous. They make their own decisions, bargain with management and determine their own destiny through collective bargaining.

As to CHECK-OFF, Mr. Friend, you neglected to mention that the Road Workers Association had dues check-off, whereby the county coollected dues for the association for many years. How come your great concern about check-off now?

You are very concerned about "loyal" workers who did not join the Union, who have shown no respect for the majority rule, but who have accepted some $10,000.00 in taxpayers money for NOT working. When your two STUBBORN MEN finally sit down and bargain in good faith with their employees, they will determine, through collective bargaining, whether every employee will have to belong to the Union. The Union CANNOT make this decision on its own.

Once again, you have NOT researched your subject. It is NOT the practice of AFSCME Unions in Maryland to:

1. "Charge initiation fees." Not one of our more than 17,000 Maryland members has ever paid an initiation fee.
2. "Call strikes because some worthless fellow has been demoted or fired. AFSCME has been responsbile for setting up GRIEVANCE PROCEDURES in the State, Counties and City governments so that both management and labor can determine, together, if injustices have been done—without strikes.
3. "Call sympathy strikes." AFSCME has never called a "sympathy" strike in the State of Maryland.
4. "Levy special assessments upon the men to raise money for strikers." AFSCME has never levied an assessment upon any member in the State of Maryland.
5. "The Union could levy fines against any of our men for breach of union rules, etc...." AFSCME has never levied a fine against any member in the State of Maryland.

You also state, Mr. Friend, that the local union would have no control over how their dues would be spent. Once again, you are dead wrong! Each local union has complete control over their dues. Each local union has representation in the Maryland Council 67 of AFSCME. Each Local Union elects delegates to the International Union's convention where they collectively determine the course of the International Union.

It is amazing, Mr. Friend, how every point you have tried to make—is wrong. We challenge you to cite ONE CASE where arbitrary actions and favoritism has been shown or where demands have been made by the Union to fire workers. You cannot back up your irresponsible statements because these things have never happened!

We must agree with you on one score: "It is truly difficult to understand why sensible men would, of their own free will, want to trade away their precious liberty to put on the yoke of chattel slaves, unless they have, indeed, been sold a false bill of goods." We were sold a false bill—for 13 years. We tried to bargain with our Commissioners and got taken every time. We finally threw off the yoke this past year, when we merged our Association with AFSCME and became Local 1834.

For your information, Mr. Paugh has acted in good faith, as a responsible public servant, and deserves the support of all Garrett Countians. Your days, Mr. Friend, and your type of thinking are relics of the past. We believe that most of the thinking citizens of Garrett County can see through your meaningless façade. You and men like Commissioners Ross Sines and Hubert Friend, have failed us as leaders. We are tired of living in a depressed economy, where we have to rely upon Federal Food Stamps to supplement our poverty-level county wages. We are fed up with empty promises from a series of 19th Century County Commissioners. We are going to make our Garrett County prosper so that not just a handful of selfish, corrupt politicians can live a good life, but that all citizens of this County can realize their American heritage.

GARRETT COUNTY ROAD WORKERS
LOCAL 1834 OFFICERS
W. "Jack" Sowers, President
Henry Trickett, Vice-President
Charles Lowdermilk, Secy.-Treas.

Citizens of Garrett County. We can only realize our American Heritage by working together to the benefit of the majoriy—not just a chosen few. We urge you to ignore Clifford Friend's BIG LIE letter and his chosen candidate for Co. Commissioner. It is your duty as a free American to elect candidates who will talk to your public employees, so that you can be provided with the vital services for which you are paying taxes and so that we, the County Road Workers, can work for you in the future as we have in the past. Some of us have been in the service of Garrett County for as many as 30 years. We want our roads repaired and open. We pledge to you that this will happen if you repudiate Clifford Friend and his 19th Century political bed-mates.

SENSING THE NEWS

By Anthony Harrigan

Defense and Loyalty

Continuing efforts in the Senate to halt or retard development of needed defense systems is a disturbing indication of the responsiveness of some national legislators to pressure from anti-preparedness elements.

Know-nothing attitudes towards defense aren't new factors in our national history. After World War I, America's defenses were dismantled. As a result, Germany and Japan were able to emerge as powerful aggressor forces. The eventual result was the attack on Pearl Harbor and a second world war. Neo-isolationism from the New Left could produce an equally tragic result within a decade—a third world war.

Today, however, there is a new factor in the move towards unilateral disarmament. Adm. Thomas H. Moorer, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, recently said that "the most significant syndrome affecting our perspective today is often called 'anti-militarism'," adding 'I look on it as 'anti-common sense'."

Adm. Elmo R. Zumwalt Jr., the new Chief of Naval Operations, in an address at Annapolis, warned that "the concept of military preparedness is being questioned by an alienated segment of our population."

It is something new in our history to have an "alienated segment of our population." But there's no denying the truth of the admiral's observation. We have in our country today not simply a faction that disagrees with foreign policy but an element that hates America and wants to see it humiliated and defeated.

Good citizens find it hard to believe that some people, enjoying the blessings of this land, actually seek destruction and the breakdown of its values.

Yet evidence of the existence of the "alienated segment" is all around us — in the pathological character assassination of military personnel, in the fire-bombing of ROTC centers, in the funding of underground papers on defense bases, and in the praise the New Left lavishes on revolutionary movements and the cult of violence.

A few years ago, the extremists seemed a mere handful. Today, the disaffected element clearly is of considerable size. With the active encouragement of elements in the news media, especially the TV networks, the "alienated" have strengthened their position. Evening newscasts may bring interviews with those who openly boast of resisting their country and opposing its lawful orders. Sympathetic publicity is lavished on those who refuse to fight or who, overnight, declare themselves to be conscientious objectors.

The situation in Congress, with respect to defense appropriations, is serious indeed. But it is not half as serious as the situation involving the "alienated segment." Today, the country faces a grave loyalty issue. No nation can long survive if loyalty is not emphasized and if disloyalty is not punished.

We have heard much in recent years about the "right" to dissent, but there is a great deal of opposition to national defense these days which cannot be described simply as "dissent." The only word for it is disloyalty, for the objective of the opponents of defense measures is the weakening of the United States and its transformation into a second or third-rank world power. The American people cannot afford to be naive about the current wave of disloyalty, for their lives — and the future of our country and govermental system — are at stake.

As Vice-President Agnew has pointed out on numerous occasions, the nation has a grave problem with an effete intelligentsia that controls communications in many of our metropolitan centers. This same intelligentsia has come to dominate many of our public and private educational institutions and to re-orient the thinking of young intellectuals in the direction of defeatism and nihilism.

The defense issue of our time covers a broad spectrum of problems. We have a severe problem with respect to defense equipment. While America acquires new surface ships, submarines, aircraft aand missiles at a slow rate, the Soviets are augmenting their forces as rapidly as possible. But that's only part of our national defense problem. Even more important is the matter of national morale. Defeatism and nihilism must be eradicated from our country if the United States is to endure as a strong, free nation. This is our No. 1 task.

Dan Walker Retires After 35 Years In Dept. Of Mines

A dinner was held in Washington, D. C., on Saturday, August 29, honoring W. Dan Walker, Jr., native of Kitzmiller, who retired July 31 as district manager of Coal Mine Health and Safety District A, Bureau of Mines. He had served the government for thirty-five years.

A son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Walker, the man is a brother of Jesse J. Walker, of Shallmar, retired mine operator.

The district is rated as one of the most complex districts in the Health and Safety activity of the Bureau of Mines.

During Mr. Walker's career in the Bureau his colleagues said he had been dedicated to the improvement of coal mine safety, and advanced mine safety by fostering research in flame-retardant conveyor belts and fire resistant hydraulic fluids for underground use. He also was instrumental in bringing accident-prevention training to isolated mines by the use of mobile training units equipped with lecture-hall facilities, movies and other visual aids as well as facilities for demonstrating the flammability of certain liquids and gases and the dangers of uncontrolled flames and electric arcs and sparks.

In 1953 Mr. Walker was designated by the United States Department of State as official delegate to sessions of the Coal Mines committee of the International Labor Organization held in Dusseldorf, Germany. In 1966 he received the Distinguished Service award in recognition of his service in the advancement of safety, highest honor of the Department of the Interior.

His experience in coal mine health and safety activities enabled him to provide expert advice and counsel in the development of the Federal Coal Mine Health and Safety Act of 1969.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker plan to travel extensively.

All passengers and crew were saved when a Philippine freighter burned and sank 900 miles northwest of San Francisco.

United States Must End Role in Vietnam War

The Senate recently voted to approve the $20 billion Military Procurement Bill for fiscal year 1971. Passage of this legislation followed more than five weeks of debate during which many questions vital to the security of the United States were considered.

One of those questions was whether to proceed with the construction of two additional anti-ballistic missile sites to complement those which were approved last year and which are now under construction. The Senate decided that these additional sites were needed and voted the funds not only to proceed with the ABM project, but also to expand it. I believed, after listening to the debate, that the ABM system approved by the Congress last year is a better system than the Soviet Union's and I voted to proceed at the level outlined by the President last year. I hope my doubts about this system will be overridden by its performance and that it will, in these days of tight money, prove to be a good investment of America's tax dollars.

Another topic which was thoroughly debated during the course of considering the Military Procurement Bill was the Vietnam War. I know of no one in the Congress who does not believe that the American people want this war ended as quickly as possible. However, there persists a great gulf of opinion about the best means to end the conflict. Some senators, and I joined this group, supported the McGovern-Hatfield amendment which would have, had it passed, served notice to the world, particularly to our allies in Saigon and the enemy in Hanoi that the United States intended to terminate its participation in the hostilities in Indochina by December of 1971. However, by a vote of 55-39, the Senate decided, for the present, to support the President's decision to remove 150,000 men by next April and continue to deescalate U.S. involvement in the war at an unspecified pace. I said "for the present" because I suspect that unless the Vietnam War continues to cool and America's involvement decreases, the war will, because of its enormous effect on America, continue to be a subject for debate in the Senate. One example of the influence of the war on our daily lives is the Defense Budget.

President Nixon has, through a great effort, managed to cut back our defense spending by $6 billion from the $77 billion spent last year to a proposed figure of $71 billion for this year. The cut is the largest made in the defense budget in many years. However, as a result, civilian and military sources estimate that the defense industry will be from 30 to 46 per cent idle, that is, it will not be undertaking projects planned because the money is not available. Rather the money which could be spent for this vital work and other pressing domestic needs is being spent in Vietnam.

This situation raises serious security questions which the Congress is going to have to consider. We must worry about not only our security today or tomorrow, but also ten, twenty or thirty years from now. Such planning cannot be adequately carried out while the nation is bogged down in Vietnam. This is one more reason why United States' involvement in Vietnam must end.

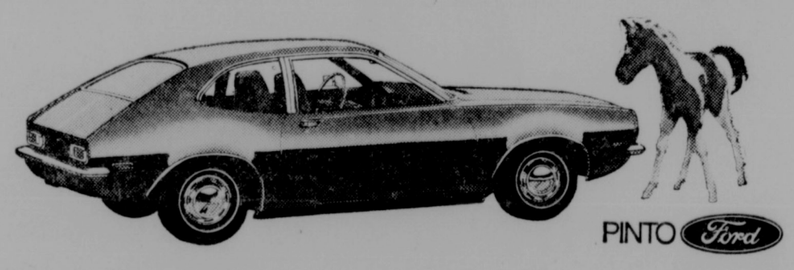
Meet Ford's new Pinto. The little carefree car.



If you have the questions, Pinto has the answers.

Q. What do you mean, "carefree"?
A. Pinto's designed to free you from car cares, big and little. Cares about high prices and big gas bills. Cares about parking. Cares about service and reliability. Power and stability. Quiet and roominess.
Q. You say Pinto is little. How little?
A. Pinto is only 3 inches longer than VW. But its turning circle is actually a little less, so Pinto can slip easily into tight parking spaces.
Q. And inside?
A. Pinto gives you more interior roominess overall than Volkswagen. And getting in and out is easier because Pinto's doors are a good half-foot wider.
Q. What about price?
A. Pinto is priced like the little economy imports, too.
Q. What about power?
A. Pinto delivers 75 horsepower and averages over 25 miles per gallon in simulated city/suburban driving. The engine is front-mounted and exceptionally quiet for a car in this class. Pinto is the only American economy car equipped with a 4-speed, fully synchronized transmission at no extra cost.
Q. What else is standard equipment?
A. High Back bucket seats. Direct-Aire ventilation with upper-level fresh air outlets. Heater defroster with 3-speed fan. Two-speed electric windshield wipers. Electric windshield washers. Your choice of 15 exterior colors. And more.
Q. How about optional extras?
A. Pinto offers a 100-hp engine and 3-speed automatic transmission. Front disc brakes. Even built-in air conditioning. Tinted glass. Vinyl roof. "Flipper" rear quarter windows. Fold-down rear seat. Bumper guards and side molding with vinyl inserts to protect the paint. More than most imports offer—at prices economy-car buyers can afford.
Q. Reliability?
A. Pinto's engine has already logged 50 million owner-driven miles. And the strength of some of Pinto's parts makes ordinary little economy cars look puny by comparison. Parts like the starter motor, ball joints, rear wheel bearings are heavy duty. Craftsmanship? Pinto is the only American car with hand-matched transmission gears.
Q. What's Pinto like out on the road?
A. Pinto has a wider stance than any economy import, for better stability in turns and gusty crosswinds. For more road feel, and more precise handling, Pinto has rack & pinion steering—like Porsche and Jaguar—something you won't find on any other American car.
Q. Tell me about service.
A. Pinto is so simple you can do much of the maintenance yourself, if you like. The Owner's Manual shows you how. And Pinto's free Do-It-Yourself Key helps you perform minor service functions.
Q. Suppose I don't service Pinto myself?
A. You still save when your Ford Dealer does it. For example, Pinto needs an oil change half as often as the leading import. And a chassis lube only one-sixth as often.
Q. Sounds great—where can I test-drive Pinto?
A. Your nearest Ford Dealer. And if you have any more questions, he can answer them.

Yes,
Ridge Homes has mortgage money and a home you can afford!

But if you keep waiting, it could cost you $1,000 more.

How come Ridge has mortgage money when nobody else does? Because we're the East's largest home manufacturer, a division of Evans Products Company. And we have our own financial resources to help people build new homes. So mortgages just aren't a problem for Ridge customers . . . even in this time of tight money.

Yet, some people are still waiting instead of building. Waiting till things get better. Well, don't hold your breath. The longer you wait, the more it's going to cost you. And that's not Ridge Homes talking.

That's the opinion of the Federal Government's top mortgage expert!

Recently, he released some facts and figures that will change your mind about waiting to build. Consider this: the cost of land and labor is climbing at the alarming rate of 1% every month! Now, 1% may not sound like much. But look at it in dollars and cents. Before you know it, it could add up to $1,000! That's $1,000 you can save by building this year. And remember, the sooner you build, the sooner inflation starts working to increase the value of your home . . . instead of increasing its price.

Now get a copy of our new magazine free. It shows you how you can build the home you want right away.

You'll find the whole story in our new magazine. It's 84 colorful pages of pure inspiration . . . the first magazine of its kind! It includes all 39 Ridge models . . . decorator ideas . . . Ridge Homes' "Wonderful World of Choice" for floor plans, bathrooms, kitchens . . . It's the complete, exciting story. There's even a feature article written by a man who's building his own Ridge home right now on just a $100 deposit!

CHEVY'S NEW LITTLE CAR IS OPEN FOR BUSINESS.

We call it Vega.

We also call it "the little car that does everything well."

Because it does.

Everything? Everything.

Vega moves well, stops well, steers well, rides well, handles well, responds well, passes well, travels well, parks well, wears well, and is priced well under what you'd expect to pay for such a talented little car.

In our highway tests, Vega has been getting gas mileage in the neighborhood of the little imports. which isn't a bad neighborhood.

Yet unlike your average little car, ours steps right out when you step on the gas.

The engine is a specially designed overhead cam four with a lightweight aluminum alloy block. It turns slowly and quietly at turnpike speeds, with power to spare.

Disc brakes are standard in the front. So are bucket seats, except on the truck.

How we doing so far?

The wheelbase is 97 inches.

Total length is just under 170 inches, or nearly four feet shorter than a full-size Chevrolet.

Height of the coupe is just 50 inches, nine inches lower than the leading import.

Width: a nice stable 5½ feet.

Weight: 2,190 lbs. for the sedan.

Engine displacement: 140 cubic inches.

Fuel economy: about 25 mpg, with the standard engine and transmission, in our highway tests.

Horsepower: 90. You can order 110. (80 and 93 hp, SAE Net.)

What it all adds up to is a lot of little car.

Three cars and a truck.

Vega turned out so well . . . we couldn't turn out just one.

So we're turning out four: the sporty little hatchback coupe shown open and closed in the foreground below; the sedan, on the right; the Kammback wagon, on the left; and the little panel truck, in the rear.

Oh, and a special GT version of the coupe and wagon which we'll show you later on.

September 10th is Opening Day.

All 6,300 Chevrolet dealers are handling Vega, so you shouldn't have to go very far to see and drive one.

Chevy's new little car is open for business. Look into it.

Talking it over

Some of the key moments in our education are those times when we discussed with someone older the interesting things we learn.

But, to speak frankly about religious education today, one of the serious handicaps facing boys and girls who are sent (not brought) to church is that they have little opportunity to "talk it over" at home.

Moral and spiritual growth is nurtured by family discussion of the truths taught in classroom and pulpit. But this presumes that parents and children together are sharing the experiences of worshipping God and studying the Christian Faith. Candidly, too, it presumes that the parents will be the pace-setters . . . advanced enough in their own religious growth to answer simple, urgent questions.

It was always fun to tell "Sis" what we had learned at school. But, remember, it was Dad and Mother we counted on when we couldn't find the answers!

For your children's sake — and your own — attend church regularly.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

RECOGNIZING THE POTTAGE

Lesson for September 13, 1970

Background Scripture: Genesis 25:19 through 28:9; 36:1-8; Hebrews 12:15-17. Devotional Reading: 1 John 2:12-17

Jerry Kramer, former football star of the Green Bay Packers, tells of an occasion on which Vince Lombardi, who coached the Packers at the time, announced to the team: "There are three things that are important to every man in this room: his religion, his family, and the Green Bay Packers." Kramer goes on to comment: "Vince means what he says, but sometimes I think he gets the order confused"

Rev. Althouse

(INSTANT REPLAY by Jerry Kramer, New American Library, 1948).

A sense of values

That is a common failing with many of us. We know the important things in life, but we get the order confused. It is the putting of second things first and letting first things take something less than first place that make us victims of secularization.

This was also Esau's problem. His sense of values was distorted. As the first-born son the birthright was his. It entailed certain rights and privileges not available to the other children. It included a double portion of the inheritance and made Esau both head of the family (next to Isaac) and heir to the covenant of Abraham and Isaac. It could be taken away or sold, although few men would have been willing to give up so precious a possession.

Esau, however, was a man of appetites. If he was hungry, he wanted food NOW and it would be at that moment the most important thing in his life. The satisfaction of the momentary need seemed to rule him completely. He would give up anything to satisfy it. The sight and smell of savoury food made him forget or ignore his valuable possession. Thus he sold his birthright for "a mess of pottage." He gave up a priceless gift for something of fleeting value.

So it is with many of us today. We become so engrossed with things of lesser value and allow to slip from us the values that are greatest of all. We are often driven by hungers and appetites that are allowed free rein over us. We become obsessed with bright, shiny things that glitter and sparkle and distract us.

On April 14, 1912, fifteen hundred people were drowned when the supposedly unsinkable Titanic struck an iceberg in the North Atlantic and went to the bottom. Yet, the tragedy need not have taken place. Five times in two hours the ship had received danger signals concerning icebergs and ignored them. The last attempt was made by the radio operator of a nearby vessel, the Californian. The reply from the radio shack of the Titanic was: "Shut up, I am busy; I am working the Cape Race." Within a few short minutes after that message the Titanic collided with the iceberg and four hours later fifteen hundred people were drowned.

What had happened was that the radio operator in the Titanic was too occupied with the highly profitable business of sending and receiving telegrams to worry about iceberg warnings. The people on board the luxury liner were interested in the progress of the Cape Sailing Regatta, not icebergs. So, because they were too busy with the wrong thing, there was a needless loss of life.

"Working a race"

So it may seem to the Esau's of today that there are tiresome warnings about this or that, interfering with our pleasures. To these warnings we too want to reply, "Shut up, I am busy; I am working a race." And what a race it is that we are working!

Perhaps we all need to heed the lines of that old spiritual:

Slow me down, Lord,
I'se goin' too fast;
I can't see my brother
when he's walkin' past;
I miss a lot of good things day by day,
I don't know a blessing
when it comes my way.

That's what we need: to be able to recognize the real blessings from the "pottage" when they come our way.

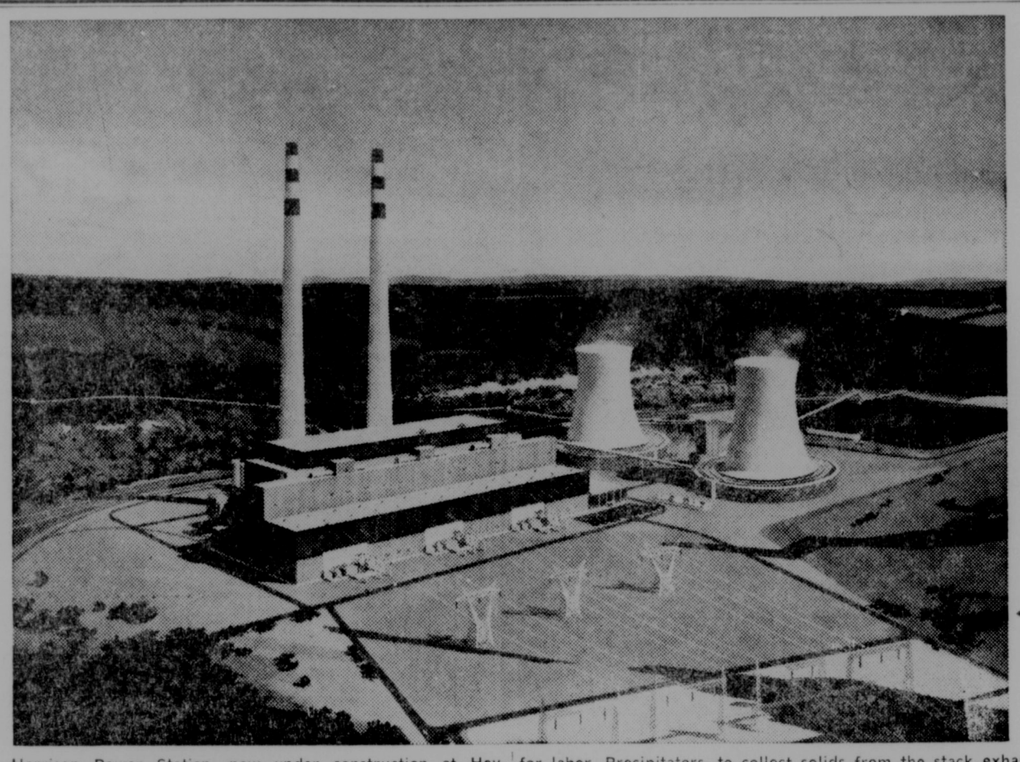
"YOUR HEALTH IS OUR BUSINESS"



Harrison Power Station, now under construction at Haywood, W. Va., will look like this in 1975 when all three units of the 1,950,000 kilowatt generation station are completed. The station, being built on a 250 acre site near Shinnston, will have 1,000 foot high stacks, a turbine-generator room 306 feet wide, 873 feet long and 228 feet high. The cooling towers, similar to those now in operation at the Fort Martin Power Station near Morgantown, will be 428 feet in diameter at the base, and 377 feet high. Each tower will cool 300,000 gallons of water per hour. During the construction period more than $60,000,000 will be spent for labor. Precipitators, to collect solids from the stack exhaust, are to be more than 99 percent efficient. The $300,000,000 power station is being constructed by the three Allegheny Power System operating companies, Monongahela Power, West Penn Power and The Potomac Edison Co., and will employ in excess of 100 technicians when it becomes operative. Coal will be brought to the plant by a two and one half mile conveyor belt. Supplying this coal will provide year-around employment to more than 750 area miners.

I have been a resident of Garrett County all of my adult life. I have been in public business and a property owner for over 30 years. I am presently associated with Pattison & Guy Builders, a multi-line insurance agent and a veteran of World War II.

I have been a member of many civic groups such as Farm Bureau, Parent-Teacher Association, Volunteer Firemen, American Legion, National Builders, and Western Maryland Builders Association. I have served as Secretary, Director and State Delegate for the Builders Association and two years on the Advisory Board of the Potomac River Basin Project. I have been a member of the Garrett County Development Corporation for seven years, in which time we have studied County Problems and ways of solving them. We also wrote an Overall Development Program which has already begun to show results.

Put men with business experience and common sense in office to administer our County business.

If nominated and elected I will give my wholehearted support to a Better and More Prosperous County for ALL.

September 4, 1970.

In compliance with provisions of Article 33, Title "Elections" of the Annotated Code of Public General Laws of Maryland, the Board of Supervisors of Elections for Garrett County, Maryland hereby gives notice of the candidates for nomination to office, which have been filed with or certified to said Board by the Secretary of State or presented to said Board, and of the questions and propositions to be submitted thereto, so far as practical, in the order and form in which they are to appear upon the voting machines for the general election, to be held in Garrett County, Maryland, on Tuesday, September 15, 1970.

VOTER ABOUT TO CLOSE CURTAIN

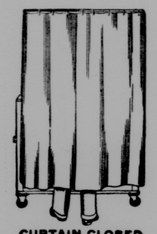
Each candidate's voting pointer is located just above his name; a voting pointer must be turned down over the name of each candidate for whom you wish to vote, and left down.

The machine is so arranged that you cannot turn down more than the proper number of voting pointers for each office. You cannot spoil your ballot by voting for too many candidates.

In an office to which more than one candidate is to be voted for, you can turn down the proper number of voting pointers, but no more, even if one is directly under the other.

No votes are registered until the Red operating lever is moved to open the curtain. You can make as many changes as you desire while the operating lever is at the right side.

No one will know how you have voted, because the movement of the Red operating lever returns the voted voting pointers to their unvoted position before the curtain begins to open.



CURTAIN CLOSED VOTER VOTING

1. Move the Red Operating Lever to the right. ('till bell rings.)
2. Turning down a Voting Pointer (CANDIDATE) over the name (CANDIDATE) of each candidate you wish to vote for. LEAVE THE POINTERS DOWN.
3. Move the Red Operating Lever to the Left.

Facts To Remember

As You Vote On September 15th

Do You Know:

The old Garrett County Senator is now called the District 1-C Senator, whose territory includes Garrett County and Western Allegany County.

The candidate winning the Republican Primary will be the State Senator, since the other party did not enter any candidate.

There are three candidates in the Republican Primary: William Grant, a Garrett County lawyer; William Wilson, a Cumberland office supply man, and Noel Cook of Allegany County, who was appointed to finish outthe term of the Senator who resigned.

Consider:

Garrett County is starting a tremendous economic expansion with new industry in the south and a new highway in the north.

That William Grant, as Attorney to: The Town of Oakland, Mountain Top Chamber of Commerce, Garrett County Development Corp., Deep Creek Lake Property Assn., is one of the team bringing Garrett County new jobs in industry, trading and tourism so that young people do not have to move away.

What is working in Garrett County can also work in Western Allegany County.

Maureen Ethel Rentschler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert V. Rentschler, Sr., Oakland, and Robert Preston Sharps, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Sharps, Oakland, were united in marriage at 2 p.m. Saturday, June 20, in St. Mark's Evangelical Lutheran church.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Wm. Ernest Fox, pastor. Traditional wedding music was sung by Miss Jane Garrett with Mrs. Donald Sincell as organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of organza and Chantilly lace, styled with a high scalloped neckline, full bishop sleeves with cuffs ending in a point over the hand. The bodice was fashioned with an empire waistline, which complemented an A-line skirt accented with lace down the front of the gown. The full sweeping chapel train was composed of three tiers of matching lace with scalloped edges. Her finger tip length veil of imported illusion was held in place by a camelot cap of pearls and lace. She carried a prayer book topped with an orchid and baby breath.

For the wedding trip, the bride was attired in a gold and blue ensemble with matching accessories.

The maid of honor was Miss Jeannie Rentschler, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Misses Shirley Rentschler, sister of the bride; Elizabeth Sharps, sister of the groom; and Debora Tressler. Flower girl was Catherine Hesen and Randy Tennant served as ring bearer. Beverly Rice was receptionist.

The maid of honor wore a blue chiffon gown. The bridesmaids and flower girl wore identical pink chiffon gowns, styled with a high neckline, long full sleeves and an empire waistline, accented with venise lace. The matching camelot cap was complemented with a soft veil. The attendants carried a bouquet of miniature carnations and baby breath. The flower girl carried a basket of rose petals.

Thomas C. Ryan, Oakland, was best man for Mr. Sharps. Ushers were Staff Sergeant Robert V. Rentschler, Jr., brother of the bride, Fort Dix, New Jersey; Richard (Terry) Helbig, Oakland; William Pamplin, of Bridgewater, Va.; and Charles Leiter, Waynesboro, Pa.

Assisting with the reception held at the American Legion Hall were Mrs. Playford Ryan, Oakland; and Mrs. Patricia Heckman, Washington, D. C.

Following a wedding trip to the Poconos in Pennsylvania, Mr. and Mrs. Sharps resided near Loch Lynn.

Starting in September the couple will reside in Bridgewater, Va., where Mr. Sharps will complete his studies at Bridgewater College.

Liberation

. . . Dwight Harvey

The Women's Liberation Movement wants equality with men for women. "Women don't have this equality," Liberation members assert. They point out as part of their proof that of all the lawyers in the United States, only 3 percent are women. A gross inequality? Perhaps! But what the Lib members fail to tell us is the percentage of women compared to that of men in the nation who want to be lawyers.

Actually the entire Women's Liberation Movement is built on two suppositions as fallacious as the above example. The first is that men and women are the same! Being the same is not a prerequisite for equality! Liberation members seem to be unaware of this. However, whether men and women are equal or not (I believe they are), the two sexes are definitely not the same. This is true whether you accept the religious accounts or the scientific theories of man's origin.

The problem Liberation Women should be concerned with, then, is not whether women should be allowed to do the same as men since they are equal, but rather: Would the human race be as well off (could it even survive) if women were to take on different roles than those which they have held in the past? Unless the Lib Movement proponents can prove the efficacy of their plans for the good of the human race, then no changes should be made at all.

The second supposition in the foundation of Women's Liberation is that men dominate women. Women have almost always had the chance to do all the things that men do. Several women have even ruled nations. If men do truly dominate women it is not entirely because of the domineering nature of men, but is largely due to the subjective nature of women. If women hold fewer positions of power, it is in part caused by woman's lesser desire for power.

Even though the Women's Liberation Movement is built on erroneous beliefs, perhaps it does have a use. It may be one of the safety valves that our species has created to halt the dangerous population growth. If this is true, then we have only one fear from the movement: shutting the safety valve when the population threat has ended!
